Hill Folk Following Early Lincoln.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

When you fall out of step with city life and return to the hills of the near south, there is something deeply reassuring to meet you. It is like coming home to America after a tour of the world.

This writer has just returned from a two weeks' walking and bus tour of the hill country of Missouri, Arkansas, Tennessee and Kentucky. In some mysterious way, which appeared to be chance and yet was inevitable, this walk over dusty roads, through the storms and sunshine of spring, ended as a pilgrimage to the little cabin where Lincoln was born near Hodgenville, Ky.

Reliving Lincoln's Life.

This cabin, enshrined in its Greek temple of New England granite and Tennessee marble, seemed to explain other cabins. Lincoln still seemed to be alive, and his mother, Nancy Lincoln, still lives in the doorways of a thousand humble homes in the hill country, in the ragged, tow headed children at the gates.

Something is going on in the hill country that has significance for America's future. It is a new movement etched against an old and beautiful background. It is the pioneer spirit of Lincoln's early days come to live and work again. It is not of government planning. That, and relief, form a minor part in the drama of the new life that is opening here. It may be only a "peasant" life, a subsistence life, but it has its compensations, as it will be sought to show here.

A New Cabin in the Hills.

The one composite picture that remains in the traveler's mind, from the Shepherd of the Hills country in the Ozarks, to the Alvin C. York highway on the Cumberland plateau, is that of a new cabin on a hillside near a pike. It is of new boards or logs, built at the edge of a newly cleared field. The stumps are still in the field and the smell of burning brush and logs mingles with the fragrance of the spring morning. A little yard has been built to keep the children safe.

The door is open and the sun is streaming through the two room house, with leanto for chickens. In the yard the mother is washing, taking her water from an old black kettle over an open wood fire. The man is turning the red earth around the stumps, getting ready for corn and potatoes. Chickens and pigs roam around finding their own living.

Surrounded by the Forest.

Around it all is the forest, with a stream at the foot of the hill. From the hillside, as they pause in their work, the man and the woman may look at the hills and ridges, the evergreens and the new foliage of the year, white and pink sprays of dogwood and honeysuckle, flowers at their feet, the blue haze of mountains in the distance. It is a deep pleasure to rest a moment and take a drink of spring water and let the wandering breezes cool the wet brow.

They wear the same clothes that Lincoln and his father and mother wore. They have about the same tools and utensils and food, with the exception of loom and wheel—"a cow and a calf, milk and butter, a good feather bed, a home woven 'kiver-lid' for the bed." These home made quilts are still sunning on the fences, the old crooked rail fences.

The Ground Is in Them.

And we may say of this man and this woman of today, who have come into the old south to find new homes in deserted mountains, as Markham said of Lincoln, the color of the ground is in them, the good red earth, the smell and touch of elemental things, something of the "rectitude and patience of the cliffs, the good will of the rain that loves all leaves, the friendly welcome of the wayside well, the gladness of the wind that shakes the corn."

In one stretch of 140 miles in Arkansas and Missouri the writer counted thirty such new homes, some more spacious. There are many such places along the highroads in northern Tennessee. Mountain land is cheap, from 50 cents to $25 an acre, with the exception of the fat valley land where Sergt. York, who "fit the Germans" has his 900 acres and his commodious gabled house by the edge of Wolf river.

"It is good land," said a weather browned settler in the Obey river country of northern Tennessee. "I have eight acres for Irish potatoes and corn and I expect to pay for the land. It's over on the prong of yonder mountain."

He was out with his son, rifle in

TEMPORARY NRA EXTENSION PLAN IS TURNED DOWN

Washington, D. C., April 30.—[Special.]—A long senate fight on new NRA legislation was projected today when President Roosevelt turned down a proposal for a temporary extension of the existing law pending final determination of its legality in the Supreme court. In this he heeded the advice of Donald R. Richberg, NRA chairman.

Twelve senators, including some of the bitterest foes of the NRA, went to the White House and presented to Mr. Roosevelt a resolution to extend the present law for one year, with modifications to eliminate price fixing and the regulation of pure intrastate business.

No Controversy Promised.

Mr. Roosevelt was assured that such a continuing resolution could be put through the senate without controversy and the senate, therefore, could devote itself to the other measures on the "must" program, including social security, the banking and the utility bills. The President was represented as favoring the plan, to the great pleasure of the assembled senators, both proponents and opponents of the NRA. Suddenly, however, Mr. Richberg and Secretary of Labor Perkins appeared on the scene and Mr. Richberg began arguing for a full two year extension, without elimination of the controverted questions.

Senators attending the conference said the President's position soon began to waver under Richberg's expostulation and that Senator Robert M. La Follette [Rad., Wis.] put an end to the whole scheme by falling in with the new legislation idea. La Follette, it was understood, suggested to the President that a new law would be more in accord with his last radio speech and the President agreed.

"After that," said Senator Pat McCarran [Dem., Nev.], "we agreed to disagree."

Presented by Harrison.

The continuing resolution, originally proposed by Senator Bennett Champ Clark [Dem., Mo.], was presented by Senator Pat Harrison [Dem., Miss.], chairman of the senate finance committee, after it had been modified to eliminate price fixing and regulation of local businesses. Senators Gerald P. Nye [Rad., N. D.] and William E. Borah [Rep., Idaho] would not agree to a continuing resolution without these modifications.

A third proposal under consideration would provide for the execution of codes by the government itself without the delegation of such power to code authorities representing the industries.

Despite the White House rejection of the compromise plan, Senator Clark said he still had enough votes in the finance committee to obtain adoption of his resolution as a substitute for the administration's bill, which greatly increases the President's powers over industry. The committee will meet tomorrow for the consideration of a bill to report out to the senate. Richberg's antagonism to the continuing resolution was attributed by the senatorial conferees to his fear that the Supreme court, in the pending Schechter poultry case, would hold the whole thing unconstitutional and leave the administration with no NRA at all and Mr. Richberg with no job.

Clark Frank About Motive.

The conference today was bipartisan and included Minority Leader Charles L. McNary as well as Majority Leader Joseph T. Robinson.

Senator Borah, after the conference, said the failure to reach an agreement meant the whole issue would have to be fought out on the senate floor.

The brief of the Schecter Brothers Poultry company of Brooklyn, N. Y., was filed in the Supreme court today and the case will be argued on Thursday. It is doubtful whether the court will reach a decision by June 16, when the NRA expires.

Ignore the Codes: Borah.

Washington, D. C., April 30.—(AP)—Idahoans doing a local business were advised today by Senator Borah "to conduct your business in your own way and without regard to any proposed code."

After a White House conference on NRA extension, Borah telegraphed a number of constituents:

"According to your letter your business is local or intrastate. . . . The federal government has no power to interfere with the conduct of your business. . . . I do not assume the government will interfere, but if it does please advise me."

THE WAY OF THE DICTATOR

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Madison, Wis., April 30.—[Special.]—University of Wisconsin students—probably 150 of them—raised their clenched fists before them tonight in the University Memorial Union while they sang the soviet internationale.

The song was sung at the close of a meeting of the National Student league and the League for Industrial Democracy conducted as a pre-May day demonstration.

It was sung despite criticism from various groups throughout the state who voiced protests against a prior similar demonstration in the Memorial Union which was dedicated to Wisconsin's war dead.

The song was the last of several which urged a rebellion against the present economic system. Fists began to rise above the heads of the students when they sang the chorus.

Fails to Attend.

Although at least one member of a state senate committee assigned to investigate charges that communism and other subversive theories are being taught at the university indicated he would attend the meeting to see precisely what form it would take, none of the committeemen was present.

The principal speaker was Marvin V. Baxter, who was elected mayor of West Allis on the Socialist ticket. He spoke disparagingly, however, of the Socialist principle of obtaining a bloodless revolution by legislation.

There still are some persons, he declared, who believe a change in the social order can be obtained through the instalment plan method of legislation. There is nothing in history to prove this can be done, he asserted.

There was plenty of proof, he said, that more violent efforts to overthrow economic orders have been successful. If he convinced one student that he ought to rebel against the present system, his address would not be in vain, said Baxter.

Hits Socialist Attack.

He likened the Socialist method of attack to a man, while being slugged, twisting a toe of his assailant. This accomplishes little, except to anger the assailant, he said. The proper method of retaliation, Baxter maintained, would be to take the club from the assailant.

Members of the two organizations which conducted the meeting presented two skits ridiculing the senate Red investigation concerning the university and persons who have testified before the committee.

GUNMEN FOILED BY INDEPENDENT MOVIE UNIONIST

Clyde Osterberg, 32 years old, former stormy petrel of the Motion Picture Operators' union, and his wife, Naomi, foiled an attempt by two gunmen to assassinate him last night in front of their home at 631 Oakdale avenue. The gunmen beat Osterberg, fired two shots which missed, and then fled in their car.

Osterberg refused to talk to any policemen but Chief of Detectives John L. Sullivan, who was not at home last night. He was held at the Sheffield avenue station on orders of Capt. Thomas Duffy, but his wife was permitted to go home.

A card in his pocket bore the inscription of organizer, secretary, and treasurer of the Independent Union of Motion Picture Machine Operators, local 101, with headquarters at 123 West Madison street. Police believe he had been attempting to organize a new union to fight the established organization once dominated by Thomas E. Maloy, who was shot to death a few months ago. This union is now controled by officers of the international organization, which since has suspended all the Maloy officers and is said to have been engaged in planning a "New Deal" union.

Machine Gun Robbers Raid Westward Ho

Five masked robbers, armed with a machine gun, a shotgun, and three pistols, swarmed into the Westward Ho Golf club, on Wolf road northwest of Melrose Park, last night, terrorized fourteen persons and escaped with $786 and an unestimated amount of other valuables.

A directors' meeting was in progress when the gunmen entered, and Horton Smith, noted golf professional from the Oak Park Country club, was making an informal talk concerning the coming visit of a group of Japanese golfers.

Walk in After Smiths.

They made all those in the room lie on the floor except O. H. Gunther, manager of the club. From him the gunmen took $30, then forced him to open the club safe, from which they got $400.

Search Victims' Pockets.

The invaders then systematically searched the pockets of the others. Members of the board who were robbed were:

R. D. Darley, president, 64 West Randolph street, $52; A. B. Galbraith, 934 Columbia avenue, Oak Park, $15; E. J. Conforti, 907 North Oak Park avenue, Oak Park, $7; W. G. Leininger, 1125 Park avenue, River Forest, $25; H. P. Prehler, 910 North Grove avenue, Oak Park, $60; F. S. Bates, 5645 Lake street, $23, and Adam Trapp, 5338 Leland avenue, $17.

Others robbed were E. J. LeClaire, 1013 North Austin avenue, Oak Park, $41; A. G. Carlson, 312 South Scoville avenue, Oak Park, $90; A. B. Wilder, Evanston hotel, Evanston, $20; G. J. Schmid, 5707 North Sacramento avenue, $6; Horton Smith, $25, and Ren Smith, $10.

Predicts Mottled Teeth from Water in California

Southern California beauties of the future are likely to be afflicted with freckled teeth through drinking the waters of the Colorado river, according to Dean Frederick B. Noyes of the college of dentistry of the University of Illinois. Waters from the river, soon to be piped into Los Angeles, contain more than three parts in a million of fluorine, an element that attacks the enamel of the teeth, causing it to become mottled, Dean Noyes said yesterday. He declared tests have proved that so little as two parts of fluorine to a million of water will have a visible effect on dental enamel.

New York, April 30.—[Special.]—With a robot pilot at the controls for all but a hundred miles or so of the distance, a TWA test plane today broke by half an hour the transcontinental record for transport ships. It left Burbank airport at 7:54 a. m., Chicago time, and arrived over Floyd Bennett field at 6:59 p. m., eleven hours and five minutes, elapsed time.

The plane is the same Douglas Capt. Albert F. Hegenberger, army blind flying expert, and Eugene L. Vidal, director of the air commerce board, have been using in blind flying experiments over the Pacific ocean. It is equipped with two Wright Cyclone engines.

Three on Board.

Aboard were D. W. [Tommy] Tomlinson, assistant to Jack Frye, president of the air line; Harold Snead, an expert on radio beam flying, and Peter Redpath, navigation engineer. The previous record of 11 hours 34 minutes and 16 seconds was set Feb. 21 by Leland L. Andrews.

Tomlinson had the controls for only three short intervals on the 2,400 mile flight. He piloted the ship over the San Bernardino range after taking it off from the Burbank airport. Once over that range and with the ship at an altitude of about 16,000 feet, he turned it over to the gyro-pilot, after setting a great circle course with radio directional beams.

Reaching the continental divide at Durango, Colo., the plane encountered a snowstorm. With ice forming on the wings and on the constant speed propeller, Tomlinson again took over the controls and flew southward off the course for about forty miles over the Grand canyon, dodging around the storm.

Takes Controls Last Leg.

Bringing it back to its course again, Tomlinson again gave the ship to the robot pilot. He did not touch the controls again until the ship was within 60 miles of Floyd Bennett field, when he took charge once more in order to "get the feel" of the plane before bringing it to a landing here.

With the robot pilot in operation the three enjoyed a hearty meal as the plane flew at speeds of well over 200 miles an hour. They encountered a dust storm in the Pueblo valley, climbed to 15,000 feet, and, with the gyro in control, flew above the dust for about 1,000 miles.

Tomlinson said the ship reached its greatest cruising speed of 262 miles an hour over the Allegheny mountains.

WOMAN PLUNGES OFF BRIDGE TO DEATH IN RIVER

An unidentified woman, young and well dressed, wearing a dark, fur trimmed coat, plunged to her death in the Chicago river early today from the Wabash avenue bridge. Coast guards, called by bridgetenders, planned to drag the river at daybreak for the body.

Bridgetenders Edward Windell and Nick Calabrese told central police they had heard the screams of a woman, then a cry of "Help!" from a man. Running down to the bridge level from their tower, they found a young man who told them that a girl had leaped into the river.

A life preserver was hurled into the water, then the two bridgetenders ran to the lower level and launched a rowboat. Before they could reach the woman she sank. Going back up to the bridge level, they found that the young man who gave the warning had fled. He had been accompanied, they said, by another man and a woman. They, too, were gone.

A woman witness, whose name was not learned, declared she had seen the young woman struggling with the two men and the other girl, then had seen her plunge over the bridge rail. Whether she leaped or was thrown the witness could not say.

HOUSE BATTLE DUE TODAY ON SALES TAX HIKE

Horner Plea Fails

BY PERCY WOOD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., April 30.—[Special.]—Defeating all attempts at amendments, Gov. Horner's Democratic forces in the house of representatives tonight forced his relief financing program to third reading for passage roll call tomorrow.

The governor is on his way back from Washington, D. C., to press the fight in the house for the one cent increase in sales tax. He had failed to convince President Roosevelt and Relief Administrator Harry Hopkins that Illinois should have more time to enact legislation to produce the 3 million dollars monthly which Hopkins decreed to be necessary to supplement federal grants.

Would Yield 26 Million.

By increasing the sales tax from 2 to 3 per cent and making it applicable to public utility services at the new rate which the Horner bills provide about 26 of the 36 million dollars would be raised. Where the other 10 million dollars would come from has not been decided.

None of the maneuvering tonight indicated the true strength of the administration in anticipation of its attempt to obtain 102 votes for the bills tomorrow. Roll calls were had on several amendments to the utility bill, and the highest vote tallied by the Democrats was 64, but many members left the chamber after the sales tax increase bill was advanced. It is expected approximately 78 of the 84 Democrats will support the governor.

Leroy M. Green of Rockford, Republican minority leader, did not object to advancing the bills, believing it best to conserve the strength of the opposition for the big fight tomorrow. He does not believe, he said, that the Horner forces can muster more than 96 votes.

Fight Due in Afternoon.

Republican ranks will be invaded by the Democrats, but the last four or five votes will be a tough pull, it is predicted. The bills will not be called until afternoon, as Gov. Horner wishes to be on hand, and he is not due here until 1 p. m. tomorrow.

During debate this afternoon Green drew fire from the Democrats by declaring that the governor, Illinois' senators, and other members of congress would be serving the state if they were in Washington "fighting for the rights of the state instead of preparing to deliver it in abject surrender to the federal burocracy."

This was in line with the assertion earlier in the day by the senate minority leader, Earl B. Searcy of Springfield. Apprised that President Roosevelt had refused to interfere with Hopkins' manifesto, Searcy declared:

"The President's refusal marks a new era in federal control of the United States. It sets up a principle that the federal government can force the levy of taxes locally for local purposes."

Hits U. S. "Dictation."

Senator Arnold P. Benson [Rep., Batavia] previously tried to obtain immediate consideration of a resolution requesting the Illinois members of congress to intervene with the President "for the purpose of requesting that Illinois be accorded the same consideration accorded all other states and that Illinois' share of federal funds be allocated immediately to prevent starvation."

The preamble to the Benson resolution stated that Illinois contributes to federal funds through taxes "a sum considerably more in proportion than is contributed by most other states" and that federal officials "are attempting to usurp the state's prerogative and to intimidate the members of the general assembly by threats to close relief stations immediately unless the general assembly relinquishes its constitutional responsibility and submits to the unreasonable demands emanating from the dictatorial federal relief administrator."

Benson failed, 24 to 17, to gain immediate consideration for his resolution and it was sent to the executive committee.

In the house Clinton Searle of Rock

Island, Republican whip, attempted to amend the sales tax increase bill to make it effective only until July 1, 1936, instead of 1937, the expiration date it now bears. His amendment was tabled.

Charles J. Jenkins [Rep., Chicago] attempted to amend both bills by providing that retailers could not make any mention of the sales tax on their bills. This would, in a large degree, prevent passing the tax on to the public. He also was defeated.

John M. Peffers [Rep., Aurora] asked that the utility bill be allowed to remain on second reading until tomorrow, at which time he proposed to introduce an amendment exempting sales of power to industrial consumers from the tax. But the amendment was not ready and Benjamin S. Adamowski of Chicago, Democratic floor leader, refused to accede to the postponement.

Sol P. Roderick [Rep., Chicago] presented an amendment to exempt municipally owned power plants from paying the tax, but Adamowski declared this might endanger the constitutionality of the bill and the amendment failed.

Frank McCullough of Chicago, who said that he spoke for 150,000 unemployed in the state, talked against the sales tax and proposed that the legislature act immediately to pass an income tax in its stead.

Speaker Devine took the floor himself to question McCullough on his knowledge of state finances and said that the Illinois Supreme court had declared an income tax impossible under the present constitution.

HARMONY PARTY MEETING IS NOT SO HARMONIOUS

The Harmony party of North Chicago, whose entire ticket won in the recent election, almost blew up in a fight last night at the first meeting of the city council. The appointment of twelve department heads by Mayor John P. Dromey precipitated the dispute.

Before the meeting Mayor Dromey learned that six of the ten aldermen were opposed to his appointments on the ground that he failed to keep his campaign promise to consult them. Attempting to circumvent this difficulty, the mayor named the twelve appointees for only thirty day terms.

Immediately the aldermen claimed this action was not binding without their approval and moved to adjourn. The mayor pleaded that this would leave the city without a police or fire chief, as the former office holders resigned yesterday. So the aldermen compromised. First they turned down his request for two year appointments, but allowed the thirty day appointments, with the mayor's promise to ask their advice before further action.

"This is an auspicious opening of our new régime," declared the mayor. "It truly indicates that we will have a democratic form of government in North Chicago."

COLORED BOY, 13, WINS CHICAGO MARBLE CONTEST

Leonard Tyner, 13 year old colored boy, 324 East Garfield boulevard, won the city-wide marble tournament, finals of which were held yesterday afternoon at Lake Shore playground. The four high boys in the city-wide tournament will enter the western finals of the national marble tournament at Lake Geneva, Wis., in June. The finals of the national tournament will be held at Ocean City, N. J., later in the summer. Leonard Tyner entered the preliminaries at Washington park.

The boys who won second, third, and fourth in the city-wide tournament were John Cifelli, 12 years old, 334 East 22d street, Chicago Heights; Jack Pulfer, age 14, 5457 West Madison street, entered from the Emmet playground under the board of education, and Henry Cielen, 13 years old, 1348 Cleaver street, entered from Pulaski park.

More than 8,500 boys entered the preliminaries of the tournament.

STATE MUST PAY QUOTA OF RELIEF, SAYS ROOSEVELT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 30.—[Special.]—Regretfully but firmly, President Roosevelt late today refused to intervene in the tense Illinois relief situation.

He told Gov. Horner of Illinois that he was standing solidly behind Federal Emergency Relief Administrator Harry Hopkins, who has refused to give Illinois any federal aid until the state's legislature provides additional taxes to raise the state's allotted contribution of 3 million dollars a month.

Gov. Horner carried an appeal from Hopkins' edict, delivered to him yesterday, to the President this afternoon. He emerged from the conference with sagging shoulders and a dour countenance, indicating he had failed.

Relief Up to Illinois House.

Unless the Illinois house of representatives passed the 3 per cent sales, relief will collapse in Illinois, Gov. Horner said. Unemployment relief, already slashed to the bone, will cease at midnight tonight in the greater part of the state.

The sales tax measure, which has been passed by the state senate, is pending in the Illinois house. Gov. Horner hopes it will be passed tomorrow night or Thursday morning.

"The President told me Illinois will not—must not—fail to raise its contribution," Gov. Horner said. "He asked me whether Illinois ever had failed, and I told him 'not yet.' He continued with a statement that he had enough confidence in the Illinois legislature to know they would not fail."

Gov. Horner said the President had refused to discuss the possible action in the event the legislature fails to provide for the state's allotment. The President, he added, said that until such a situation arises there can be no discussion of it.

"I do not know what I am going to do if the legislature will not pass the bill," Gov. Horner said. "I suppose I shall come back here, although I have received no encouragement to do so. I have to go some place."

The governor said that at the outset of his conference he told the President that it would be unnecessary for him to picture the suffering and possible disorder which will follow the breakdown of Illinois relief. He said the President replied he was fully aware of the consequences.

Horner Describes Battle.

Then the governor went into detail on his battle with his balky legislature. He discussed briefly his plan to increase the sales tax from 2 to 3 cents and the legislative opposition he had met.

The governor then plunged into the Hopkins edict and pleaded for its modification.

"The President replied that he could not make an exception of any one state," Gov. Horner said. "There was nothing of the mandate or dictate in his statement—he merely expressed regret that he could not treat one state differently from the others."

Gov. Horner said that the President assured him that in the event of favorable action by the legislature the government will make 9 million dollars available immediately to Illinois. He said he would telephone for the money immediately if the legislature passes the sales tax increase.

As he emerged from the conference Gov. Horner was met by headlines in eastern papers which said 300,000 persons in the state are facing starvation after midnight tonight.

"That is gross exaggeration," he declared. "There are 320,000 families on relief in the state. About ten counties have shut down relief offices.

"Because of the staggering of relief orders throughout the early days of the month, many on relief have supplies to last until about May 10.

"I have appealed to communities to raise funds. Cook county has raised $1,200,000 to carry on relief for the next ten days. Other communities will do likewise.

SOCIAL SERVICE AID WEEPS AS INQUIRY AUDIENCE JEERS

New York, April 30.—[Special.]—Miss Alice E. Mertz, social case work director of the home relief bureau told the aldermanic committee investigating relief today that she and her husband get a combined income of $99 a week from the state emergency relief administration as members of what she called "a privileged class."

Her use of that phrase provoked prolonged boos and whistles from spectators at the city hall inquiry. Miss Mertz began to weep and sob. Realizing it would be difficult for her to continue, Aldermanic President Bernard S. Deutsch called a recess and resumed the hearing with another witness on the stand.

Lloyd Paul Stryker, committee counsel, devoted a three hour hearing to showing the committee that relief administration was dominated by "professional social workers." Their "silly and vacillating methods" had so devitalized relief that New York was not prepared to make use of its forthcoming share in the $4,880,000,000 federal works relief program, he charged.

1,207 FAMILIES CUT OFF RELIEF IN LOS ANGELES

Los Angeles, Cal., April 30.—[Special.]—A total of 1,207 families have been cut off the Los Angeles county relief rolls in seven days of investigation to weed out "chiselers," according to Harold E. Pomeroy, in charge of the inquiry into relief faking.

Pomeroy said that since the campaign was launched representatives of 829 families came to relief headquarters and asked that their names be stricken from the relief list. He said 378 additional families were found to be obtaining funds and food illegally.

The total case load of Los Angeles county relief cases has been reduced from 110,092 to 109,501 despite new cases added during the last ten days. Pomeroy said a number of uncashed relief checks have been returned since the checkup began.

RELIEF TO KEEP UP FOR A TIME IN 49 COUNTIES

By Scrimping, 20 Will Run Into Next Week.

A much improved picture of the downstate relief situation was presented last night by the Illinois Emergency Relief commission after its auditing department completed a careful survey of finances in all the counties. This showed that by means of recent drastic cuts in relief 48 of these 101 counties have stretched their funds to enable them to continue giving emergency aid after today.

"Our study reveals the effect of stringent economies practiced during the last 10 days," said Wilfred S. Reynolds, executive secretary of the IERC. "Last week it appeared that all but a few counties would have exhausted their funds by April 30, since none had received required amounts for even the full month. In a letter we sent out April 19 all county relief committees were warned to stretch their funds."

21 Counties Stranded.

By last night 21 counties were without any relief, save milk for children in some instances. Today 32 more counties will close their headquarters, bringing the total of inactives to 53. This total, however, is 35 per cent smaller than previous figures indicated it would be.

Eleven counties will be able to operate until tomorrow night, 4 will continue through Friday, 13 through Saturday, and 20 into next week on their available funds. Cook county is expected to give relief orders as late as Saturday night, using $1,200,000 contributed last week by the county board.

In all counties where stations are open today employés will be on duty and their salaries may be paid from present resources. Several county relief administrations notified IERC headquarters that stafs would continue to serve without pay to stretch to the utmost the limited funds for relief.

The Situation by Counties.

Counties where stations were closed last night are as follows: Adams, Alexander, Bureau, Calhoun, Carroll, Fulton, Greene, Hardin, Iroquois, Jefferson, Jersey, Knox, Lake, La Salle, Lee, McDonough, Macoupin, Madison, Mason, Massac and Menard.

Those which will halt relief tonight are Bond, Brown, Cass, Clark, Clinton, Crawford, De Witt, Franklin, Gallatin, Hamilton, Kendall, Livinston, Logan, Marion, Marshall, Mercer, Montgomery, Perry, Pike, Pope, Pulaski, Putnam, Randolph, Saline, Scott, Stark, Stephenson, Wabash, Washington, Wayne, Williamson, and Woodford.

The following counties will end relief tomorrow night: Cumberland, De Kalb, Ford, Kankakee, Johnson, Macon, Tazewell, Vermilion, White, Will, and Winnebago. The Friday deadline applies to Effingham, Henderson, Rock Island, and St. Clair.

Able to Last to Week-End.

Saturday is the last day of relief giving in Boone, Champaign, Clay, Fayette, Henry, Jasper, McLean, Monroe, Morgan, Sangamon, Schuyler, Warren, and Whiteside counties.

Counties able to give aid on an emergency basis later than this, and the final dates for each, are as follows: May 6, Grundy, Jackson, and Peoria; May 7, Edgar, Joe Daviess, and Union; May 8, Christian, Ogle, and Shelby; May 9, Coles, Du Page, Edwards, and Kane; May 10, McHenry; May 11, Douglas, Hancock, Lawrence, Moultrie, and Piatt; May 15, Richland.

Experts at IERC headquarters said that if there is any change in this schedule it would be for not more than one day in either direction.

No reports of trouble at any of the relief stations throughout the state were received at headquarters yesterday. If any develops today it will be because agitators seize upon the occasion of May day to draw relief clients into their demonstrations and parades, according to relief officials.

Private Charities "Out."

Even where the issuance of relief orders ceased several days ago, they said, families should still have food sufficient for several days.

Private charities will be unable to absorb any appreciable part of the relief load if real hardship develops, they have stated.

LEGISLATORS MOVE TO END STATE RELIEF CRISIS IN MISSOURI

Jefferson City, Mo., April 30.—(AP)—Missouri legislative leaders, lashed into action by Gov. Guy B. Park, moved swiftly tonight to meet the federal emergency relief administration's announcement funds will be cut off tomorrow "until further appropriation of the legislature."

Approximately 600,000 persons are on relief in Missouri. Gov. Park urged Senator Albert M. Clark, senate majority leader, to recommend a $500,000 appropriation for May relief. Senator Clark immediately referred the request to the senate appropriations committee. A hurried meeting of the committee was called.

Describing the situation as "rather a dark hour for Missouri," Wallace Crossley, state relief director, notified all county relief administrations to make no further commitments.

STORMS OF DUST FATAL TO THREE; 52 IN HOSPITALS

Southeast Colorado Hit; Kansas Suffers Again.

Pueblo, Colo., April 30.—[Special.]—Propelled by high winds, another dust storm swept northward across the plains country today. More cases of respiratory diseases were reported, and dust pneumonia fatalities in the last two weeks were increased to twelve.

As the new dust storm struck southeastern Colorado more than twenty persons were sent to an emergency Red Cross hospital for respiratory victims at Springfield. There occurred the death of the tenth victim, James Waite Jr., 5, son of a farmer. There are 52 patients at Springfield and at Walsh, the other Red Cross emergency hospital site. Mrs. N. C. Moore, 84, of Texhoma and Juanita Garrett, infant daughter of C. E. Garrett, residents of the Oklahoma panhandle, died today.

The dust was thickest from the Oklahoma panhandle and eastern Colorado northward. Severe storms also were reported in the vicinity of Clayton, N. M., and Amarillo, Tex.

Both visibility and ceiling were reported at zero in the western Kansas area in the vicinities of Garden City, Dresden, Dodge City, Goodland, and Tribune.

Residents of Baca county, Colo., are asking for a nation-wide day of prayer for rain.

Liberal, Kas., reported visibility of 200 yards; at Beaver, Okla., it was only three blocks, and it was greatly reduced at North Platte and Cozad, Neb. The wind was highest at Amarillo, reaching 38 miles an hour there. With visibility on highways only about 100 yards, school buses remained in garages. Other automobile trafic also was paralyzed. Hotels were crowded with tourists and others halted by the storm.

Suit to collect $28,938 from George E. Carlson, who was city commissioner of gas and electricity during a former Republican administration was filed yesterday in Superior court in behalf of the liquidator of the Southern Surety Company of New York City, underwriters of Carlson's bond during his term of office.

The suit states that the surety company which bonded Carlson for $20,000 was forced to pay the money to the city as a result of a judgment of $123,203 returned against Carlson in a suit accusing him of graft and fraud during his term.

WOMAN'S STORY OF SPYING TOLD TO PARISH JURY

Elsie Walker Takes Stand for Defendants.

The dramatic story of a woman spy who says she furnished information of the activities of the Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line company to its business adversaries was told yesterday to a jury in the court of Federal Judge John P. Barnes. The spy, Miss Elsie Walker, 32 years old, testified as a defense witness for Frank P. Parish and Samuel J. Maddin, who are on trial on charges of using the mails to defraud investors in the company of $35,000,000. The concern is in receivership.

Miss Walker, a comely brunette, astounded the jury and courtroom spectators with her calm recital of the methods she used to transmit information of Missouri-Kansas transactions. She alleged that these details were given to Thomas W. Shannon, a detective employed by the Cities Service corporation.

The defense asserts that Cities Service, controled by Henry L. Doherty, the oil magnate, set out to ruin Missouri-Kansas because the latter company was threatening its monopolies on gas supplies to cities.

Story of Woman Spy.

Miss Walker said that she was employed by Shannon and at his suggestion got a job as stenographer in the Chicago office of Parish & Co., trading affiliate of Missouri-Kansas, from which vantage point she could learn the activities of Parish and his associates.

Miss Walker declared that she used codes and carbon copies of letters in sending information to Shannon during 1930 and 1931. The jurors were amused when she revealed that she employed the names of fruits to designate Parish and other officials in her code correspondence.

The defense had expected to rest its case yesterday but because of the length of Miss Walker's testimony will not conclude until this morning. The prosecution will call several rebuttal witnesses, it was indicated. The case may go to the jury tomorrow afternoon.

She's Welfare Worker Now.

Miss Walker was called to the stand by Attorney Duputy Warrick of Kansas City, Mo., chief of defense counsel. She wore a dark blue tailored suit, white blouse, and modish "pancake" hat. She said she lives in Kansas City and is now a social service worker.

She related that she had been employed by Doherty's companies from 1924 to 1930. She met Shannon, she said, when she was investigating an embezzlement case for Cities Service in Cincinnati in 1930.

"He found me crying one day," she testified, "and when he asked what was the matter, I told him I was going to be sold out on some stock I had because I could not pay the loan from a bank. He said he might be able to help me and then said he wanted me to represent him at Missouri-Kansas.

Gets Job at Parish & Co.

"Shannon said my duty was to find out if Missouri-Kansas was invading Cities Service territory. On Aug. 20, 1930, I obtained a job at Parish & Co. as secretary to Edgar H. Stapper [the sales manager]. My salary there was $130 a month and Shannon was paying me $200 a month, half of which was being applied on my loan at the bank.

"Shannon and I worked out a code to designate Parish and his associates. We referred to Parish as a persimmon and Maddin as a pineapple. McManmon [James McManmon, originally a defendant in the mail fraud trial, who with Ralph G. Crandall was granted a directed verdict of acquittal at the close of the government's case] was a gooseberry.

"Francis I. du Pont [a director of Missouri-Kansas and member of the Delaware family of capitalists] was a pear. Ralph Mayo [another director] was an orange, and R. H. McWilliams, an employé, was a banana.

"Missouri-Kansas was called lemons. The Chicago Stock exchange was blackberries, and the New York exchange was dewberries."

Tells of Supplying Data.

Miss Walker testified that she also sent carbon copies of business letters to Shannon and received mail from him at a postoffice box here.

She said she furnished the detective with the names, addresses and salaries of Missouri-Kansas officers, with periodic balance sheets and with the details of the transaction whereby the Columbia Gas and Electric company purchased a half interest in the pipe line which a Missouri-Kansas affiliate was building from the Texas oil fields to the Indiana-Illinois border.

To carry carbons from the office Miss Walker said she had a special zipper compartment in her purse. She also informed Shannon of just what progress was being made in the construction of the pipe line.

"Early in 1932," she testified, "I realized things were pointing my way at Parish's office. So I had a nervous breakdown. I went to Kansas City and met Shannon at the home of my sister. In return for my signing a release on him, Doherty and Cities Service for all further claims, he gave me $500 in back salary and $1,490 in addition."

Parish Testimony Recalled.

Parish has testified that he became suspicious of Miss Walker early in 1931 and transferred her to an information desk. He also testified that in November, 1931, she confessed her espionage work voluntarily to him and said that Shannon had told her she "was doing nothing dishonorable because they are dishonest at Missouri-Kansas."

At her suggestion, Parish said, he placed a dictaphone in her sister's home at Kansas City and heard her conversation with Shannon.

Other Defense Witnesses.

Other defense witnesses yesterday were John W. Smith, president of the Detroit common council, formerly mayor of Detroit, and Charles M. Hay, city attorney of St. Louis. They testified that their cities have been trying to get natural gas.

Parish contends that the Columbia Gas and Electric company has conspired to prevent Missouri-Kansas from furnishing natural gas to St. Louis, Detroit, and other central west cities. He says that if he were allowed to supply the gas through his pipe line he could bring Missouri-Kansas out of its financial difficulties.

AUTO INJURIES FATAL TO GIRL IN HIT-RUN CASE

License Found to Be That of Jeweler.

A girl who identified herself as Peggy Blackburn of Louisville, Ky., 17 years old, died in the Passavant hospital yesterday from injuries incurred on April 24, when she was struck by an automobile at Elm street and Lake Shore drive.

Chicago avenue police said the driver of the car was Harry Swarts, a jeweler with offices at 156 North State street, who did not stop after the accident but was arrested later while consulting his attorney. He was traced by his license number. Swarts was ordered to attend the inquest today.

This death and one other yesterday increased the Cook county automobile toll since Jan. 1 to 305. Until 5 p.m. last evening 248 had been killed in trafic accidents in Chicago city limits, and 4,816 injured. The other death:

Unidentified man, about 55 years old. Died in the County hospital from injuries incurred Monday evening when he was struck by the car of a hit and run motorist at Lawrence avenue and Cumberland road, Elmwood Park.

Police yesterday were ordered by a coroner's jury to arrest James O'Malley as the driver of a car which inflicted fatal injuries on Mrs. Louise Bullard, 63 years old, 216 North Second avenue, Maywood. The police have been unable to learn O'Malley's address. They traced the auto through the license number to Anthony Judge, an official of the Newsboys' union. Judge was arrested. He said he had lent his car to O'Malley, a friend, but he did not know where O'Malley lived. Mrs. Bullard was injured April 15 and died the next day.

Hugo Coberg Jr., 16 years old, 919 North Central avenue, was arrested yesterday as the driver of the car which struck and seriously injured Dolores Nyberg, 7 years old, in front of her home at 4310 Potomac avenue, last Monday. He fled after the accident.

Court Tells Prosecutors to Speed Up TNT Trial

Judge Michael Feinberg of the Criminal court yesterday ordered the prosecutors to speed up their presentation of evidence in the trial before him of eleven business men and labor union officials who are charged with conspiracy to boycott through the Trucking and Transport exchange [TNT]. The trial is now in its fourth week and more than 30 witnesses have been produced by the state. The prosecutors say they have another 40 witnesses to call.

Filmed Trader Horn

New York, April 30.—(AP)—Counsel for Edwina Booth, actress, and the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Pictures corporation said today the actress's $1,000,000 damage suit against the film company as a result of a mysterious illness contracted while making "Trader Horn" in the tropics will be settled out of court.

Emil K. Ellis, attorney for Miss Booth, said she will arrive here Friday with her father to complete negotiations for adjustment. She will sail to London later for surgical treatment.

J. Robert Rubin, head of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer legal department, confirmed the announcement of settlement.

CALLS NRA EAGLE MISNAMED, AS IT'S 'BLIND AS A BAT'

The Blue Eagle is misnamed "because it is as blind as a bat," Frederic Greer, head of the Frederic Greer company, 2620 Flournoy street, declared yesterday after the National Recovery administration's compliance office here notified him he had lost the right to display the emblem. The firm was alleged to have violated the socket screw products manufacturing industry code by failing to file prices with the code authority.

"My company doesn't manufacture the articles in question," Mr. Greer declared, "and, therefore, couldn't have violated the manufacturing code. We are jobbers. However, I won't bother to point out the error because I never displayed the Blue Eagle, anyway."

Two other firms were deprived of their right to use the emblem. They were the Bear Brand Hosiery company, 538 South Wells street, and the Cameron Can Machinery company, 240 North Ashland avenue.

Trysts in Chicken Coop Told in Alienation Trial

A charge that Mrs. Mary E. Hill, 9250 Parnell avenue, a widow, and John Krogman spent many hours clandestinely in a chicken coop and garage was made from the witness stand yesterday in the $10,000 alienation of affections suit of Mrs. Nara M. Krogman, 8816 South Union avenue, against Mrs. Hill. A jury and Judge C. C. Taylor of Bloomington, sitting in the Circuit court here, are hearing the case. Mrs. Krogman related that neighbors had told her of her husband's meetings with the widow. Krogman, a mechanic, is expected to testify for Mrs. Hill.

POLICE PERFECT TRAFIC PLAN FOR MAY DAY PARADE

Police plans for handling trafic during the annual May day parade today have been perfected, according to Capt. Daniel Gilbert, head of the uniformed division.

The parade will start at 4 p.m. from Union park at Randolph street and Ogden avenue. The line of march will be east in Randolph street, south in Michigan avenue, and east in Monroe street to Grant park. Sections will form at Wood and Division streets, and at Cermak road and La Salle street, merging at Union park.

About 100 policemen will be stationed at each of the three assembly points. Nearly 700 additional uniformed men will be stationed along the line of march to aid in the direction of trafic. The task of preventing trafic snarls is heightened by the fact that the parade of communists and other radical groups is timed to arrive in the loop at the time when homeward bound loop workers fill the streets.

Sausage Factory Bombed; Labor Difficulties Blamed

A black powder bomb was hurled last night through the window of the David Berg & Co., sausage manufacturers at 449 West 37th street. It did damage estimated at $200. Charles Roeby, 5614 Blackstone avenue, a watchman, was behind the two story building at the time and declared he saw no one either before or after the blast. Deering police surmised that labor troubles furnished the motive for the bombing.

ISLES "SEIZURE" TESTIMONY HIT BY ROOSEVELT

Army Officers Rebuked; Censorship Threat.

Washington, D. C., April 30.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt in a bristling message to the house military affairs committee today repudiated tesitmony of army officials that the United States "must be prepared to seize" British and French islands near American shores. The President referred to testimony given before the committee at an executive session by Brig. Gen. Charles E. Kilbourne, until recently assistant chief of staff in charge of war plans, and Brig. Gen. F. M. Andrews, head of the new general headquarters air force.

In a letter to Representative John J. McSwain [Dem., S. C.], committee chairman, the President took the stand, believed unprecedented, that if the committee prints testimony of executive sessions he will require that none be given hereafter unless he previously approves it as commander in chief of the army and navy.

Dern Approves Action.

A copy of the letter sent to Secretary of War George H. Dern brought an immediate reply from that official. Dern said he wholly approved the President's position and said he was considering taking similar action. He declared the views expressed by the generals were individual and had not been submitted to either himself or the chief of staf.

Kilbourne testified that a "camouflaged" provision for a powerful air base near Canada had been written into the 110 million dollar army air base bill, which would create a ring of bases about the country. The bill has been reported out by the committee.

Andrews testified that "even with Canada neutral" an enemy would have bases available at New Foundland, St. Pierre and Miquelon; French island near New Foundland, Bermuda, the Bahamas, Jamaica, Trinidad, British Honduras and the lesser Antilles. He added that if a situation were sufficiently vital the United States should be prepared to seize such potential bases.

Call It Regrettable Error.

In his letter to McSwain the President said his attention had been called to the publication of the testimony given by the generals at an executive session of the group two weeks ago. Members of the committee declared, following receipt of the letter, that the publication of the testimony was a regrettable error.

"Referring to page 16 of this printed document, I desire to inform your committee that certain portions of the testimony of Gen. Kilbourne, especially those relating to the Canadian border, do not represent either the policy of this administration or that of the commander in chief," the President wrote.

"In the statement of Gen. F. M. Andrews many portions of said statement, especially those relating to the territory of friendly nations, in Canada, in the Atlantic and in the West Indies, do not represent the policy of the administration or of the commander in chief.

Not Views of U. S.

"I can go further and state that they do not reflect the views, purposes, or motives of the United States government. This government does not in any of its plans or policies envisage the possibility of a change in the friendly relationship between the United States and any foreign country.

"I call your especial attention to the fact that this government not only accepts as an accomplished fact the permanent peace conditions cemented by many generations of friendship between the Canadian and American people, but expects to live up to not only the letter but the spirit of our treaties relating to the permanent disarmament of our three thousand miles of common boundary."

McSwain is out of town and could not be reached for comment. However, Representative Maury Maverick [Dem., Tex.] said he did not believe the committee should be criticized for an unintentional error in letting the testimony out.

Urges Keeping "Mouths Shut."

"But a lot of generals and admirals should keep their mouths shut," he declared, "and not talk about our foreign policy. There is too much talk about war by admirals and generals. We ought to court martial about five admirals. They are running about shooting their mouths off and are a serious menace to the country in dabbling with the foreign policy."

TAFT FOUNTAIN OF CREATION IS ASSUMING FORM

A giant Fountain of Creation, companion piece to the famous Fountain of Time at the west entrance to the Midway, is emerging from rough stone in the studio of Lorado Taft at 6016 Ingleside avenue.

For the motif of this composition, which will be placed at the eastern entrance to the Midway, Mr. Taft has gone back to mythology and the classical legend of Deucalion, the Noah of Greek legend, and his faithful wife, Pyrrha, who repeopled the earth from stones.

Mr. Taft has chosen that moment when the stones first began to change into men and women. His group begins with vague, prostrate figures emerging from the shapeless rock, proceeds at higher level with figures fully developed and almost erect but still groping, and is topped by an elevated group of human forms, perfect and triumphant, saluting the dawn.

Seeks Permit to Present Opera in Public Parks

Open air, low priced opera in the Chicago parks was proposed to the Chicago Park district commissioners yesterday by Philip Van Loan, general manager of the American Concert Artists' association. Mr. Van Loan asked that he be permitted to erect a $15,000 open air theater and be allowed to present operas and concerts from July 4 to Sept. 15. He offered the park district five per cent of the gross income. The subject was referred to Gen. Supt. George T. Donoghue for consideration.

CHAMBER URGES REFORMS DELAY; ISSUES WARNING

New Deal Program Under Convention Fire.

Washington, D. C., April 30.—[Special.]—Fighting President Roosevelt on every point of his proposed legislative program, American business, as represented by the United States Chamber of Commerce, today warned him that his social and economic reforms must be postponed until industry and commerce have recovered.

Collapse and not recovery will result from enactment of the radical laws which the President is advocating, according to almost every speaker at the chamber's national convention.

At a banquet tonight Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper, who is used as a conservative spokesman by the New Deal, assured the business men in generalizations that "legislative and regulatory efforts in this era are not intended to destroy business," and denied that "widespread reform would soon remake the entire economic and social basis of our nation."

Each Measure Denounced.

Each of the measures which the President advocated in his Sunday night radio address, NRA extension, the banking bill, transportation control, social security insurance, and holding company abolition, was roundly denounced by business men, who asked for a chance to march toward recovery without government interference.

Openly and bitterly critical of the President and scornful of the "book boys" in his brain trust, the assembled business men showed none of last year's inclination to compromise with the New Deal. Delegates jumped to their feet and cheered this morning when Forney Johnson, Birmingham lawyer, shouted:

"As to American business, there it is. If it is vicious, it has required a century and a half to discover it. Its monument is the most efficient plant and most competent personnel for the production of wealth in the civilized world today.

"Man for man and motive for motive, I should cast my vote for American business in a net value contest with congress, the legislatures, the liberals, or the political hog callers now broadcasting to their followers to line up for their unearned share of the liquidation of American business."

Strawn Hits NRA "Retreat."

Silas Strawn, Chicago lawyer and leader in the Chamber of Commerce for years, mocked the administration for its "ignominious retreat" from a legal test of the NRA in the Belcher lumber case and challenged the "book boys" of the brain trust to draft an NRA that was constitutional.

"I take it that all of you will concur in my conclusion that the business men of this country have waited entirely too long for a final decision as to whether or not the NRA is consistent with the constitution of the United States," Mr. Strawn said at a round table discussion of the recovery law, "and I am wondering whether Thomas Jefferson, the first Democratic President, would have directed the dismissal of the Belcher case and at the same time ordered the administration to proceed to prosecute the business men of this country under codes predicated upon a law which at least 21 courts have decided was unconstitutional. I don't believe the first Democratic President would have beaten such an ignominious retreat.

Expects Early Decision.

"Personally, I am grateful, however, that the heat upon that gesture has been such that they have hatched a chicken case which will soon be decided by the Supreme court of the United States, we hope, and then we shall no longer be disturbed by all of this mess, as I might say, or chaos is a more accurate term, and we shall be able to know where we are going.

"We have floundered along already for two years without knowing whether we were going to be locked up or not, and I think that we, as freemen and as Americans, have a right to know where we are going, and I think the administration should tell us what their program is."

Lists Recovery Needs.

Henry I. Harriman, retiring president, declared that business, freed from government restraints, could break the back of the depression, and listed the requirements for recovery. recovery.

He named them as follows:

"First—An assurance that congress will adjourn soon and that thereafter major reform measures will await a real revival of industry.

"Second—An international stabilization of currencies at the earliest possible date, so that foreign trade may move with less hazard.

"Third—A strong assurance that further devaluation of the dollar will not be used as a measure to restore prices.

"Fourth—Assurances of definite and drastic reduction of government expenditures after the present emergency has been spent."

HUSBAND, 73, QUITS 29 YEAR OLD WIFE TO JOIN EX-SPOUSE

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 30.—[Special.]—A 73 year old husband, who flew to California to escape both his 29 year old wife and his septuagenarian sweetheart in order that he might be with his divorced wife, had his day in court here today.

In a decision replete with poetical figures of speech, Judge M. A. Musmanno ordered George F. Sloan to pay Mrs. Stella Sloan, the young wife, $25 a week support money. "It is not unusual," the judge remarked, for the phenomenon of a May and December wedding to be followed by a blighting frost."

Remarking that the young wfe was 17 when she married Sloan, the judge said: "It was not the ebullient spirit of youth that sought to break the bonds which tied it to enfeebling age. Whether it was because of caprice of senile Lotharioism, it was the patriarch who flew from juvenility."

The septuagenarian sweetheart was one Mrs. Monroe, the court said, and the divorced wife for whom Sloan deserted his young mate is Mrs. Anna G. Sloan.

NEW DEAL MEN SCAN DECISION ON PARKER DAM

Hope Other Projects Will Not Be Affected.

Washington, D. C., April 30.—[Special.]—New Deal legalists under Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes, sought today to discover how much of the expensive New Deal reclamation program had been knocked into a cocked hat by the Supreme court decision yesterday on the Parker dam case.

The decision, it was discovered at once, had delivered a four million dollar wallop to the pocketbook of one of the New Deal's leading contractors, Six Companies, Inc., with which Marriner S. Eccles, New Deal federal reserve governor, was connected.

Other juicy contracts awarded to this company, the Silas Mason company, the Walsh Construction company and the G. F. Atkinson company also may be jeopardized. Total contracts held by these companies and potentially affected aggregate 50 million dollars. These companies have obtained the biggest contracts under the New Deal.

Without Authority, Ruling.

Secretary Ickes, who, as public works administrator, was declared by the Supreme court to be without authority to dam navigable rivers unless specifically ordered by congress, said today he hoped the decision would not throw out projects other than the Parker dam in Arizona.

Grand Coulee dam and Bonneville dam, which are similar undertakings, however, may be blocked.

PWA lawyers have not yet given him an analysis of the court's decision and he has not yet read the decision, Secretary Ickes said. How sweeping a revision of PWA plans may be required can not be predicted until this study is made, he explained.

New legislation will be asked of congress, Ickes said, to specfically authorize the construction of the Parker dam. The Supreme court held that specific legislation for damming any navigable stream was necessary and that the law creating PWA had listed no such specific projects, such as Parker dam.

Entire Program Theatened.

Since PWA has undertaken to finance a vast array of reclamation projects, many of which were never passed upon by congress, the decision threatens the entire program, one of the most expensive in the New Deal. How sweeping the effects of the decision will be, depends on where PWA can show that it has specific authorization from congress or that it does not affect navigable rivers.

Twenty-eight huge reclamation projects have received PWA funds. Their costs vary from 30 million dollars for the Grand Coulee project, to projects costing half a million dollars. Among the largest are Bonneville, Casper-Alcova, Owyhee, Upper Snake river, and Uncompahgre. Initial allocations for these 28 projects, representing only the first costs, total 105 million dollars.

Fattest contracts under the New Deal have resulted from these reclamation undertakings, and the contractors awarded these plums have obtained the most money under the New Deal. The companies holding the biggest of these contracts are the four companies mentioned above.

May Have to Bid Again.

If the present allocations of funds under PWA are thrown out by the Supreme court, these companies may have to bid again on the big contracts and may lose to competitors who are now aware of the bid previously entered by these winning companies.

Hardest hit, if the Supreme court decision extends to other projects, will be the Silas Mason, Walsh, and G. F. Atkinson companies. These three concerns combined as one hold the big 29 million dollar contract on Grand Coulee. In addition, G. F. Atkinson has a million dollar contract on the Bonneville power house.

TWIN SISTERS AT 80 DANCE, DRINK LIQUOR AND SMOKE CIGARS

Seattle, Wash., April 30.—(AP)—Twin sisters who will celebrate their 80th birthday Friday looked back over busy lives today and gave this prescription for longevity:

The sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Strom and Mrs. Magdalena Appelquist, were born in Jamtland, Sweden.

"You don't look 80," an interviewer began.

"They don't speak English," interrupted a young woman relative, who acted as interpreter.

How long had they been smoking?

The twins laughed and argued. It developed Mrs. Strom had smoked since she was 17, but Mrs. Appelquist had smoked for "only 40 years."

How long had they been drinking?

The interviewer offered the twins a cigaret.

"They say," explained the relative, "that they like cigars better, but they'll have one."

Mrs. Strom has four children and seven grandchildren; Mrs. Appelquist, four children, seven grandchildren, and six great-grandchildren.

JOHNSON PUTS OFF "THE SPEECH OF HIS CAREER"

Philadelphia, Pa., April 30.—(AP)—Gen. Hugh S. Johnson came to Philadelphia tonight to make "the speech of his career," but changed his mind when he found he wasn't on a national radio hookup.

Expecting to talk over a nation-wide network, he spent three days preparing an address to make at the United Business Men's association banquet, his secretary, Miss Francis Robinson, told newsmen.

When he arrived to face only two microphones—one a Philadelphia and one a New York station—Johnson said he instructed Miss Robinson to save his "good" talk for a Kentucky appearance on May 7.

He ordered the two microphones away, forbade movie cameramen from taking talking pictures, and cut his "address" to a few extemporaneous remarks in defense of NRA and a plea for retention of the Blue Eagle.

ICKES IS VOTED UNDERSTUDY BY OBEDIENT HOUSE

Amendment Approved by 243-92 Vote.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 30.—[Special.]—Under administration pressure plentifully applied the house of representatives this afternoon knuckled under to give Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes his cherished undersecretary at $10,000 a year.

The house passed the 62 million dollar interior department appropriation bill conference report by a vote of 266 to 65. Then under the majority steam roller a senate amendment, creating the undersecretary, was adopted by a vote of 243 to 92.

When the legislation is finally approved by the senate Ickes will be placed on the same footing as his cabinet colleagues of the state, treasury, and agriculture departments with their undersecretaries.

Revolt Is Quelled.

As a revolt against Ickes in the house flared up the New Dealers kept the wires hot to the capitol. The house leaders brought up the legislation today after the revolt had been quelled.

Numerous Democrats, among them the blown in the bottle administration man, Representative Clifton A. Woodrum [Dem., Va.], have protested at being snubbed and treated discourteously by Ickes. At today's session Woodrum remained in his seat without making a speech and registered himself as "present" on the roll call.

Representative Richard B. Wigglesworth [Rep., Mass.], a member of the house appropriations committee attacked the proposal on the grounds that interior was not a major department and Ickes had not justified the new job.

Westerners Back Ickes.

Congressmen from the west where the New Deal millions are being showered by Ickes for soil erosion, reclamation and power projects contended that the interior secretary needed some one to help him in his vast duties.

Arrive in Alaska

KETCHIKAN, Alaska, April 30.—(AP)—The liner North Star, carrying members of the Matanuska colonization project, was docked here today to load lumber to be used to erect colony buildings.

One of the members, August Anderson, 36 year old Minnesota logger, died yesterday aboard ship. Capt. T. J. Whitlam said he died of heart disease. He was one of 120 laborers and 14 officials connected with the project. The North Star will sail for Seward tonight, with a stop at Juneau.

Prepare to Receive Colonists.

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, April 30.—(AP)—With temperatures ranging from 40 to 50 above zero, the Matanuska valley and its residents were preparing today for the advent of government workers and colonists. The Alaska railroad is laying a new side track and placing additional warehouse accommodations. Survey work for the farms is well under way.

SPEND A DIME CHAIN LETTERS ARRIVE IN CITY

The "spend a dime" chain letter prosperity movement, originated in Denver, has reached Chicago. Several policemen at the 11th and State streets headquarters and in outlying stations disclosed last night that they had received letters promising them a return of $1,572.50 for the outlay of a ten cent piece.

Reports were current that the response to this "return to prosperity" movement has already been felt in increased work for mail handlers here. In Denver, where the mails have been flooded for several weeks, the government has found itself powerless to act. The receiver of a chain letter finds six names in it. He is instructed to send ten cents to the person at the top of the list, and then to send copies of the letter to the five others within three days. These copies bear his name at the bottom of the list.

If the instructions are followed exactly by every one receiving the letter the sender in time may receive a tidy sum.

ROBINSON CHIDED BY PRESIDENT ON DELAY IN SENATE

Body Is Referred To as Slow Moving.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 30.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt today evinced irritation with the legislative status of his "must" program and chided Majority Leader Joseph T. Robinson about the failure of senate to follow the example of the house. The presidential taunt, delivered in the presence of eleven other senators summoned to the White House for an NRA conference, was good natured but nevertheless embarrassing to Senator Robinson, who had suffered three successive defeats in his efforts to sidetrack the senate filibuster against the Costigan-Wagner anti-lynching bill.

The filibuster had been going almost a week and the senate has not turned a legislative wheel in two weeks, or since it passed the uncontroverted bus and truck regulation bill.

Mr. Roosevelt, it was said, referred to the senate as a slow moving body and said it would have to speed up, or the public would become impatient. He even "rubbed it in," as one senator said, by remarking that the house of representatives was well along with its program.

Republicans Voice Sympathy.

Even the Republican senators attending the conference, including Minority Leader Charles L. McNary, voiced sympathy for Mr. Robinson, whose loyalties were split wide open by the filibuster on the anti-lynching. He couldn't encourage it without prejudicing the administration's program, and he couldn't discourage it without offending his southern colleagues, as well as his own constituents.

Despite the presidential prodding Senator Robinson made no effort to terminate the filibuster by moving to adjourn instead of recessing at the close of the session. Apparently having failed to round up the necessary majority of votes necessary to put over a motion for adjournment, which would have displaced the pending motion on the anti-lynching bill, he moved to recess. The senate thus is still deadlocked, with Senator Costigan's motion the order of business, and the filibuster will go on tomorrow.

Use Old Time Tricks.

Although the opposition to the Costigan-Wagner bill has been an obvious filibuster since it began, last Wednesday, the southern senators today resorted for the first time to the old fashioned parliamentary tricks for which the senate rules seem specially designed. The device of suggesting the absence of a quorum, to give the speaker a breathing spell during the calling of the roll, was employed a dozen times while Senator John H. Bankhead [Dem., Ala.] retained the floor.

Old timers said the southern filibuster was the best organized within their memory, outstripping the one which the late Senator Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama conducted against an anti-lynching bill in 1922. Vice President Garner, a Texan and an expert parliamentarian, was said to be advising the southerners.

MAY DAY RIOTERS KILL POLICEMAN IN PARIS SUBURB

Wound 10; Muster Police to Quell Disorders.

PARIS, April 30.—(AP)—A policeman was killed and 10 persons were wounded tonight when Leftists invaded a political meeting in the suburb of Banolet. Police who were on guard against May day disorders quickly restored order and arrested a dozen men found to be carrying arms.

With outdoor meetings banned tomorrow thousands of troops and police were held ready to prevent disorders in connection with fifty indoor radical meetings in the capital and many more in the provinces.

Four Injured in Vienna.

All over the continent the authorities were wary, fearing May day, originally designated for peaceful labor festivities, and its disorders. This was the situation:

VIENNA.—A bomb blast in front of a workers' district police station tonight injured two men, also a policeman, and two girls. The legs of one man were torn off. Reds were blamed for this first bombing in many months. Just before midnight police received reports of a pistol affray in the Attakring workers' district. Graveyards will be locked and barred and the sale of flowers forbidden tomorrow to forestall demonstrations at the graves of victims of last year's Socialist party suppression. The government will attempt to divert attention with a great outpouring of free goulash for the poor and the showing of free movies.

Widespread Clashes in Spain.

MADRID.—Four bullets gravely wounded a policeman searching a known extremist here. In the Seville town of Aznalcollar one Fascist was killed and four Socialists seriously wounded in a clash. The governor ordered the arrest of all Fascists and Socialists. A huge bomb exploded in an electric transformer of Barcelona, partially stopping street car service. A small bomb exploded in the entrance to a theater at Saragossa, causing a panic, but no serious injuries. All Spain's larger cities resounded with the rumble of troop and police trucks patroling the streets as leaders attempted disruption of transportation and communication facilities.

BUDAPEST.—Police said tonight they had checked a plot of Hungarian Reds to occupy numerous public buildings. Eighteen alleged leaders were arrested and a new Red headquarters discovered. All meetings and parades were prohibited.

SOFIA.—Rumors circulated about a serious clash between police and communist villagers in Enina, near Kazanlik, following which three policemen were reported dead and 10 to 15 villagers killed or wounded. It was said the fight followed when police interrupted Red agitators making speeches.

Germans Pray for Hitler.

BERLIN.—Solemn prayers for Reichsfuehrer Hitler in his work as "savior of the nation from bolshevism" were offered in Protestant churches tonight as an overture to the labor celebrations tomorrow. The propaganda ministry denied reports that Hitler again is suffering from throat trouble and wanted to cancel his address to an expected 1,500,000 at Tempelhof air field. Thousands of workers' delegations were arriving from all parts of the reich, troops and girls in brown shirts paraded the streets until after dusk.

MOSCOW.—Joseph Stalin, soviet dictator, made ready to review picked detachments of the huge Red army, numbering in all nearly 1,000,000 men, as the communist internationale, asking workers everywhere to join May day demonstrations, declared humanity was approaching another world war.

ROME.—Italian police received orders to suppress any demonstrations tomorrow promptly. Italy's Labor day was celebrated Sunday.

Elsewhere over the continent nations sought means to keep May day demonstrations from developing into riots.

British police expected to follow their usual policy of noninterference with soap box oratory; the Netherlands decided to segregate Socialist and communist demonstrations; Belgium's Socialists, now in the government, planned quiet street demonstrations and meetings, with the only trouble expected from communists.

REDS BARE PLAN TO "LIQUIDATE" BRITISH ROYALTY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIGA, Latvia, April 30.—On the eve of King George's jubilee in England the communist Internationale today published the plans of the soviet government in England when the Reds obtain power there. The communist Internationale proposes to "liquidate" the British royal family and other privileged classes, which it says will be necessary before it would be possible to increase the unemployed dole and the wages of the employed.

The document, which has upward of 10,000 words, also mentioned the following plans for England: seizure of banks, nationalization of wealth and cancellation of all British foreign investments without regard to whether or not the debtors are planning a soviet régime themselves.

British troops would be withdrawn from northern Ireland, India, and the African colonies, and the army, air force and navy would be disbanded and their members promised work. These forces would be supplanted by a Red army and navy, which would defend the British soviet.

The document says the British capitalists would receive the same merciless treatment that the bolsheviks meted out to their victims in Russia.

MELLON CHARGES TREASURY HEAD UPSETS JUSTICE

Says Morgenthau Seeks to Influence Court.

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 30.—(AP)—Andrew W. Mellon tonight charged Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau with making a "crude effort to interfere with the administration of justice." The statement was made upon learning that a telegram from the secretary concerning the $3,089,000 Mellon income tax case now before the board of tax appeals had been made public.

Morgenthau's telegram placed his stamp of approval on Government Counsel Robert H. Jackson's procedure against Mellon, telling him to continue "with no abatement in the vigor of your efforts to get at the simple truth or in your insistence that they [business transactions] shall be judged by the standards of common business honesty."

Board Rejects Brief.

Jackson had appealed to his chief after Ernest H. Van Fossan, presiding member of the board, rejected a brief in which he had attacked the position of privilege taken by Paul G. Rodewald, a witness, who refused to surrender certain correspondence. Frank J. Hogan, Mellon's counsel, said he waived any privilege in the matter, but he supported Rodewald's position in a 6,500 word brief.

Mr. Mellon said:

"I have refrained, during the trial of this case, from any public comment, secure in the feeling that the entire controversy had finally reached a judicial body that could be depended upon to render a decision based upon truth rather than upon innuendo.

"In spite of tactics pursued in high government circles, when this matter was before the grand jury and when that grand jury refused to be intimidated and to return an indictment, I had assumed that the administrative officers would be willing to try the case before this impartial tribunal as I have been.

Assails Unfair Influence.

"Any invasion of my personal rights as a citizen is of relative unimportance. But when the secretary of the treasury, a member of the President's cabinet, descends to a public attempt to influence a matter now on trial before a duly constituted court, that action is a crude effort to interfere with the administration of justice, and a continuation of the political efforts of his administration in my case."

Mellon charged "political persecution" a year ago after Attorney General Homer S. Cummings announced a grand jury investigation of the Pittsburgh financier's 1931 income tax would be made—an announcement Mellon said was released before the bureau of internal revenue had officially notified him that his tax return was questioned.

ALL JAPANESE LEGION POST IS FORMED IN WEST

Los Angeles, Cal., April 30.—[Special.]—The first and only Japanese-American post of the American Legion was installed in Los Angeles' "Little Tokio" tonight with commanders of sixty posts of Caucasian Legionnaires and the representatives of San Francisco's Chinese-American post present for the ceremonies of loyalty to the Stars and Stripes.

Thirty-three members, all Japanese, were installed in the new post named Commodore Perry post. Karl T. Iwanaga, installed as commander, said: "Commodore Perry brought the first United States trade to Japanese waters in 1850. To us falls the duty of continuing the friendship he created."

Report Against Impeachment for 3 Federal Judges Here

Washington, D. C., April 30.—[Special.]—Evidence taken in the inquiry into the conduct of three federal judges at Chicago does not warant impeachment, a house subcommittee reported today. The report did not mention by name the three judges, Charles W. Woodward, Walter C. Lindley and James H. Wilkerson.

In a sense, however, the report censured the three, stating that in several instances "conduct prejudicial to the dignity of the federal judiciary" was disclosed.

The group, headed by Representative Warren J. Duffey [Dem., O.] and other members of the house judiciary committee, has investigated equity and bankruptcy receiverships and practices in the federal district court of northern Illinois.

Finds Situation Improved.

At one time, the subcommittee said, the situation "merited strong criticism," but that substantial improvement has been made, both in the rules of the court and in the law applicable to the administrator of receiverships and bankruptcy litigation.

In connection with criticism of the three judges the report stated:

"Evidence in many cases was submitted and in one form or another it appeared that there existed favoritism and nepotism in the appointment of receivers, attorneys and referees, and allowance of excessive fees. Some of these practices, which had grown up over a period of years, seem to have been generally tolerated in that jurisdiction."

Only 11 Impeachments.

The report pointed out that article II., section 4, of the constitution, on impeachment, had been invoked eleven times in the history of the nation.

"It is a rigid, difficult and unsatisfactory procedure to be invoked, unless moral turpitude and uncontradictory evidence of misconduct is positive."

This statement, it was said, was an answer to several hot-headed Democrats who have been demanding impeachment of the three Republican judges.

The subcommittee expressed the opinion that much good came of congressional investigations into persons who held civil office in the United States and should be a constant warning to officials.

Lists Improvements.

Instances of changes that have worked for improvement in equity and bankruptcy proceedings cited by the report were as follows:

Provision for the rotation among the judges of all classes of cases, an order that the clerk shall not reveal to any person the order of assignment of cases, increases in the number of referees, abandonment of the practice of auctioneers controling sales of property, and greater care in the designation of depositaries of bankruptcy funds and the bonding companies obligated to secure such funds.

The subcommittee said that appraisers appointed must qualify from actual experience and knowledge of value of the class of property involved, and with a reduction in fees; also that compensation of trustees, receivers, appraisers, accountants and attorneys should be based on complete itemized statements, or data, before allowance for payment.

MAYOR'S BOARD FINDS NO CRISIS TO GIVE IT TEST

So far there has been no hitch in city affairs under the five man comission named by Mayor Kelly to act in emergencies while he is on a vacation in Hawaii. There has been no business before the board in the two weeks it has existed, City Controler Robert B. Upham, chairman of the commission, said yesterday. Other commission members are Corporation Counsel William H. Sexton, Public Works Commissioner Oscar Hewitt, Police Commissioner James P. Allman, and Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the board of health.

"Mayor Kelly arranged for the handling of routine city affairs before he left and then he appointed the mayoral commission to care for emergencies if they should arise," Mr. Upham said. "To date, however, the only business of the commission was to elect me the chairman. There have been no 'emergencies.'"

In addition to the commission a number of other city officials function for the mayor during his absence. Ald. James B. Bowler [25th], president pro tem of the council, will preside at a short council meeting today and a number of proxies, approved by the council, will initial the vast number of documents which flow through the mayor's office. The mayoral commission decides on matters of policy, if such questions should arise.

13,000 JOBLESS AS CAR WORKER STRIKE SPREADS

Closing of Other Plants Is Expected.

Detroit, Mich., April 30.—[Special.]—More than 13,000 employés of General Motors corporation units were out of work tonight as labor troubles which started a week ago in the Chevrolet Motor company plant at Toledo spread to Cleveland and Cincinnati.

Several thousand men employed in General Motors plants at Flint, Mich., attended a massmeeting there tonight to discuss the urgings of Toledo union leaders that they join the strike.

The prediction was made that the labor troubles would spread to other General Motors units in the middle west and may also be reflected in other industries, particularly concerns which manufacture automotive parts and accessories.

McGrady Ordered to Toledo.

In Washington, Secretary of Labor Perkins ordered Edward F. McGrady, assistant secretary of labor, to go to the strike area to attempt to settle the walkout. On his arrival in Detroit he declined to discuss the part he would play.

An appeal from the Toledo local of the United Automobile Workers of America induced workers in the Chevrolet assembly and Fisher Body company plants at Cincinnati to join the growing walkout today. General Motors corporation officials here said both plants had suspended operations.

Officials of the Fisher Body plant at Cleveland announced operations in that factory will be suspended at midnight for an indefinite period. Approximately 9,000 men are employed in that plant, which manufactures bodies for Chevrolet cars.

Lincoln Scafe, general manager of the Cleveland Fisher Body plant, which is a subsidiary, like Chevrolet, of the General Motors corporation, said that although there was no strike at his plant, the suspension of operations there was the result of the strike situation at Toledo.

Expects Other Shutdown.

"We can't operate if there are no chassis to put bodies on," said Scafe. He asserted that the Cleveland shutdown was not a lockout.

Scafe said it is likely other Fisher Body and Chevrolet plants throughout the middle west may also have to close.

The walkout at the Fisher Body and Chevrolet plants at Cincinnati followed a decision of the Toledo strikers to ask locals in other General Motors plants to quit work until contracts are signed for all.

The Cincinnati workers began leaving their jobs during the forenoon after their union leaders had presented a series of demands to the general managers of the two plants. It was not determined how many participated in the walkout, but William H. Black, president of the Cincinnati union local, claimed 1,700 members under his jurisdiction.

Demand Minimum Pay.

The Cincinnati workers demanded that the company meet with accredited union representatives on all questions of company-employé relations; establish a 7½ hour day and five day week; pay time and a half for overtime; abolish piece work; institute seniority rights, and pay a minimum wage of 70 cents an hour.

They also asked that if any plant closed because of labor difficulties, the Cincinnati Chevrolet plant not be used to assemble cars for the strike territory.

This latter issue caused the reverberations at Flint, Mich., where the American Federation of Labor local in the Buick plant protested that operations halted by the Toledo shutdown would be transferred to the Flint Buick plant.

Harlow H. Curtice, president of the Buick Motor company, today said this course of action already was being undertaken and that the manufacture of transmissions for Pontiac automobiles and for General Motors of Canada cars was being transferred from Flint to Toledo.

Curtice said this step had been planned for later in the year, but that the immediate move was decided upon because of the Toledo strike.

No formal strike action could be taken at the Flint meeting, since it was not to be a closed session, but he admitted the situation would be discussed.

The question of working on parts to fill the gap in a strike territory also concerned the Toledo members of the Mechanics' Educational Society of America, a union of tool and die workers. They announced they would not work on parts formerly manufactured at the Toledo Chevrolet plant if the company attempts to have the work done in other plants in the region.

Demand Street Car Parley.

Omaha, Neb., April 30.—(AP)—The city council tonight demanded that the Omaha and Council Bluffs Street Railway company agree to arbitration of difficulties between the company and 400 striking employés as the tenth day of the strike, the third in a year, ended.

OFFICIAL SEES UTILITY STRIKE OVER IN 24 HOURS

Hope was expressed here yesterday afternoon by Peter J. Angsten, chairman of the Illinois industrial commission, that within 24 hours union employés of the Illinois Power and Light company would be back at work, ending the 27 day strike which has deprived a dozen downstate communities of vital utilities service.

Angsten said the members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, according to information reaching him, had accepted, with one provision, the invitation of Gov. Horner to attend a conference with officials of the company Friday in Springfield and mediate their difficulties.

The provision, according to Angsten, is that the company vacate an injunction issued by Judge Thomas M. Jett of the Fourth district Circuit court at Hillsboro, which restrained officials of the union from preventing the men returning to work. Union leaders have rescinded the strike order, but have taken no action about sending the men back to work.

CUTS SAM INSULL BAIL BOND FROM $200,000 TO $10,000

Samuel Insull's bond of $200,000 was reduced yesterday to $10,000 by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson after United States District Attorney Dwight H. Green announced he would not oppose this action. The former utility executive, who is awaiting trial with eight associates on charges of having violated the bankruptcy act, pleaded in his petition for the reduction that he might have to surrender to the court and go to jail on May 11 when his bond expires because of inability to pay the premium for another bond.

Insull's counsel, Floyd Thompson, demanded an immediate trial for his client, charging that "Washington has been dilly-dallying for six months."

The prosecutor replied that the government was asking for a trial date not prior to June 10, "because Sam E. Whittaker, a special assistant attorney general, is to try the case for the government." A dispatch from Washington last night said, however, that Whittaker's assignment is not definite.

CARGO HANDLERS' STRIKE AT END; SUGAR UNLOADED

The longshoremen's strike called against the North Pier terminal at 549 East Illinois street on Monday was ended yesterday after a conference between the officials of the terminal and J. J. Noonan, district secretary of the Longshoremen's union, local No. 19. A total of 120 men returned to work in the afternoon and completed the unloading of 1,250 tons of sugar from the barge I. L. I. 101, which docked Sunday after a trip from Philadelphia.

CHICAGO G. O. P. WOMEN LAUNCH FORUM PROJECT

Informal Meetings Begun in Loop Restaurant.

Fifty women Republican leaders of Chicago and Illinois met yesterday in the first of a series of luncheon forums intended for friendly coördination of effort.

The series is to be informally organized, open to all women and patterned after the noon hour meetings of Republican men's groups, which have had consistent attendance gains, according to Mrs. Mabel G. Reinecke, member of the Chicago board of election commissioners. She presided yesterday at the initial meeting in Henrici's restaurant, where the next forum will be held May 14.

Urges Accurate Economics.

Discussing the tendency of voters toward becoming "amateur economists," Mrs. Reinecke suggested that one function of the forum should be an organized effort to combat politically issued morsels of economic fallacy. The next campaign, Mrs. Reinecke said, should find party workers able to refute distorted facts and figures as presented in fantastic political promises.

Other women speakers urged that women's organizations take a "ground floor part" in the revival of Republican activities.

Reviewing New Deal extremes, C. Wayland Brooks, the guest speaker of the occasion, declared that the loss of control "to a single ruler is seen in the spectacle of our governor with hat in hand begging before a social worker in the national capital, submitting not to an elected official but to an appointee."

"Superpower Not Needed."

Reforms in furtherance of social security and remedies for abuse of corporate power and maldistribution of wealth could be accomplished by ordinary acts of congress without resort to a "superpower," Brooks said. He asserted the New Deal has not yet successfully tried court prosecution for financial crime in high places.

Women organization leaders who spoke included Mrs. Donald I. Graham, Mrs. Martin Kent Northam, Mrs. Ernest B. Griffin, Mrs. George R. Dean, Mrs. Grace Gray, Mrs. Harry Hart, Mrs. David H. Jackson, Mrs. Harrison Cade, Mrs. Leonard Brundage, Mrs. Jennie Lawrence, and Mrs. Arthur Kruger.

Another Republican rally, held by the Republican Woman's Civic club last night in the Morrison hotel, was addressed by Otis F. Glenn, former United States senator, and Charles W. Hadley of Wheaton, former assistant attorney general of Illinois. Mr. Glenn reported from his recent observation through the country that there is sufficient disillusionment over the present administration's program to warrant definite hope of a Republican comeback in 1936.

PASTEUR'S GRANDSON HERE; VISITS STATUE OF BACTERIOLOGIST

Arriving in Chicago by airplane yesterday from Rochester, Minn., Dr. Pasteur Vallery-Radot of the University of Paris, grandson of Dr. Louis Pasteur, "father of bacteriology," visited the statue of his grandfather in Grant park. He was a luncheon guest of Charles H. Swift, chairman of the board of Swift & Co., at the company's packing plant. Dr. Vallery-Radot will sail for home on May 10 after a month's visit in America, where he has lectured on allergic diseases.

McSURELY LEADS BAR VOTE ON 20 SUPERIOR JUDGES

Lawyers Give Their Views of Bench Candidates.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Judge William H. McSurely was the high man in the Chicago Bar association's tabulation yesterday of the replies to a questionnaire sent to its members concerning the qualifications of twenty Superior court judges whose terms expire this year.

These twenty places and one new seat on the Superior bench will be before the voters of Cook county in the election of July 1, when there also is a special election to name a member of the state Supreme court from the Seventh district. The questionnaires were sent out as a form of preparation for that election.

Bar members were requested to score the candidates of whom they "have knowledge." Thus, while 1,389 replies were received, the total number of answers on different judges varied.

Judges Graded on Points.

The lawyers graded each judge on points in reply to seven questions on specific qualifications. They also answered the single question of whether he should be nominated for reëlection.

The seven questions and the maximum number of points on each follow:

Does he observe court hours?	5
Is he diligent in the dispatch of business?	5
Is he patient and courteous?	5
Is he attentive and fair minded?	5
Does he possess legal ability?	20
Have you confidence in his integrity?	40
Do you regard him as an able judge?	20
	100

The tabulated results, showing the judges in the order of their ranking, with [R.] and [D.] indicating the Republican or Democratic affiliations of the judges, follow:

	Score on 7 qualification questions.	Should he be renominated? Yes.	No.
William H. McSurely [R.]	98.3	1,005	35
John M. O'Connor [D.]	97.6	1,080	45
Oscar Hebel [R.]	97.2	995	49
John P. McGoorty [D.]	96.4	1,217	66
John C. Lewe [D.]	93	774	73
Michael L. McKinley [D.]	86.3	851	204
E. I. Frankhouser [R.]	85.8	603	186
James F. Fardy [D.]	84.8	675	159
James J. Kelly [D.]	83.3	739	213
Harry B. Miller [R.]	82.2	724	241
Walter T. Stanton [D.]	78.5	629	229
Peter H. Schwaba [D.]	77	669	278
Rudolph Desort [D.]	75.6	692	302
Joseph B. David [D.]	73.8	641	598
Charles A. Williams [D.]	72.7	587	343
Francis B. Allegretti [D.]	68.9	590	391
William J. Lindsay [D.]	67.3	682	492
Denis E. Sullivan [D.]	64.2	539	679
Marcus Kavanagh [R.]	60.9	302	804
David M. Brothers [R.]	45.8	258	795

High Man All Around.

Judge McSurely was high man not only in his score on the seven qualification questions but in the percentage of the lawyers who voted specifically for his nomination. Of those who voted on this question in reference to him, 96.63 per cent said he should be renominated.

The two low men in the tabulation, Judge Brothers and Judge Kavanagh, are the oldest men in the court. Judge Brothers is 74 and Judge Kavanagh is 75. Neither has been in good health in recent years.

The results of the questionnaire were mailed to all members of the association for their information.

CHICAGO SEEKING 1936 CONVENTIONS OF BOTH PARTIES

The Chicago Association of Commerce has plans afoot to obtain both the Democratic and Republican national conventions for Chicago next year, it revealed yesterday. Both George F. Getz, coal dealer and treasurer of the Republican national committee, and Walter J. Cummings, banker and treasurer of the Democratic national committee, are Chicagoans. Each has promised efforts to bring his convention here when the committees meet late this year to choose the convention cities. Atlantic City already has offered a guaranty for the Republican meeting and is bidding for the Democratic convention. Cleveland and San Francisco are among the other cities with which Chicago is likely to be in competition. In 1932, when both political gatherings were held here, the city guaranteed each party $200,000.

COL. ROOSEVELT HITS WORK FUND AS VOTE MONEY

Rakes New Deal at G.O.P. Eastern Parley.

Boston, Mass., April 30.—[Special.]—Col. Theodore Roosevelt Jr., today led Republican speakers in an attack on the administration of his distant cousin, President Roosevelt, in which the 4 billion 800 million dollar works relief program was assailed as an "out and out attempt to buy votes."

Col. Roosevelt, the former governor general of the Philippines, president of the National Republican club, son of the late President Theodore Roosevelt, and himself regarded by some a potential presidential candidate next year, made his charges at a New England party conference here.

"If allowed to continue unchecked," Col. Roosevelt said, "Roosevelt policies will crush the small property owner, the home owner, the small business man and, instead of a nation where the vast majority of the people has possessions and comfort, we will become a country where poverty is the rule."

Speakers Assail Program.

The Democratic national policies also were assailed by other speakers at the conference which included Representatives Thomas Christianson of Minnesota and Joseph Martin of Massachusetts.

The conference was the first of a series of regional gatherings designed to lay the groundwork for the 1936 national campaign. There was no open discussion of candidates and no resolutions or other action.

Several hundred party leaders and others from the New England states attended. With a large proportion of younger men and women present speakers urged a liberalization of the party in its policies and personnel.

In amplifying his charge of an "out and out attempt to buy votes," Col. Roosevelt said congress had turned the huge work relief appropriation over to the President "to spend practically as he pleases."

Cites Maine Campaign.

"All of you know what was done last summer and autumn," he went on. "In Maine the present Democratic governor campaigned for reëlection with the statement that unless he was reëlected Maine would not continue to get the federal funds she had been receiving.

"In Des Moines, for example, after a conference with Farley, the Democratic state chairman announced over the radio: 'This election beyond all doubt will determine whether Iowa will continue to receive through federal agencies the very liberal and much needed benefits coming to our people through these agencies.'"

Col. Roosevelt cited the New England textile industry, now the center of a controversy between cotton manufacturers of the region and the administration, as a "typical illustration of the effect of the administration's economic policies."

Tells of Textile Industry.

Concerning the textile industry, he said that although the original slump was a result of world depression, the administration, through the NRA, had increased manufacturing costs and, through the processing tax, "has increased costs to an even greater extent."

The processing tax due the government in 20 months on all cotton put in process amounts to $185,000,000, or about 40 per cent of the amount paid in wages, he said. He added that American industry already has lost two-thirds of its overseas trade in cotton textiles, mostly to Japan.

"Japan now is attacking us in our home market and Washington is sitting supine," he declared. "Indeed, both the President and Secretary Wallace have said in effect that they saw no menace and that everything was all right."

He declared that the New Deal is rapidly destroying the high standard of living in this country, while the cost of living has been increased 15 per cent. The national administration, he told his listeners, is "robbing America to benefit foreign countries."

HUSBAND HELD

MRS. ISABEL HOUGH.

Will M. Hough, playwright and song writer, has been arrested in Carmel, Cal., on a charge of abandoning his wife and child here, and steps have been taken to extradite him, it was announced here yesterday.

The complainant is Isabel Lamon Hough, who appeared on the stage as Isabel Baring, and who lives with their daughter, Carol, 8 years old, at 618 Rush street. She alleges that Hough, author of the play, "The Time, the Place, and the Girl," and writer of the song, "I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now," deserted her in 1931.

Last year Mrs. Hough filed suit for divorce here and obtained an injunction restraining her husband's brother, Thomas, a broker, from paying out Will Hough's investment account with Halsey Stuart & Co.

Extradition papers for Hough were prepared yesterday by Assistant State's Attorney Walter McCoy and were sent to Springfield for Gov. Horner's signature.

Mrs. T. E. Hanshaw Sues for Separate Maintenance

Theron E. Hanshaw, president of the Thayer Pharmacal company and the Federal Pure Foods company at 2944 Lake street, was sued for separate maintenance in the Circuit court yesterday by Mrs. Ola Faye Hanshaw of the Graemere hotel, 113 North Homan avenue. The bill, drawn by Attorney Norman Becker, charges misconduct with a Julia Knudson. The Hanshaws were married Dec. 10, 1921, in Breckenridge, Tex., and separted last March 10, the bill says. Attorney Becker obtained from Judge Philip J. Finnegan an injunction restraining Hanshaw from disposing of insurance policies for $40,000, stock he owns in the Mid-City bank, and his interest in the drug companies.

County Puts Up $5,000 for Courtney Assassins

Members of the Cook county board offered yesterday the reward of $5,000 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of those responsible for the attempt on the life of State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney on March 24. The resolution authorizing the reward, introduced by Commissioner William Erickson, raises the total of posted rewards in the case to $11,000. The Chicago Association of Commerce previously offered $5,000, and Gov. Henry Horner $1,000.

NEW DEAL WILL ENSLAVE NATION —WADSWORTH

Banking Bill Threatens Credit, He Declares.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Sorry times for the American citizen if the New Deal goes on toward its goal were forecast yesterday by Congressman James W. Wadsworth Jr. of New York, former United States senator, who has been mentioned as a Republican presidential possibility for 1936.

He was the speaker at a luncheon of the Union League club and chose as his subject, "What Kind of Children for Our Children?" But he discussed chiefly present conditions, merely pointing a finger of horror at the evil consequences he said are to follow.

His criticism was a blanket attack on the theory of a planned economy. He said that this form of planning already had seized hold upon industry and agriculture and now threatens the credit of the nation through the banking act.

Political Control the End.

Mr. Wadsworth said that the banking act would turn the credit structure of the nation over to a "politically appointed superboard."

"And he who controls the credit of a nation," he continued, "controls its life.

"Political control is the end of this program. Years from now it will all be in politics. That is inevitable. And what will become of the 10th amendment, intended to preserve and protect the rights of the states?"

Congressman Wadsworth pointed out that "burocracy has increased by 100,000 persons in the last twenty months."

"We can hardly visualize," he said, "the size of the army that is going to be mobilized under burocracy. And that's the kind of an army that doesn't want to be demobilized. 'Few die ana none resign.' It brings up the question whether the citizen of this country is to be the master of its government or its subject.

Sons and the Government.

"Shall we turn this corner and embark on this other road so different from anything this country has ever known before? What relations are going to exist between my son and his government, or your son and his government or their sons and their government?

"Everywhere we see the signs that democracy is failing—failing in the countries of Europe and forcing us to ask ourselves: Is this what we get from the depression with its hysteria and confusion?"

He closed with a slap at arguments for "efficiency" in government.

"Efficincy alone," he said, "is a mighty cold diet. There is something more precious in life than efficiency. That is liberty."

7 SEA DISASTER HEROES RECEIVE MEDALS, MONEY

New York, April 30.—[Special.]—Bronze medals were presented today to Capt. Sadi Gonthier and six members of the crew of the little Belgian freighter Jean Jadot of the Lloyd Royal Belge line for their heroism in rescuing members of the crew of the British freighter Usworth during a raging storm 850 miles east of St. Johns, Newfoundland, last December after a battle of four days and three nights in mountainous seas. The Jean Jadot lost two members of her own crew in the rescue.

The presentation of the medals was made by Herbert L. Satterlee for the Life Saving Benevolent association today aboard the Jean Jadot. In addition to the medals each of the men receives $100 in cash.

Two members of the Jean Jadot's crew who were injured while attempting the rescue and who now are in a hospital in Antwerp also are to receive medals and cash awards.

CALLS SLOGANS ON LEARNING RADICALLY FALSE

New York, April 30.—(AP)—After nine years of research Dr. Edward L. Thorndike, president of the American Association for Adult Education, tonight labeled "radically false" the following slogans:

"You can't teach an old dog new tricks."

"Experience is the best teacher."

"Repetition is the mother of studies."

"We learn by our mistakes."

Of the first, Dr. Thorndike, who is professor of education at Teachers' college, Columbia university, said his studies had shown that adults still can learn at the age of 45.

"Adults may excuse themselves from learning because they are tired or sleepy or in need of entertainment rather than improvement," he said, "but not because they cannot, being old, be sufficiently interested."

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

ILLINOIS HOUSE GETS RECOVERY ACT REPEALER

Advances That Bill to the Second Reading.

BY STANLEY ARMSTRONG.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., April 30.—[Special.]—Discontent in Illinois with the operation of the National Industrial Recovery act was strongly shown today. Three state representatives from populous centers introduced a bill to repeal the Illinois recovery act.

By unanimous consent of the house the bill was advanced to second reading, without reference to a committee on the motion of Elmer J. Schnackenberg [Rep., Chicago]. He is one of the measure's authors. The other two sponsors are Clinton Searle [Rep., Rock Island and David I. Swanson [Rep., Chicago].

Unanimous consent for a hurdle of a portion of the legislative routine at first was refused by the Democrats. Schnackenberg then moved for a suspension of the rules. Seeing the prospects for the taking of a record vote on the motion, the Democrats retreated.

Echo of Sales Tax Fight.

The action of the majority party was taken apparently to avoid adding to their present difficulties in lining up votes for an increased sales tax, a measure linked to continuance of federal relief in this state. Debate was shut off by the Democrats' yielding, but Schnackenberg said he would seize the first opportunity to send the bill to third reading—the passage stage.

Off the floor Schnackenberg gave some of the reasons for the repealer. Among those he listed were:

Senator King's [Dem., Utah] introduction of a bill to prohibit extension of the NRA beyond June 16 of this year, its normal date for ending.

Brig. Gen. Hugh S. Johnson's recent public statement that "the Blue Eagle is as dead as the dodo." Johnson, it seems almost needless to recall, was NRA administrator.

"Illinois has an eagle on its state seal, an American, not a Blue Eagle," Schnackenberg said. "In its beak it holds a streamer with this motto: 'State Sovereignty—National Union.' The general assembly obliterated the first two words in passing the Illinois recovery act in 1934, and now we want to restore them.

For "Return to Sanity."

"Under the state act the rules, regulations, and pronouncements made under the federal act become law in Illinois. Illinois should repeal its ridiculous act and lead the state back to sanity."

The repeal bill has an emergency clause. That clause would make it effective immediately if it were passed and signed by the governor. In that clause are recited more reasons for repeal. It is argued:

The act has hindered rather than promoted industrial recovery; has increased unemployment; has promoted monopoly and restraint of trade ruinous to small business men; has increased prices of the necessities of life.

Members of the Illinois house recalled that in 1934 the state administration had to call the roll on the bill for three weeks before 77 votes were obtained to pass it with an emergency clause. To urge adoption of the repealer, Searle and Swanson, as well as Schnackenberg, are prepared to make a vigorous fight.

For More Chicago Police.

Among the bills introduced in the senate today were:

By Senator Harold G. Ward [Dem., Chicago]—Bill by which Chicago police force, about 6,000 men, might be raised to about 9,000 by applying motor vehicle license fees for policing the streets. Ward believes street repairs could be financed by grants from the 4 billion 880 million work relief fund. The bill went to second reading.

By Senator George M. Maypole [Dem., Chicago]—Bill for two years exemption from taxation for dwellings and industrial buildings erected between July 1, 1935 and July 1, 1937, to encourage construction.

For Assessment Corrections.

The senate passed house bill 215, which takes away from the board of county commissioners and gives to the county courts authority to grant refunds to taxpayers whose property has been illegally assessed. This measure, introduced by Representative David A. Fitzgerald [Dem., Chicago] has passed the house and now goes to Gov. Horner for signing.

In working on its calendar, the senate advanced from first to second reading the bill of Senator Thomas E. Keane [Dem., Chicago] to permit the Chicago Surface Lines to construct tracks through Chicago's parks to connect up two lines. Although the bill is intended, according to Keane, to remedy a condition in his district, the measure is general in its application.

Oath Bill Favored.

A favorable recommendation was given the teachers' patriotic oath bill by the senate judiciary committee tonight. The measure would compel all school teachers, public and private, to swear allegiance to the state and federal constitutions.

Dr. James M. Doran, former United States commissioner of prohibition, appeared tonight before an Illinois house subcommittee, speaking in favor of Illinois' distilling industry. Dr. Doran, supervisor of the distillers' code authority, opposed the bill introduced by Representative William W. Powers [Dem., Chicago] providing that no alcoholic liquor could be sold at retail as whisky unless 75 per cent of the volume had been aged in oak for not less than four years.

O'GRADY OFFERS PLAN TO REMAP PARK DRIVEWAYS

Cites Perils of Trafic in Chicago Areas.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., April 30.—[Special.]—Representative Edward H. O'Grady [Dem., Chicago] today drafted a resolution that would create a legislative commission to remap the automobile driveways and boulevards of Chicago's parks.

The resolution, to be considered by the house committee on parks, pointed out that the winding pavements in the city's older recreational areas were laid out in the horse and buggy age and that with the development of the motor car they have become dangerous to drivers and pedestrians alike.

"They were pleasant trails for the horse and buggy moving from three to seven miles an hour," said O'Grady. "With automobiles moving over them at thirty-five miles an hour, they are death traps.

"These streams of automobiles interfere with picnickers, with strollers, with children's games, and with mothers airing their babies. By removing these antiquated driveways there would be an additional area for these recreational usages.

"The concentration of trafic on modern driveways would likewise benefit motor travel, eliminating excessive mileage and dangerous curves. With this concentration through trafic pavements could be equipped with pedestrian subways or bridges."

The resolution would authorize the speaker of the house to appoint five members as a commission to study the problem with the Chicago park board and the state highway department and to make recommendations.

THREATEN HOUSE TIEUP TO PUSH FIXED POLL LIST

G. O. P. Backers of Bill Charge Trickery.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., April 30.—[Special.]—Republican house members tonight threatened to start a filibuster tomorrow unless the decks are cleared for action on permanent registration bills. A committee of five was appointed to wait upon Speaker John P. Devine in the morning with word that after the vote on the sales tax is taken tomorrow a filibuster will be launched against all other measures unless demands from the Republican side are met.

These demands are that the Schnackenberg bills for permanent registration for Chicago and other cities with election boards, and the Koehler bills for state-wide permanent registration all be placed on the calendar and advanced so that a vote may be taken next week. The demands include also two senate bills for school relief which the filibusterites desire to have moved along.

Green Heads Committee.

The Republican committee which is to set this program before the speaker is composed of Leroy M. Green [Rockford], G. J. Johnson [Paxton], Elmer J. Schnackenberg [Chicago], Richard J. Lyons [Libertyville], and Daniel A. Roberts [Chicago].

The filibuster threats followed a stormy session this afternoon of the house elections committee.

Schnackenberg and Lyons charged the Democrats were seeking to smother the bills for Chicago permanent registration with the Democratic bills for compulsory state-wide permanent registration. They charged the state-wide bills were put out, marked for slaughter by the rural legislators.

The Democrats, led by Michael F. Hennebry [Wilmington] and Frank Ryan [Chicago] retorted that they were on the square for state-wide registration and shouted that if the Republican house leaders applied a little pressure to this measure, it would have good chances of passage.

Set Hearing for Tuesday.

At the end of an hour and a half all the pending registration bills, state-wide and Chicago, were in the hands of the Ryan sub-committee, and announcement was made of an open hearing on all the measures next Tuesday in the house chamber. To this P. A. Nash, Democratic national committeeman, Judge Edmund K. Jarecki and Mayor Edward J. Kelly, who is in Hawaii, are to be invited as well as some Republican committeemen.

Messrs. Schnackenberg and Lyons tonight were conferring with other Republicans over a filibuster, and there was loud talk of "putting on the works" tomorrow or later this week, experimentally, to indicate what might happen if permanent registration measures do not get on the calendar. In former years, it was noted, threats of a filibuster were a standardized feature of the democratic minority.

Women Appear for Hearing.

The hub-bub was occasioned by the gyrations of two committees. Large delegations were on hand to appear before Mr. Hennebry's elections committee. Among them were several from the Illinois League of Women Voters, headed by Mrs. Ralph B. Treadway.

When the meeting assembled, however, the full elections committee took the view it could not proceed without hearing from the Ryan subcommittee which has had charge of the Schnackenberg bills. The Ryan subcommittee, in turn, held it could not meet until John McSweeney appeared, although all other members were on hand. Mr. McSweeney, however, was detained in another committee.

Subcommittee Hides Out.

For an hour Mr. Schnackenberg and Mr. Lyons kept running from the third floor to the fifth, popping into rooms looking for the subcommittee.

Finally the sub-committee got together. Its only action was to pull back the vote of a week ago by which it reported out the Schnackenberg Chicago bills without recommendation. The members rushed upstairs into the full elections committee.

hand, looking over the country. While he claimed eight acres, there were thousands at hand for his roaming. The earth was alive with the melody of birds, the sound of brooks, distant cow bells, the high call of crows, the mournful turtle doves, the cheerful redbird.

The new settlers in the hills find an ancient and firmly established civilization. The neighbors may be miles apart, but they know all about each other and are ready to help each other. There has not been any change of note in the last few years.

Depression Is Merely a Rumor.

"Depression, yes, we heard of it," said an old man with shrewd and gentle eyes and ready smile, who sat reading a weekly paper in a cabin doorway in the country where Lincoln's father and mother first settled in the first years of the last century.

"I hear other people talk about it," he continued, "but I ain't noticed much difference around here. Never had any money and haven't any now, and don't see as it makes much difference."

In the long trail up the Sequatchie valley to the upland country and into Kentucky there are few evidences of change, except that already noted of the 1935 pioneers. Some years are harder than others, that is all. The problems of government, all the dark prophecies and statistics of woe, the tragic music of travail, disappear in a Beethoven symphony of hope and final triumph.

Blessings in the Bible Belt.

The years of drouth have given way to rain. The earth is ready for turning again. That is enough. That and the face of the old rugged cliffs and the story of the "old rugged Cross."

This, it may be recalled, has been referred to as "the Bible belt." Next to the independent spirit of the people, and their humanitarianism, and perhaps mixed with these, is the religious spirit. Outwardly it has rather poor and pathethic aspects, in plain little board churches set infrequently in the hills and served by circuit riding preachers.

But a journey which began one Sunday morning in front of a little white church in St. James, Mo., where the people had gathered to wait for the preacher to come on the bus, and which ended at Lincoln's birthplace, could not fail to feel the intimate and real religious life of the mountain people. "Preachin' Bill" is a familiar figure in many communities. Like the keen mountain air, sunlight, water and rain, is the need of this religion, the feel of it. There is the need of "grace," the promise of redemption, the city of glory to come.

"O, Saul, it shall be a Face like my face that receives thee; a man like to me: a Hand like this hand shall throw open the gates of new life to thee! See the Christ stand!"

The Lincoln Cabin.

When Lincoln's mother was dying she said:

"I am going away from you, Abraham and I shall not return. I know you will be a good boy, that you will be kind to Sarah and your father. I want you to live as I have taught you and to love your heavenly Father."

The cabin stands there still, the 12 by 17 room where Abraham was born. The smell of new mown hay comes in the door. The spring wells up over the rocks at the foot of the little hill. The white oak that marked the boundary of the Lincoln place is late in putting on its summer finery, but the greens of maple and elm mingle with the cedars and the white of the spring blooms. A farm house bell rings for dinner across the fields. The cardinal sings nearby.

A Symbol of America.

This shrine is greater than the memorial at Washington, greater than Westminster Abbey or Notre Dame, the Taj Mahal or the mosque at old Delhi where the red hair of Mohammed is treasured, along with the sandals in which he strode the highways. For it symbolizes the American dream of the common man, greatness of soul forged in rude necessity, and the Christ belief in human personality.

"When I came of age," wrote Lincoln long afterward, when his trail had led him through Indiana, his youth on the Sangamon, and the battles of the Illinois circuits toward the Wigwam in Chicago and the presidency, "I did not know much. Still, somehow, I could read, write and cipher to the rule of three; but that was all. The little advance I now have upon this store of education, I have picked up from time to time under the pressure of necessity."

TRAINED OR NO, THOSE WOODS TWINS DO PUT ON QUITE A CIRCUS

New York, April 30.—(AP)—Johnny and Jimmie Woods, the psychological twins, kept radio station WHN in turmoil for 25 minutes tonight as they demonstrated the nonscientific fact that 3 year old boys can get into a lot of mischief.

Johnny, the youngster who had psychological training at Columbia medical center from his 20th day, and Jimmie, the brother who was brought up like an ordinary baby, squirmed and twisted, audibly asked "What's 'at?" slammed around a property drum, banged the piano, and threatened to wind up with a big xylophone medley.

The high point of the twins' interview came when the announcer gathered up Johnny and asked him if he would say, "Hello Uncle Jean" into the microphone. Johnny quite literally answered, "hello Uncle Jean into the microphone."

"DRIVE ALL JEWS FROM GERMANY," NAZI CHIEF URGES

Blames Hebrews for 1919 Munich Red Revolt.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MUNICH, Germany, April 30.—"We must drive all the Jews out of Germany," Dr. Springer, the propaganda chief of the Bavarian Nazis, declared today at a memorial service held for ten hostages killed during the Red revolt in Munich in 1919.

Springer accused the Jews of being responsible for bloodshed during the revolt.

"The Germans were killed by the order of world Jewry, and therefore no one should be astonished if we want to drive men of this race from Germany," he said.

Placard Jewish Shops.

This morning all Jewish shops were placarded with stickers reading, "Jews are our misfortune. Perish the Jews."

When Jews emerged this noon from the museum of Halle, where they had listened to a scientific lecture of the Jewish "kultur bund," they found the building placarded with anti-Jewish posters. Thirty Nazis in uniforms yelled invectives at them.

A prominent Jewish lawyer and a Jewish professor at Munich university tore off some of the posters, whereupon students seized them and turned them over to the secret police which registered charges against the pair and then released them.

Streicher Tells of World League.

Julius Streicher, anti-Jewish Nazi leader, speaking at preliminary May day celebrations in Nuremberg, announced the creation of a "world league to combat Jewish domination."

He said that the French leader of veterans, Jean Boissel, who is visiting in Germany, has been won to Naziism. Boissel lectured in Berlin in a French uniform on "Franco-German understanding," and described Rudolf Hess, deputy leader of the Nazi party, and Gen. Hermann Wilhelm Goering, premier of Prussia and reichsminister of air, as the "best, most valuable and greatest of war comrades among German soldiers."

This aroused Nazi hope that the French veterans will coöperate with them, and use their influence on the French government.

STAVISKY WIDOW LET OUT OF JAIL PENDING TRIAL

PARIS, April 30.—(AP)—Mme. Arlette Stavisky, widow of Serge "Handsome Alex" Stavisky, the late big time French swindler, today was granted her provisional liberty after more than a year in jail.

Her release was in answer to several requests which she made on the grounds that the charges against her in connection with her husband's operations were not serious enough to keep her in prison while awaiting trial. She is charged with complicity in fraud and receiving and concealing stolen property.

Mme. Stavisky said she intended to rejoin her children immediately. During her imprisonment, she was permitted to see them regularly at a hospital to which she was taken from the jail in order that the children would be kept in ignorance of their mother's imprisonment.

ZION PROTOCOLS AUTHENTIC, SAYS GERMAN OFFICER

Attacks Jews at Swiss Trial of Nazis.

BERNE, Switzerland, April 30.—(AP)—Ulrich Fleischauer presented in court today a 600-word report maintaining that "the protocols of the elders of Zion," which purport to disclose Jewish plans for world domination, are authentic instead of a slander on Jewry.

The German reserve officer was testifying for the Swiss Nazis on trial for slander by circulation of the documents. His testimony was intended to combat that of M. Baumgertner, the prosecution expert, who testified yesterday that the protocols were "obviously false." His report was admitted in evidence.

Fleischauer protested against a letter sent to the tribunal by Dr. C. A. Loosli, one of the experts appointed by the court, in which Loosli asserted Fleischauer's presence at the trial would only produce "disorder."

Threatens to Sue Loosli.

The defense witness threatened to sue Dr. Loosli at the conclusion of the trial. He expressed appreciation for Baumgertner's knowledge, but contended he was prejudiced.

Fleischauer then attacked the value of articles written by Count Chaila in 1921, in which Chaila said he saw the "originals" of the protocols of Zion in Paris.

The articles said that on the cover of the Paris documents was a big ink spot just as described by Princess Radziwil as being on the "protocols." The Count's article attributed to the princess the statement that she saw the "protocols" in the hands of M. Golowynski, collaborator of Gen. Rachowsky, supposed to have been the head of the late czar's secret police in Paris and one of those charged by the prosecution with forging the documents.

Refers To The Talmud.

Fleischauer amplified his contention that Jews were seeking to expand their influence in world affairs by asserting that air pacts directed against Germany and the Kellogg peace pact were the "product of Jewish brains."

He attempted to prove through the introduction of several studies of the Hebrew book of laws that "the Talmud, if it does not order Jews directly to kill Christians, does not absolutely forbid them."

Fleischauer asserted that all light should be thrown on Jewish influence in the world.

"This is the duty of all racist circles," he said. "We racists are opposed to all imperialism, but the liberal epoch is in decadence. We wish to give the Jews their homeland and it is up to them to show good will."

APRIL COOLEST SINCE 1926; RAIN FOR YEAR SHORT

Forecaster C. A. Donnel closed his April books last night and found it was the coolest April since 1926. The average mean temperature of 44 degrees was 3 degrees below normal. April's mean temperature in 1926 was 42.

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

● COOL IN SUMMER — Kaye Don, noted British sportsman and speed king, assisted official observers in tests (sanctioned and supervised by American Automobile Association) beneath blazing tropical sun at Key West—375 miles farther south than Cairo, Egypt—that conclusively proved the "Turret Top" Body by Fisher can be depended upon for maximum coolness in even most torrid weather. To insure reliable comparative data the identical tests also were made on cars with the conventional type roof construction

Here is the newest, the smartest style in lower priced cars—the brilliantly beautiful, handsomely appointed Master De Luxe Chevrolet. Crowning its beauty—and the first feature, of course, to catch admiring eyes—is the sweeping smoothness of roof line which identifies its solid-steel "Turret Top" Body by Fisher

IN THE SAFEST, SMARTEST, MOST COMFORTABLE MOTOR CAR BODY IN THE WORLD—THE

"Turret Top"★

BODY by FISHER

YOU'VE seen how it looks. The stunning new Chevrolet (Master De Luxe series), Pontiac, Oldsmobile and La Salle closed cars are parading it proudly everywhere.

It has beauty that even the lazy eye can not miss — beauty of unbroken roof line and flowing contour, to crown and complete the smooth streamlining of 1935 design.

It has safety — the safety of solid seamless steel overhead — steel braced with steel, arched and formed like the battleship turret from which it takes its name.

And it has comfort of a new and desirable kind — a warmth in winter, a coolness in summer, an insulated quiet sturdy strength to serve you the whole year round.

Modern, for Modern Needs

But it offers far more than safety alone. That great single-sheet of solid steel in the roof—itself a remarkable production achievement—stiffens and reinforces the whole structure of the car.

The side and rear panels of steel—even the windshield pillars—are joined with and welded to it; the whole body becomes one single unit of steel.

Even the corners in the "Turret Top" Body by Fisher are scientifically rounded—not alone for the sake of pleasing appearance and to reduce wind resistance and noise—but because this employment of the principles of sphere construction enables the very maximum of over-all rigidity and strength.

PONTIAC · CHEVROLET · BODY by FISHER · LA SALLE · OLDSMOBILE

Tests Prove Every Feature

We've tested these bodies and their insulated protection against extremes of heat and cold in zero-chill winter weather and under the blazing sub-tropical sun of Key West, Florida.

Every test confirms the towering advantages in strength, safety, ruggedness, durability, beauty and comfort of this outstanding advance in motor car body construction.

And in addition to all the other advantages, the solid steel "Turret Top" Body by Fisher continues to present in improved and perfected form that other great contribution to motoring health and comfort, Fisher No Draft Ventilation.

AIR ROUTE OVER ATLANTIC WAITS NOW ON BACKING

Technical Job Done, Says Engineer Sikorsky.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Bridgeport, Conn., April 30.—[Special.]—The establishment of regular flying service across the Atlantic ocean between the United States and Europe now awaits only the enterprise of American business, Igor Sikorsky, noted designer and builder of seaplanes, declared today.

In the Sikorsky plant here, two great flying boats similar to the Clipper which recently inaugurated service between California and Hawaii are under construction. Seven hundred men are working in day and night shifts on these ships and others designed for ocean travel.

In the engineering department of this busy factory lie plans for larger ships which are expected to make nonstop flights across the Atlantic. Mr. Sikorsky is confident that trans-Atlantic service will be an early reality.

Up to U. S. Business Men.

"It is the job of the business man to have such service become a fact," he said.

There are no ships actually under construction which are designed for United States-European service. But aviation experts, prepared for such service which they believe to be inevitable in the near future, have completed all the preliminary research necessary, Mr. Sikorsky revealed.

"There has been some talk about stormy weather over the Atlantic ocean hindering the inauguration of trans-Atlantic flying service," he admitted, "but I do not think that weather conditions over the Atlantic offer any serious difficulties at present. Despite popular opinion to the contrary, the Atlantic offers no more storm problems than the Pacific, and the California-Hawaii flight of the Clipper has demonstrated that regular service on the Pacific over long gaps is entirely feasible."

Foresees Bigger Ships.

The plane manufacturer said he believed that ships designed for trans-Atlantic service should be larger than the Clipper which made the round trip between California and Hawaii.

"While the Hawaiian Clipper is perfectly suitable for the carriage of passengers and mail across the Atlantic," he remarked, "with stops at Bermuda and the Azores, a larger ship would accomplish the same flight nonstop."

If such a route were made possible, however, the flying boat would have approximately 400 miles less to travel in any single hop than on the California-Hawaii flight, Mr. Sikorsky pointed out.

3,900 Mile Route.

The approximate distance between New York and Bermuda is 800 miles. The overwater flight between Bermuda and the Azores is 2,000 miles, 400 miles less than the distance between California and Hawaii. From the Azores to Europe is approximately 1,100 miles.

"A ship flying such a route would be able to carry about 2,000 pounds extra pay load in comparison with the Hawaiian flight," Mr. Sikorsky said.

A ship to accomplish the nonstop flight should be between 60,000 and 70,000 pounds gross weight, he said, some 75 or 80 per cent more than the present largest Sikorsky Clipper. It would carry sixteen passengers and be four engined, like the Hawaiian ship.

"Such a ship," he explained, "would make the Atlantic flight in about 24 hours. It would be necessary to have a double crew. You can not expect men to work 24 hours consecutively."

Shows Revenue Figures.

The great amount of fuel necessary for a nonstop flight to Europe enforces a passenger capacity which seems small in comparison with the size and power of such a ship, Mr. Sikorsky remarked.

"But it may be surprising to point out the revenue possibilities of a tran-Atlantic flying service," he said. "The present Clippers cost about a quarter of a million dollars. This much larger ship could be built for half a million or less.

"Let us say that the passenger fare would be $500, not an extravagant charge in view of the saving in time, Assume that all the sixteen seats are occupied on each trip, not an unreasonable assumption. Occupancy is usually about 60 per cent, but there will be a large amount of express and mail matter carried on these ships with a substantial revenue.

"The gross revenue on each trip would be $8,000 and the ship would easily make three trips a week, eventually more. That means a gross income of $100,000 a month. It is too early to discuss all the expenses involved, but it is apparent that such a ship might gross its initial cost in half a year. No ocean steamer ever paid its initial cost in less than two or three years."

FRANCE REVEALS PLANS FOR AIR LINE TO AMERICA

PARIS, April 30.—(AP)—Gen. Victor Denain, aviation minister, today revealed plans for a France-to-America air line by way of the Azores and Bermuda, which he said he expected to be completed within three or four years.

"Our military preparations," said Denain, "are not making us forget the question of commercial aviation. Our mission to the United States was well received and a new mission soon will leave for the Azores."

ITALY LASHES AT BIG NAZI NAVY AS 'OPEN DEFIANCE'

Claims Hitler Has Ignored Warnings; Nation Stirred

ROME, April 30.—(AP)—A government spokesman said today Germany's disclosure of plans greatly to increase her navy during 1935-'36 constitutes "open defiance" of the warnings issued to her at the Stresa three power conference and the meeting of the league council at Geneva.

He declined to say, however, just what Italy's position in the face of this new development would be, asserting Benito Mussolini himself must decide that.

Meanwhile the German naval program as revealed in the authoritative newspaper Giornale d'Italia stirred the Italian public, and the comment was often heard that Germany's point by point destruction of the Versailles treaty leads inevitably to conflict.

The newspaper said the reich's naval plans for 1935-'36 were not limited to the 12 submarines announced in Berlin and London dispatches, but embraced also construction of two 20,000 ton cruisers, two 10,000 ton cruisers, one 6,000 ton cruiser, 16 torpedo boats of 1,400 tons each, and ten escort ships of 800 tons each.

The new tonnage would almost triple Germany's naval tonnage, the newspaper said, by giving the Nazis a tonnage of 166,000 plus an unknown number of submarines.

Italian Figures Called Too Low.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 1. [Wednesday.]—Startling revelations of Germany's new naval shipbuilding plans were published in the Daily Telegraph today. The disclosures in yesterday's Italian newspaper, Giornale d'Italia, that Reichfuehrer Adolf Hitler intends to build a new fleet of 96,000 tons within the next two years is regarded as an understatement in British naval circles.

The total fleet as planned will, according to the Telegraph, exceed the Italian expectations by at least 15,000 tons. The program is likely to include two battleships of 27,000 tons each, cruisers of 10,000 tons, instead of the present 6,000 tons, and destroyers of 1,400 tons, the paper said.

As for submarines, the view is held that Germany eventually will build large vessels of the "U-Kreuzer" type, besides smaller boats. The surface displacement of the first twelve German submersibles were given as 250 tons, the speed, seventeen knots, and the cruising radius at low speed is 4,000 miles. Diesel engines of a new featherweight type and the hulls are already under construction, it was stated. It is expected that all twelve boats will be in service by this autumn.

The British government has been given to understand that Germany's naval aim is to achieve security in the Baltic, and it is understood that in the forthcoming Anglo-German naval talks, which are not expected to be held until after May 15, the reich delegates will stress the alleged production of 40 submarines by Russia in the last two years.

France to Keep on Arming.

PARIS, April 30.—(AP)—The intention of France to go ahead with its own armaments program as the best answer to Germany's rearmament was indicated today by Finance Minister Louis Germain-Martin's announcement of a new "budget relief policy."

The finance minister indicated that economy slashes in nonmilitary items had been contemplated since Premier Pierre-Etienne Flandin is determined to keep the franc safe from devaluation.

Great Britain and France, faithful to the united front recently formed at Stresa, Italy, were understood to have considered today what to do about the new submarine problem presented by the reich, during the call of the British ambassador upon foreign minister Pierre Laval.

While Victor Denain, air minister, was planning negotiations for a Franco-Italian and general air pacts at Rome, the cabinet again was balked at a final wording of the Franco-Russian mutual assistance pact. A new draft was finally submitted for soviet approval.

The air ministry meanwhile called for the recruiting of trained aviation machine gunners, radio operators, and mechanics to fill vacancies at the Dugny military air base. Another defense measure was seen in the announcement by Emile Cassez, minister of agriculture, that the army is absorbing some of the wheat surplus and pushing the price up.

Hitler To Keep Plans Secret.

BERLIN, April 30.—(AP)—Adolf Hitler was believed in competent quarters tonight to be planning to use Germany's naval rearmament to keep him in the "driver's seat" in arms negotiations with other powers.

It was thus these quarters explained the continued official secrecy concerning the extent of the reich's plans for naval construction, and the reiterated official denials that submarines actually have been constructed.

The fuehrer, commentators said, is approaching the scheduled Anglo-German naval conversations reluctantly, and he may even seek to postpone them again and again on one pretext or another until some hitherto undisclosed demand is met.

BRITAIN TO ESTABLISH AN EMPIRE AIR FORCE OF DOMINION PILOTS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 30.—The British government has decided to form a Royal Empire air force apart from, though closely connected with, the present Royal Air force. This new force would be permanently stationed in the United Kingdom and would be composed of two squadrons from each of the air forces of the self-governing dominions and India—the latter piloted by native Indian officers.

All these pilots would spend two years in Great Britain to accustom themselves to the local atmosphere and visibility of the north. While overseas squadrons would be stationed here, their places in the dominions would be taken by squadrons from England, which would similarly benefit by two years of local experience.

The official viewpoint is that flying conditions are so varied in the southern, eastern, and trans-Atlantic territories of the empire that in event of war overseas pilots coming to serve in Europe would be at a disadvantage.

Bishop Cannon Admitted to Hospital After Fall

Washington, D. C., April 30.—(AP)—Bishop James Cannon Jr. of the Southern Methodist church was admitted to Sibley hospital here today for treatment of a bruised elbow and strained arm. The churchman had just arrived from California to begin a speaking tour of the east and south. He informed hospital attachés the injuries were incurred Sunday a week ago when he slipped and fell in his hotel room in San Francisco.

Names 4 Women in Mail Fraud on 270,000.

The federal grand jury indicted thirty-nine men and four women yesterday on charges of using the mails to defraud 270,000 persons in the United States through the threadbare Sir Francis Drake estate swindle. The defendants are alleged to have sold shares in the mythical estate and to have obtained more than $1,000,000, most of which was mailed to offices in Chicago and Sioux City, Ia.

Among the defendants are Oscar M. Hartzell, a former Iowa farmer now serving a ten year sentence in Leavenworth penitentiary for his part in the Sioux City frauds; his brother, Canfield Hartzell, who is held in New York City for removal to Chicago, and Otto Yant, 50 years old, formerly an Iowa banker. Yant was arrested here with Dellmar Short, Lester Ohmart, James H. Hauber, and James F. Kirkendahl, all named in the bill.

Seize $33,000 in Currency.

According to government prosecutors these men were the ringleaders in the scheme. Recently police raided their offices and living quarters at 844 Rush street and 616 Rush street and found there a total of $21,000. While the raiders were in the rooms an American Express company messenger delivered a package containing $12,000, which was seized.

The others named in the indictment which was returned before Federal Judge John P. Barnes were agents for the Hartzells, working on commission in small towns throughout Illinois, Iowa, Texas, the Dakotas, Wisconsin, and other states.

Oscar Hartzell, the prosecutors said, posed as an agent for the "English chancellors' secret court," and asserted that he had found a direct descendant and heir of Sir Francis Drake. Hartzell represented that this heir had sold him all rights to the [nonexistent] Drake estate. Hartzell asserted that the estate amounted to 15 or 20 billion dollars.

Effect of Hartzell's Sentence.

The sale of shares in this tremendous fortune did not stop with the indictment and conviction of Hartzell in Iowa. The other defendants, the prosecutors stated, simply informed prospects that the government had taken over Hartzell's business and was conducting it for him.

The blanket indictment contains eighteen counts, among them one charging conspiracy. One of the paragraphs of the indictment states that a stock representation by the defendants was: "The settlement of the estate would have been made sooner if Hoover had been reëlected, because new government leaders under President Roosevelt were unfamiliar with Hartzell's work and had to be informed."

Another statement constantly made by the salesmen was: "Hartzell cannot tell any details about his discovery of the Drake heir, because he is bound by the rule of secrecy of the English courts."

"The Newspaper is an institution developed by modern civilization to present the news of the day, to foster commerce and industry, to inform and lead public opinion, and to furnish that check upon government which no constitution has ever been able to provide."—Chicago Tribune.

TWO YEARS AFTER.

Twenty million people in the United States are in need. That figure is accepted by the federal government and by economists generally as the aggregate. Their need is the same now that it was over two years ago when the present administration undertook to supply it and did so with the assertion that no real effort theretofore had been made to give the people what they must have. The need is the same now as a year ago, at which time it had been prophesied that following the application of the remedies the need would have ceased to exist.

In behalf of these twenty millions still in need the President has again confidently addressed himself to the American people, certain again that the remedies proposed by the government require only another year to take effect.

What the twenty millions need are the common articles of use and consumption. They need food, fuel, shoes, and clothes. They need the wherewithal to keep the body sustained and clothed, warmed, and under cover. They need what the government has been destroying and restricting. They need what it has been decreasing in quantity and enhancing in value. They do not need public works, however valuable in prosperous times these works might be to communities.

Principles of economy which might have prevailed, which have prevailed in other times, would have recognized that when many people are in need of many articles the object of recovery should be the production of these articles at prices which permit their sale and use. What is called price economy may be a hair shirt to the people who wear it, but experience has proved that it earns a softer shirt. Price economy requires work and production. It does not permit a depression to be countered by shorter hours and higher prices. It does not relieve the want by destroying and restricting the articles of which the needy are deprived, or by restricting the effort which goes into their production, or by artificially raising the prices at which they are to be obtained.

The New Deal has done all these things prohibited in the price economy and it has done so for over two years. Congress is still granting the acts of authority by which the administration restricts the production of materials most needed, decreases the hours available for their production, and raises the prices of what all the people, dependent or independent, need most. It diverts the capital and the energy of the country into works for which there is no immediate, if a future, need in the apparent hope that by substituting what at best would be called discretionary enterprise for what must be regarded as imperative the general welfare will be promoted.

Two years ago the promise was that by now all the results would be in hand, the employable would be employed, the needy would have their needs satisfied, and the nation would be in its normal stride. The present condition of the country speaks for itself. If price economy has had an even break any place in the affairs of the nation it has been in the automobile industry, in which there was the most successful resistance of the planned economy. The automobile makers, although assailed by the government for months as public enemies, although threatened with prosecution and the closing of their plants, were successful in retaining a large degree of independence. They conducted their business upon the principle of attracting sales by improving the product and lowering the price. In consequence this industry leads the country in the index of employment, the consumption of materials, and the volume of sales.

The cotton industry, from the field to the textile mills, was the one most subdued, taken over, and plowed under by the planned economy. It is now on the lowest level of American production, raided from the growing field to the mill by forces it is unable to withstand, losing its domestic and foreign markets, with its mills closing and its fields plowed under, while foreign fields and foreign mills are bringing their products to this country. The planned society has had its way with cotton. Price economy had its way with the automobile industry. The curious citizen may compare the results.

We believe the United States will come out of this depression. We know it will. It will emerge in spite of the mistaken policies which have been adopted to prolong the hard times. Men in Washington, just as men in Moscow, have decided that their opinions are the laws of economy. In Moscow it was determined to take one horse out and put another in. The comrades have discovered that their new horse will not pull the load. They have been going back to the old one, as they found they had to if they were to survive. In Washington it was first decided to hitch two horses together, price economy alongside planned economy. They pulled apart, as they might have been expected to pull apart. It is now decided to put one on top of the other.

The planned economy must be put in the saddle and price economy must carry it. It will be done, because so long as the present ideas prevail it must be done. The road will be ten times as long and many times as uneven. The burdened horse will stumble, groan and falter so long as he must carry the burden of a useless horse which is viewing the scenery and doing all the neighing.

The truth is the depression has become a political asset. Government would not know how to do without it and it will be prolonged until its political benefits have been entirely extracted from it. The road is hard, but this nation is not ready to decay and expire. It will make the grade, but in spite of its present government.

DEFENDERS OF THE REPUBLIC.

Although the enemies of American institutions and the proponents of destructive schemes are in the foreground of publicity these days, there is proceeding a quiet organization of American character and intelligence for the defense of the American order and of civilization in this country. We refer to the Crusaders, the National Civic federation, the National Security league, the Paul Reveres, the Sentinels of the Republic, the American Liberty league, the Constitutional Protective union, with many others, general and local in organization and scope of influence. Collectively they represent a formidable and increasing power of stalwart citizenship determined to save our country from the impending doom of political, social, and economic chaos and the tyranny which it has always compelled.

The great number of these defensive organizations is not only characteristic of the American democracy in action, but highly desirable. We must have as many such associations as the spreading and deepening concern at the peril to order, justice, and American institutions is spontaneously creating, for we must have room for every one who wishes to give his or her services to the cause. But it is also desirable that there be coöperation among these defenders through a central coördinating body, to which each organization should appoint a delegate. In the variety of organization there is vitality and enterprise, while in union there is strength.

NEW YORK'S FORTY FOOT CHANNEL.

"The army engineers' dipper dredge Hellgate will begin work immediately on the removal of shoals off piers 63 and 92. The work is expected to be completed in time for the arrival of the new French liner Normandie, due in New York on its maiden trip early in June."—Gotham news item.

There is something pathetically colonial in this announcement. America is still open to foreign exploitation and prepares a welcome for this new competitor for her wealth. In us it inspires a feeling of impatience with the American shipbuilding industry. The Normandie is large—apparently too large for our facilities. Fast, too. That is, in comparison with present standards, but thirty-two miles per hour is not impressive. Luxurious? Yes, but service standards certainly are below those of the Pullman company. Finally, if the vessel is a financial success American tourists will provide the profit.

The United States sets the pace in all other forms of transport. Nearly 90 per cent of the world's automobiles and certainly the premier standards of all cars are of American origin. Its air supremacy is unquestioned and planes of American make are sought for European services. Our railways are unequaled and equipment standards universal. If we fail in shipbuilding and operation it is not because foreign ships are efficient, fireproof, or unsinkable. They are prototypes of other European forms of transport.

There is room for the United States to build and operate vessels along twentieth century lines, displaying the same superiority as railroads, air lines, and automotive transport. It is the awakening of latent energy and ingenuity in the shipbuilding field that is needed to provide an American merchant marine—not subsidies.

CITY FOLK FORESTERS.

The adipose gentleman and the lady in the bathing suit who posed for the "Do not pick the wild flowers" sign nailed upon a tree in the forest preserve know their flowers better than their trees. Driving nails into trees is as destructive as picking wild flowers. Nature is grand. For pity's sake, leave her alone.

UNBURYING THE PAST.

[New York Sun.]

Domestic customs of revolutionary times are revealed through the relics being uncovered by the spades of fifty Civilian Conservation corps workers in the Jockey Hollow National Historical park at Morristown, N. J. The relics show that the American farm family of the 1770s used two pronged forks and spoons with pewter bowls and iron handles. Their knives had blades ending in a sweeping curve, apparently that in cutting meat they could be held either horizontally or vertically. Old guns, candlestick holders, and doorstops have been discovered.

During the 1934 season many relics, rich in reminiscences of the colonial and revolutionary periods, were dug up on the property of Fort Ticonderoga and added to the museum collection. A manuscript orderly book of the First New York regiment is one of the acquisitions; others are an American lancer's hat of 1820, a collection of pioneer relics, and a French tomahawk of the type carried by all soldiers and coureurs de bois during the French and Indian war and the revolution. The semi-annual report of the museum shows that in 1934 the fort was visited by over 75,000 persons; they came from every state in the Union and from twenty-seven foreign countries. In numbers the visitors last year increased 34 per cent over those of the previous season.

Excavations on the upland portion of Jamestown Island, Va., preparatory to the development of a restored area as part of the Colonial National Monument, have already yielded rich rewards in relics. They include shovels, fire tongs, fire backs, jugs, pottery, and pipes. Systematic records of all articles unearthed will be made. The first excavations revealed the ruins of a foundation which lay partly under the road leading across the island to the Old Church tower. Supt. Flickinger suggests that it was the foundation of a public building. It may be the remains of the second statehouse, the site of which has hitherto baffled historians.

MOVING DAY IN WASHINGTON.

Washington, D. C., May 1.—[Stop Press Radio.]—It will be a busy day among the bureaus in Washington today. May moving means a great deal of hard labor. Alphabets have to be crated in all those government departments that are shifting their quarters or moving into much needed larger buildings. The work started last night and already many tons of alphabetical letters have been hauled from one place to another. There was terrible dismay shortly after midnight as it was reported that fifteen trucks of "N's" had sloughed off the bridge and plunged into the Potomac. Of course, that would tie up government projects indefinitely, as it would hamstring NRA, TNA, NLB, and a half hundred other brain truster organizations. The trucks were finally found parked under the trees near the capitol while the drivers were in restaurants eating hot dogs. The "A's" and the "C's" and "E's" were also reported lost, and so as not to hold up the work of AAAA, FERA, ACC, CCC, FCA, CWA, SAB, SRC, FACA, and a lot of other alphabet organizations, five hundred carpenters, woodworkers, and artists were set to work sawing out and painting thousands of new alphabets. However, the missing chunks of the alphabets were found blockaded in a side street and the brain trust went back to sleep again.

LESSON.

Ah, that this had not begun
So that it need not have ended;
But day's hands loosen the sun
Willingly, day's lips send it
Placidly into the night.
I wonder if long ago
When the sun was so newly bright
Before the day grew to know
That it would return on the morrow,
I wonder if then the day,
Without grasping and sorrow

Open, oh hands which would hold each
Hour, give them up to the past.
Let the old wisdom of day teach
That suns were not meant to be grasped.

P. S. McDonald.

IT'S MAY DAY TODAY! And how times have changed. Once the merry peasantry danced on the village green around the Maypole and crowned a lovely simple maiden as May Queen. Now there are still May Queens crowned here and there, but there are so many state queens and city queens and apple queens and peach queens and cabbage queens and corn queens and strawberry queens and orange queens and onion queens that nobody pays much attention to the May queens. Nobody dances around the Maypole any more, but in the park you may see barelegged maidens skipping like lame kangaroos over the grass, but they are not celebrating May day; they are getting money for their convulsions from the government as a part of the work relief appropriations. Worried men may be seen dancing, but not on the village green. They are dancing around the moving trucks for fear the drivers may be a little careless and let the truck down hard in some broken place in the road and break all the gin, Scotch, and rum bottles. There's nothing more tragic in all the great wide world than to see a moving van leaking. To make sure, the householder often insures against such a tragedy by putting all the hootch in a suitcase and carrying it personally to the new house. And then on the corner he meets old Hi Spriggins that he hasn't seen for three years and Hi gives a howl of delight and rushes up with his hand stretched out for a good old handshake, and the careful householder drops the suitcase on the sidewalk and—CRASH! there goes a lot of good hootch. May day isn't as full of unalloyed joy as it used to be. Dancing on the village green was one thing and packing up the household stuff and moving it and unpacking is something else again.

MOON SONNETS.

IV.

The Earth I serve at night has Life, whereof
I know so little, Death I know so well,
And something else that casts a subtle spell
How often have I paused and stooped above
To shed my softest beams and hear them tell—
I, Luna, their inconstant sentinel—
Fond tales, their love and constancy to prove!

Less weary grows my task; I send them dreams,
Those mundane lovers, protégés of mine,
Moonlight and Love that merge and intertwine.
And Life and Death no longer do I loathe,
Knowing that Love makes full amends for both.

THE WISE MEN of the Smithsonian Institution down in Washington announce with great solemnity that there never was such a thing in all America as an Indian chief. They say the Indians were true Anarchists and conferred on no man the power to rule over them, but were willing to follow their greatest warriors. Well, if Powhatan and Tecumseh and Pontiac and Blackhawk and Sitting Bull and Rain-in-the-Face and Geronimo weren't Indian chiefs then the great scientists down at Washington are bullfinches singing in the maple trees. Or do bullfinches sing in maple trees? Anyhow, the Indian gentlemen just named seemed to have everything we can think of as belonging to leadership and authority. It's too bad some of those great chiefs aren't alive now. I'd like to see one of those Smithsonian wiseacres walk up to Sitting Bull or Geronimo and say: "You're no chief; you're just a big hunk of cheese." There'd be another scalp drying at the top of the wigwam.

AND THERE'S NOTHING so complacent and smug in the great wide world as the family that isn't moving looking down into the street at the family that is moving and saying: "O, the poor things have to move. Isn't it too bad! And mercy, what horrible furniture they've got!" R. H. L.

CHILD HEALTH DAY. THE NEW BORN BABE.

A NEW born babe is a marvelous creation. There he lies, an hour or two after birth, bathed and oiled, asleep in his crib. Of course he is the very image of mother, or grandfather, or Uncle George, and why shouldn't he be? He has within him descendants of the germ cells of countless ancestors, with four grandparents, eight great-grandparents, sixteen great-great-grandparents, and so on. Some—we hope all—of his forbears have given him clean, virile cells, for his future is influenced in large measure by his heredity. But what a load he must carry—all those ancestors with their varying traits of character. Perhaps generosity will defeat greed and avarice, alertness contend with stupidity, or honor be pitted against sly shrewdness.

Of course the baby must live, and everything that circumstances will permit should be done to help him start up the ladder of growth. Great care is necessary as, of 100 babies born alive, only 91 will be living at the end of the first two weeks. This rather high death rate is due to many causes. Infants may be underweight at birth, or premature, or sufficient care may not have been taken to keep the baby warm.

Immediately after birth most babies will cry, for as soon as the skin comes into contact with the outside air a stimulus to the muscles of breathing is set up. When this does not occur it may be that some powerful narcotic used with the mother has affected the infant, in which case artificial respiration may be necessary. Occasionally infants will have "blue spells," when the skin will vary in color from dark blue to dusky red. In such cases oxygen and carbon dioxide are of the greatest value.

The initial bath is given with the room at a fairly high temperature. Care must be taken to use a pure soap, one that contains no free alkali. After thoroughly cleansing the skin the body is gently rubbed with sterile olive oil. Thereafter, until the baby is two or more weeks of age, water is not again used on the skin, sterile olive oil being employed for cleansing purposes. The temperature of the bath water must be approximately 100 degrees F., and the water should be boiled first and allowed to cool before being used. If the room temperature is below 85 to 90 degrees F. bathing should be conducted under a blanket, care being taken not to wet the blanket and thus cool the baby's skin.

If the baby is weak or underweight we must make certain that he receives plenty of fluid. For this purpose sterile water [boiled and cooled] or a solution of glucose or corn sirup may be used. This is prepared by adding a teaspoonful of glucose to four to six ounces of water. This may be followed by food. The mother's breasts may be pumped and the milk diluted half and half with sterile water, gradually increasing the milk ratio until the baby is taking breast milk at full strength.

Infants may show a tendency to vomit food and liquids. If this is excessive, feeding must follow each vomiting period to make certain that sufficient water is retained. If the vomiting is forceful and a considerable quantity of food is thrown out, some sedative may be required to give the baby what it apparently needs most, namely, rest.

The importance of clothing is readily understood when one realizes that the temperature of the infant's body must be maintained at normal or above. However, in extremely hot weather most children are overclothed, that is, there is too little radiation from the infant's body, and many a summer illness may be traced to overclothing as well as to overfeeding.

During the first months of life even very young infants should spend as much time as possible out of doors. This does not mean that the child must be in a baby carriage. An upstairs porch is suitable, or the baby may be thoroughly wrapped and placed close to an open window inside the house.

SCIATICA.

J. H. N. writes: Recently I read an article of yours concerning sciatica and its treatment by physiotherapy. I have just been cured of an acute attack by this treatment. My physician told me that few people knew anything about this method, and I was forced to admit that I did not have the slightest idea what the word meant until I was advised by a hospital to try it. Since taking the treatments I have had to explain to my friends what it was all about.

REPLY.

Physicians have long recognized the value of physical forces in the treatment of disease. So much quackery, however, has attended the use of heat, electricity, light, and massage that in many quarters the several procedures have fallen into disrepute. The American Medical association now has a committee that passes upon standard types of equipment and the results of their use. Many medical schools give courses of instruction in the applications of physiotherapy.

AFTER EFFECTS OF POISON.

A. D. S. writes: About four years ago I took by mistake 3 bichloride of mercury tablets. I was in the hospital about 10 days. Evidently my kidneys were not badly affected, but my stomach was burned. As I got better two places like large burns formed on the outside of the rectum. In about a month I seemed to be entirely well, but now I am having severe pains in the abdomen and seem quite weak.

REPLY.

Bichloride of mercury not only affects the kidneys but causes disturbance of the mucous membrane along the gastrointestinal tract. Ulcerations form and bleeding occurs from these raw surfaces. Evidently you made a satisfactory recovery, but you should use a bland diet with a considerable amount of mucin and agar. Strictures sometimes occur if the ulceration has been extensive. Keep in touch with your physician.

STRAINED BACK.

Mrs. R. B. writes: About a year ago I hurt my back so that I was hardly able to walk. The physician said it was strained ligaments. I have had heat and massage treatments but am still troubled. Is it curable? Would you advise the new method of raising the body temperature?

REPLY.

The injury was probably due to a strain of the sacroiliac joint. This is exceedingly slow in healing and heat and rest are the best remedies.

JUDGMENT NOTE.

Edwardsville, Ill., April 26.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I have the following from an attorney in another county of this state: "Beg to advise that on Dec. 13, 1933, a judgment was taken by confession on a judgment note signed by you. This judgment has been drawing interest at 5 per cent since its date, and an execution is in the hands of the sherif of this county, and holder of note has asked me to place an execution with the sherif of your county in order to collect judgment." 1. What is the meaning of "confession on a judgment note"? 2. Is there any reason for my not having any advance information as to what was or would be done, and why no notice from December, 1933, until January, 1935, of what had been done, was given to me? The holder of the note knew my address. A. F.

1. It means that you had signed a note containing a clause authorizing the entering of judgment without the service of summons upon you and that the holder of this note acted under the wording of this clause.

2. See 1. If you could satisfy a court that there had been no absence of diligence on your part and if you have any defense on the merits, you would be permitted to present your defense.

STOCK TRANSFER.

Chicago, April 27.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—If corporation stock is registered in the name of the owner and in the names of the ones having the right of survivorship [1] is legal aid necessary after death of the owner if there is no point of contention between the survivors? 2. Are the rights of children, wife or husband of the survivors affected in event of death of the ones named before reregistering the stock? 3. Is an inheritance tax due which should be paid by survivors? C. L. C.

1. Take the matter up with the transfer officers of the corporation.

2. Most corporations would recognize the survivors if that is what you mean to ask.

3. Yes, as to the fraction which passes to them by virtue of survivorship.

FIRE INSURANCE PATROL.

Chicago, April 26.—[Friend of the People.]—I would like to become a member of the fire insurance patrol. Please advise me when such an examination will be held and the requirements as to age, weight, etc. A. N.

All applicants for appointment to the uniformed force must be between 21 and 31 years of age. They must not be less than 5 feet 7 inches in height and must comply with the following table:

5	9	155	190	34½
5	10	160	195	35
5	11	165	200	36
6	0	170	210	37

No date has been set for the next examination and it is probable that this will not occur during the year 1935.

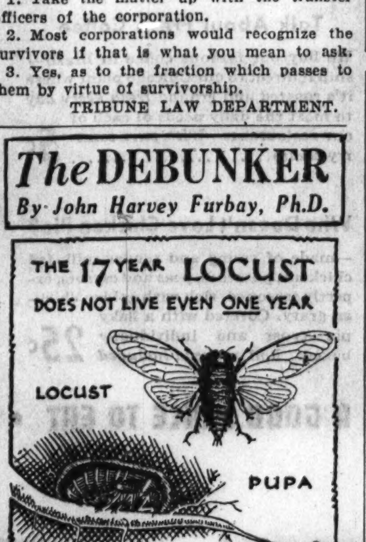
The DEBUNKER

By John Harvey Furbay, Ph.D.



The seventeen year locust emerges from the ground during the summer, climbs up on a tree trunk, sheds its skin, and flies into the tree tops. It mates with another locust, and the females lay their eggs in the ground. Then both the males and the females die. Their life—as locusts—lasts only a few days or weeks. Their eggs hatch into "grubs," which may live in the ground, feeding on roots, for seventeen years before being transformed into locusts.

CHURCH FINANCES.

Blue Island, Ill., April 22.—Louis E. Gibson, who writes in the Voice of the People about the Easter celebration, doubtless says things of which all are aware. I am especially interested in what he has to say about ministers being "financial wizards" and churches being "economic forums." This is, of course, referring to the fact that ministers of the various churches have constantly to keep before the people the financial needs of the work.

Perhaps no one realizes these things more than the ministers themselves, but, owing to the fact that our churches are in the class of free institutions, it makes it inevitable for those in charge of them to constantly bring before the people the temporal needs in order to maintain the work, and also to preserve the institution of the church itself as an organized form of Christian propaganda.

Should it be otherwise? It has long since been determined in our country that the church shall be free and that its financial needs cannot be levied upon the taxes. If that were done we should have a state church, and the "latter conditions would become worse than the first." Also, when the people are taken into the confidence of the leaders within the church, their council sought, their financial support solicited as well as their attendance being urged, though voluntary, as all the others are, it makes the people a part of the institution of the church, and they share in its successes as well as shortcomings.

It is known by referring to the history of peoples that people do not revolt against institutions they support and maintain. It is those institutions, whether secular or religious, which are directed from above with no appeal to the people who always have been endangered in times of popular unrest and upheaval. But free people create free institutions even within the Christian system, and because of this in times of stress, though they may share in the popular confusion and unrest, yet if a showdown came they would protect them, if needs be, from the fury of the mob. The church in these things, though perhaps sometimes overdoing it, represents the best in the American system of things as against those alien influences which seek to undermine, discredit, and eventually to destroy them.

It is not out of place, or against the best interests of all concerned, to keep the church free, and for the ministers ever to have free access to the people whom they serve and whose good will and financial support they always ask.

Frank Hancock,
Minister, First Methodist Episcopal church.

WHAT WEBSTER THOUGHT OF THE NEW DEAL.

"If an angel should be winged from heaven on an errand of mercy to our country, the first accents that would glow upon his lips would be: 'Beware! Be cautious! You have everything to lose; you have nothing to gain. We live under the only government that ever existed which was framed by the unrestrained and deliberate consummations of the people. Miracles do not cluster! That which has happened but once in 6,000 years cannot be expected to happen often. Such a government as ours, once gone, might leave a void to be filled for ages with revolution and tumult, riot and despotism.'"

THE VOICE OF JEWS IN GERMANY.

Chicago, April 20.—In your news from Germany of today it is said that "the Association of German National Jews has sent a message to Hitler assuring him of their loyalty." This may give a wrong impression to those who are not posted as to conditions in Germany, inasmuch as they may think that this association represents the Jews of Germany, while in reality it does not.

The great representative organization of Jews in Germany is the "Central Organization of German Citizens of the Jewish faith." About fifteen years ago a member of that body, Dr. Max Naumann, not satisfied with the stand the organization took against Zionism, though that body was opposed to Zionism, seceded from the Central verein and organized the Association of German National Jews. It never made much of a stir, though for a few years it published a weekly, which after a while was reduced to a monthly and finally stopped publication entirely, as the Jews of Germany were altogether opposed to the ideas of Naumann.

The Central verein is a true representative of nearly all Jews in Germany, orthordox, conservative, or reform. All of these are members of the Central verein, which publishes a splendid weekly. There is hardly a city in Germany where Jews reside but that the Central verein has a branch in it. The Association of German National Jews on the other hand has dwindled to very small numbers. I don't believe it has a branch outside of Berlin, and it would not surprise me if its membership was less than 500. Its chief object seems to be today that of baiting the Central verein and doing everything opposite to the principles of that organization. Thus when Hitler assumed power, and the Central verein maintained a dignified silence, the National association sent Hitler a note of approval, telling him of their devotion. Hitler, of course, ignored them, but not satisfied with that rebuke they have constantly attempted to flirt with Hitler, and their latest message of loyalty is but one of many attempts.

The Jews of Germany are just as much opposed to Hitler as any liberal, broad minded, liberty loving body of men can be, and I am sure none of them, except that very small body of Naumann followers, would think of sending Hitler a message assuring him of their loyalty.

NOISE.

Chicago, April 22.—This is sent you in the hope that your great newspaper will do what it can to mitigate one of the city's greatest nuisances—the raucous voices of newspaper sellers.

I have been a taxpayer for many years, and now own property at the corner of Ashland avenue and Irving Park boulevard, which, I will admit, is a rather noisy corner, but I have grown accustomed to the sound of street cars and automobiles; however, above them all, especially in warm weather when the windows are open, come the strident voices of men and boys peddling papers.

There is a law, I understand, against unnecessary noises, and also a law against merchants crying their wares. Why, then, must this nuisance exist?

How Arrest Brought Gang Split Is Told.

St. Paul, Minn., April 30.—[Special.] —Members of the Barker-Karpis gang threatened to put Oliver Berg "on the spot" if he failed to make good a portion of $3,000 ransom money seized when department of justice operatives arrested William Vidler, Chicago gambler. This was testified late today in the trial of ten persons charged with plotting the kidnaping of Edward G. Bremer, St. Paul banker.

John Madala, department of justice operative at Chicago, who testified Berg told him of this threat, said the gang also demanded that Russell [Slim] Gibson, slain by federal agents in Chicago when Arthur [Doc] Barker was captured, and Dr. Joseph P. Moran, fugitive Chicago physician under indictment, also make up part of the "loss" suffered through Vidler's arrest.

Berg protested and was told to go to Aurora, Ill., and there meet members of the gang. Berg was alleged to have met Doc Barker, Harry Campbell, William Weaver, Volney Davis and Alvin Karpis, the last now public enemy No. 1.

Trace Money Down Line.

These disclosures were in line with government testimony intended to directly trace transactions between Bremer's kidnapers and the men who handled the $200,000 ransom money.

It was testified earlier in the day that Dr. Moran had operated on the finger tips of Karpis and Fred Barker, the latter recently slain in Florida, and that while the pair were recovering from the operations they were visited by Doc Barker.

Doc Barker, it also was testified, offered to reward Berg, who had taken care of the two men, by tendering him some "hot" money to pass on commission. It was testified that Barker had appeared one time with two suit cases, one of which contained $35,000 in $5 and $10 bills.

In relating the conversation which Madala said he had with Berg in Joliet prison, he said Berg told him Gibson brought to Berg's home in Chicago in March, 1934, two men first introduced as "Slim" who was identified through photographs as Karpis, and "Shorty" or "Freddie," identified as Fred Barker.

The next day, Madala said, Willie Doney, who had been in prison while Berg was there and while Dr. Moran was serving a term for an illegal operation, came to the Berg home. He said he had been sent by Dr. Moran to nurse the two.

"Berg said the two were at his home about eight days and that when 'Freddie' learned that Berg was about broke he promised that his brother, Doc Barker, would see that he got a break."

Doc Barker Shows Up.

The next day, according to the testimony, Doc Barker came to Berg's home with Dr. Moran.

It was during this visit, according to Madala's version of the conversation, that Doc Barker offered to reward him by letting him pass some "hot" money on commission of 12½ per cent.

"Some time after the men left, Berg said he got a telephone call from Doc Barker at Gary, Ind., telling him to have Dr. Moran and Gibson at Berg's home in an hour," Madala continued. Barker, the witness said, appeared with another man, identified as Harry Campbell, and he was carrying two suitcases.

That Dr. Moran agreed to get a "party" to handle the money quickly and went to a telephone to call this person; that Barker told Berg and Gibson Dr. Moran was to get 6¼ per cent commission for handling the money, and the "party," later identified as John J. [Boss] McLaughlin, was to get 6¼ per cent. For guarding the money, Gibson and Berg each were to get 2 per cent of Dr. Moran's share.

ASKS ALABAMA GOVERNOR END SCOTTSBORO CASE

Montgomery, Ala., April 30.—(AP)—Samuel Leibowitz, defense counsel, today sent a request to Gov. Bibb Graves asking for a full pardon for all of the defendants in the "Scottsboro case."

Barring a pardon, Leibowitz submitted a proposal for a "fact finding" commission to study the case, reporting on its to the governor.

The defendants, nine colored men, now are held in the Jefferson county jail and at Kilby prison here awaiting retrial on charges of attacking two white women aboard a Southern railway freight train in Jackson county on March 25, 1931.

Leibowitz suggested if a commission was named it be composed "of such men as Bishop W. G. McDowell [of Alabama diocese, Episcopal church] and some of the heads of the colleges of the state."

MARSHALL FIELD & COMPANY

DENIES STEALING $27,500; CLAIMS IT AS GRAFT CUT

CRIMINAL COURT.

Norman Pearce, robbery, sentenced to 1 to 20 years in the penitentiary; John Meyers, robbery, 1 year to life; Robert Smith, robbery, 1 year to life, by Judge William V. Brothers.

Sam Pers, Herman Lenobel and Louis Carzolli, burglary, sentenced to 1 year to life each by Judge Walter T. Stanton.

Joseph Lazare and Joseph Mackin, robbery, sentenced to 1 to 20 years each by Judge Cornelius Harrington.

Lloyd Braithwaite, 38 years old, 11249 Homewood avenue, a one armed world war veteran, testified from the witness stand yesterday in Judge Harry B. Miller's Criminal court, where he is defendant on a charge of embezzlement, that the money involved was his share of the "abnormal profits" made in gasoline, oil, and paving repair materials sold to various political subdivisions in Cook county.

The defendant, who formerly was secretary and office manager of the Seneca Petroleum company, 439 West 33d street, is being prosecuted by O. E. Hulse, president of the company, on a charge of embezzling $27,500 of the company's funds over a period of several years. Braithwaite was extradited from California by bonding companies against who a claim for the shortage was filed.

Denies Overcharge to Park Board.

An indication of the defense came while Hulse was under cross-examination by Defense Attorneys Harold Levy and Emmet Byrne. Hulse denied under this questioning that the money involved was used "as pay offs" to certain officials with whom his company did business. He characterized as ridiculous the charges that the money was from overcharges against the south park board.

"We had a lot of political and municipal business," Braithwaite testified. "From this business we made abnormal profits. In many cases deliveries were not made of a lot of items charged. In this way we had much overcharge and I was authorized by Hulse to draw checks to myself to balance the books."

Lists Governmental Units.

Braithwaite testified he had authority to draw and sign checks and that every check was with Hulse's sanction. Many of these checks, he testified, were charged to various accounts in order to cover up the purpose for which they were issued.

Among the political subdivisions named by Braithwaite were the Cook county highway department, the City of Chicago, the various park boards, and the board of education.

EPISCOPALIANS CELEBRATE 100 YEARS IN STATE

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

More than 1,500 Episcopalians of Chicago and the vicinity last night celebrated a century of Episcopal growth in the state and marked the turn into the second hundred years of the church in Illinois. This body of men and women attended the centennial dinner of the Chicago diocese under auspices of the Chicago Church club, in the Hotel Sherman.

John D. Allen, of Glencoe, retiring president of the club, announced that the dinner was the largest in the diocese's history.

While coming events, including a campaign for a million dollars, were given vigorous attention by the dinner speakers, the pioneer struggles of the churchmen who multiplied the six Illinois Episcopal churches of a century ago into the present total of 250 were not overlooked.

Century's Progress Reviewed.

The Rev. William L. Essex, of Peoria, in whose church the diocese of Illinois was founded, reviewed the strides of the years. And two granddaughters of Bishop Philander Chase, founder of the diocese, were present to symbolize the greetings of the past to Bishop Chase's successors.

These granddaughters—residing at present only two miles apart—met each other for the first time last night. They are Mrs. Charles T. Hull, 1606 Estes avenue, wife of the rector of the Church of St. Paul-by-the-Lake, and Mrs. James Trottman, formerly of Milwaukee, who now resides with her son, Nelson Trottman, railroad attorney, at 1122 Hinman avenue, Evanston.

Other speakers of the evening included Bishop John Chanler White of the diocese of Springfield and Bishop George Craig Stewart of Chicago. Bishop Stewart read a letter from President Roosevelt who said that the growth of the Episcopal church had kept pace with the growth of Illinois during the century.

Bishop Calls for Faith.

After reading the President's message Bishop Stewart challenged the present generation with the demands of the coming century.

"Think of the audacity of those three clergymen and six laymen who dared organize the diocese 100 years ago," said Bishop Stewart. "All they had was faith and foresight. These are needed today. In celebration of the occasion we are launching a campaign for $1,000,000. If it seems daring to go out to secure $1,000,000 in these days, let us remember the little company 100 years ago."

Austin J. Lindstrom of Evanston, vice president of the First National bank of Chicago, was elected to succeed Mr. Allen as president of the Church club. Mr. Allen was elected chairman of the board of the club.

The Klempner portrait of Bishop Stewart was unveiled by Mr. Lindstrom. It has been presented to Seabury Western Theological seminary, Evanston, by Mr. Allen.

Park Pony Ride Concession Will Change Hands Today

Charles Adams, who for 28 years has operated the pony concession in Lincoln park, will move out with his thirty ponies today. He recently lost the concession to George A. SEIZE ABORTION DOCTOR ON NEW MURDER CHARGE

Braune Accused in Death of Barrington Woman.

State's attorney's detectives yesterday seized Dr. Frank R. Braune, 48 years old, on a warant charging him with the murder by abortion of a young Barrington housewife. The physician already is under indictment on a similar charge in another case and is scheduled to go to trial in the Criminal court before Judge John Lewe on May 14.

DR. FRANK BRAUNE

The warant served yesterday was issued by Municipal Judge Matthew D. Hartigan in Felony court after witnesses testified that Dr. Braune performed an illegal operation on Mrs. Lucille V. Graff, 28 years old, of Barrington, last January. The doctor, according to the witnesses, received $75 for the operation.

Dies in Elgin Hospital.

Mrs. Graff entered the Sherman hospital in Elgin a month ago. On April 15 she died from infection.

Kane county authorities investigated her death and then turned the case over to the state's attorney's office here when they were told that the operation was performed in Braune's office at 306 South Wabash avenue.

Last evening Braune was unable to post $20,000 bond which was set by Judge Hartigan, and he was taken to the county jail. He is to be arraigned in the Felony court today on the new charge.

Charged with Girl's Death.

The indictment already standing against Dr. Braune was returned on March 7. It charges him and Dr. Maurice L. Dale, 3658 Harrison street, with the murder by abortion of Miss Marie Dwyer, 26 years old, 5215 Fulton street. The two doctors were arrested on Feb. 28.

10 Month Old Baby Chokes to Death on Rubber Ball

ROBLES KIDNAP ENIGMA SOLVED, ASSERTS HOOVER

But It's Mystery Yet in Tucson.

Tucson, Ariz., April 30.—[Special.]—The kidnaping of June Robles a year ago "has been solved," according to announcement today in Washington, D. C., by J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the United States department of justice.

JUNE ROBLES.

The Robles abduction had been listed as the only kidnaping the department of justice had failed to solve. But though he refused to amplify his statement concerning the case which is now before the federal grand jury here, Hoover insisted it had been solved.

"We have had 36 kidnapings listed, and all of them are solved on our records," the department of justice chief said.

However, Frank E. Flynn, United States district attorney for Arizona, said at Phoenix that he knew nothing of the information on which Hoover based his statement. M. J. Dougherty, Flynn's assistant connected with the Tucson office, said the "solution" was news to him.

Meantime, federal agents were presenting evidence before the grand jury here of the kidnaping in which the Robles girl, then 6 years old, was held in a desert pit 19 days before she was rescued by officers and relatives.

Federal officers here hinted that several persons were involved in the abduction, although only one information in connection with the kidnaping has been made public. That one charged Oscar H. Robson, former night club operator, with writing extortion letters asking $15,000 for the return of the child.

District Attorney Flynn said that many new exhibits, including finger prints, have been obtained and sent to Washington by federal agents. The finger prints were obtained from the box in which the Robles girl was buried in the desert and were developed by a new method only recently perfected.

'Cowboy and Indian' Suits, Tomahawks, Robbers' Loot

Well, there are some bandits in Chicago today who can play the time honored game of "cowboy and Indian" to their hearts' content. They are the desperadoes who looted the automobile of Robert Patterson, a salesman from San Francisco, as it was standing in front of the Belmont hotel, 413 Belmont avenue. Mr. Patterson deals in juvenile cowboy and Indian suits, wooden pistols, tomahawks, and the like. The loot taken comprised his samples, he told the police.

● Bowman's Irradiated Milk gives your child not only tooth-building calcium and phosphorus, but the precious Vitamin D necessary for their proper utilization in the body. Few foods supply this essential vitamin. And many city children do not get enough of it from the sun.

That's why so many food authorities stress the need of irradiated milk in conjunction with a balanced diet and oral hygiene for building and safeguarding sound, healthy teeth.

Bowman's Irradiated Milk helps build strong bones, too. It is so rich in Vitamin D that one quart a day is a valuable safeguard against rickets.

LONDON 'STRUTS' IN REHERSAL OF JUBILEE PARADE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 30.—Londoners who were abroad between 6 and 8 o'clock this morning found the center of the city barred off by police. Inside the barred area a rehersal of Monday's jubilee procession was being held. All troops and all servants and horses which will take part in Monday's show were in line. Only the carriages were different. Instead of the gorgeous state coaches and royal carriages, there was a motley assembly of brakes, old phaetons, and taxicabs.

The officers responsible dashed up and down on horseback and timed every movement with stop watches to make certain that there will be no hitch next Monday. There was even a halt at Temple Bar, in Fleet street, the entrance to the city, where the lord mayor will surrender a sword to the king and permit him to enter.

(According to ancient custom the sovereign always asked permission of the lord mayor to pass Temple Bar when he visited the city proper.)

Time Halt at St. Paul's.

The halt at St. Paul's cathedral was carefully timed to allow the king to descend from the coach in comfort and make way for the next comers.

The troops who formed the escort today were in khaki so as not to spoil their nice ceremonial uniforms, which will be worn for the first time Monday. All arrangements for parking carriages during the service at St. Paul's were carefully tested. Everything went off smoothly and all the actors in the pageant were reported letter perfect.

Already London is crowded with visitors, chiefly from the provinces. Few of the visitors are Americans, since royal celebrations are not so glamorous as they would have been when times were good and money was easy. Instead of spending money coming to London to gape at King George and Queen Mary as they pass by, Americans are staying home for their vacations.

Hotels Are Disappointed.

Three London hotels which usually cater to Americans are having a difficult time to hide their disappointment at the shortage of Americans. Out of 4,000 visitors at the Hotels Cumberland, Regent Palace and Strand Palace, 3,400 are from England, Ireland, Scotland or Wales, 477 from the dominions or colonies, and only 442 from foreign countries, including the United States. Only ninety-five visitors at the Cumberland are from the United States.

That is a far cry from the "hundreds of thousands of visitors for the jubilee" predicted a few months ago by optimistic Britons, some of whose figures even talked in millions of visitors.

In spite of efforts to make it appear as if 1935 was going to be a good year, shipping companies cannot report much more cheerful news than that gleaned in the hotels.

Bookings Are Small.

Though bigger than last year, bookings have been small despite the enormous amount of publicity and advertising lavished on the royal goings on in London.

The United States liner Manhattan landed 526 visitors today, but that figure was small compared with the figures of banner years, when times were good.

QUEBEC ALTERS NEWSPRINT BILL, STING TAKEN OUT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

QUEBEC, Que., April 30.—Redrafted to a point where it constitutes a victory for newsprint operators in the province, Quebec's newsprint bill made its appearance this afternoon in a redrafted form, shorn of the clauses which provided for a commission to administer the industry, and also with the clause providing that newsprint could not be sold in the province except at a "fair reasonable margin of profit."

The bill is not yet up in the house, but is expected tomorrow or the next day, as the government wants to get it over with, and the legislature is due to prorogue by the end of next week.

Two new paragraphs have been added to the bill, one of them providing that the minimum proportion of pulpwood cut on public land to be used in pulp or newsprint mills in the province shall be fixed by the lieutenant governor in council, and the other providing that regulations shall not become retroactive when the bill comes into force.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Bob Becker

A Letter for a Kid

April 30, 1935.

If the two kid goats on the Wheaton farm continue to develop any more tricks, they will be ready to move into a circus ring and play the rôles of clowns within a short time. I was in the barnyard yesterday watching these two animals and it was a circus to see them put on their "act" with an old roadster automobile.

As announced last Saturday one of these peppy little kids will be awarded to the boy or girl writing the best letter to this department telling why he would like a kid for a pet, and explaining also how the pet will be assured of a good home. That's all there is to do to win one of these playful little animals at the Wheaton experimental farm. Write the letter as short as possible and simply send it to the Experimental Farms editor. You have only two weeks to send in the letter. The winner will then be announced and he may call at the farm, pick out one of the wee goats and take him home.

Old Bill, the father of these two kids, seems to be getting quite a kick out of his offspring. When I was in the barnyard yesterday I noticed Bill prancing away with the two kids for a little jaunt around the place. The old goat used to spend most of his time with the horses. In fact, he will play with the colts by the hour. Now he has abandoned his old pals to give some of his time to his progeny, much to their delight.

Yesterday one of the kids had the time of his life on an automobile in the yard. First the little fellow hopped to the running board of the car. Then up on a fender to reach the top of the rumble seat of the roadster. From there it was just one more jump to the fabric top of the roadster. As Eddie, who was standing near me, remarked: "It won't be long now. That kid is going to poke his feet right through the top of that car, and then we'll have to carry an umbrella when we ride in it."

The fact that the fields have been pretty well soaked by recent rains has held up field work somewhat. Nevertheless, the boys on both the Yorkville and Wheaton farms are well along on their plowing and planting.

A couple of turkey hens are certainly on the job in the sheepfold. These birds have made their nests in there and have buckled down to the job of incubating clutches of eggs. About ten of the hens that "went native" by going into the woods to nest apparently are busy, too.

I ran into one of these the other day when Carl and I hiked through the woods near the duck pond. This hen was rather annoyed by our coming near her and complained in no uncertain terms. [One of these days I am going to play detective and try to find the nest of one of these turkey hens.]

The boys are arguing about the name to be given to a colt that has just arrived on the farm. The colt belongs to a mare named Fanny. She is used for regular farm work. Her son is a husky little fellow—all legs, of course, just like every other colt when it begins to walk around. Meantime the arguments go on regarding a proper name for this new arrival.

NEW TEST TELLS IF A PATIENT HAS INTERNAL CANCER

Scientist Uses Extract of Animal Embryo.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 30.—(AP)—A new 10 minute test for hidden internal cancer in human beings was reported to the American College of Physicians today by Benjamin Gruskin of Temple university.

He said it worked successfully in 95 per cent of his cases. The report was made at a Temple university clinic and other workers stated it was successful, one going as low as 75 per cent.

The medical profession never has adopted a test for revealing the existence of internal human cancer. Lack of such a test has been one of the great causes of cancer mortality.

Object of Long Search.

A large proportion of internal cancers are curable by operation if recognized in time. If unrecognized too long they become hopeless. A worldwide search has been on for years to find something that will reveal these hidden growths.

Gruskin uses a hypodermic under the skin. It is an extract from the connective tissues of embryos of animals. Within 10 minutes, he said, this hypodermic raises a skin blister. If the blister is round there is no cancer.

But if the patient has an unknown cancer pseudopods form at the edges of the blister. Pseudopods means "false feet" and describes an extension of the edge of the blister shaped like a boot.

Mr. Gruskin said these pseudopods show not only the existence of a malignant growth but the age of the growth. Few pseudopods denote an early stage; more of the "boots" indicate a greater development.

Relief for Asthma.

A real "breath of life" for asthma sufferers—an atmosphere made wholly of helium and oxygen—was announced to the college today.

Ordinary air is 79 per cent nitrogen, 20 oxygen, 1 of other gases. Alvan L. Barach, M. D., of New York City, substituted 80 per cent helium for the 79 per cent nitrogen and the 1 per cent.

Because helium is one-seventh the weight of nitrogen, he reasoned that this artificial air would be only one-third as heavy as ordinary air.

Profession Flea Harbor.

Washington, D. C., April 30.—(AP)—Jimmy the Rat, believed to be the world's only professional living "boarding house" for fleas, today completed one year as a unique servant of medical science.

Despite his gangster sounding name, Jimmy's life is dedicated 100 per cent to suffering humanity. He lives in the typhus laboratory of the National Institute of Health of the public health service. And his job—it's letting escaped typhus infected fleas live on him so that they won't bite scientists working in the laboratory and infect them with the disease.

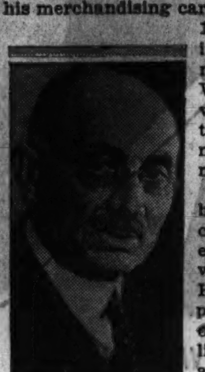
FOUNDING OF FIRM 52 YEARS AGO TO BE NOTED BY WIEBOLDT

William A. Wieboldt Sr., who started his merchandising career in Chicago in 1883, is still active in the management of the five Wieboldt stores, which will start the firm's 52d anniversary sales tomorrow.



W. A. WIEBOLDT SR.

Mr. Wieboldt, born in Germany, came to the United States when he was 14 years old. He first was employed in the store of his uncle, William R. Wieboldt, at 14th street and Blue Island avenue. He and his wife worked as clerks when he opened his first store at 605 Indiana street [later Grand avenue]. This store later was moved to Milwaukee avenue and Paulina street, near the site of the present Wieboldt's Milwaukee avenue location.

In 1917, with the establishment of a store at Lincoln and Belmont avenues, the firm began an expansion program. Another store was started at Ashland avenue and Monroe street in 1925, a fourth in Evanston in 1925, and the fifth at 63d and Green streets in 1930.

Mr. Wieboldt in 1921 created the Wieboldt foundation, to which he gave $4,500,000. Since that time more than 40 organizations have been aided annually by the foundation.

WOUNDS TWO PASSERSBY.

KING'S JUBILEE, HOLLAND TULIPS, DRAW TRAVELERS

Recall Dramatic Story of Holland Flowers.

BY RUTH DE YOUNG.

Adding the brilliant pageantry of England's jubilee to the famous beauty of Holland's tulip fields, it is no wonder that travelers by the dozen are timing their European holidays for the spring and early summer months.

Next Monday, the anniversary of King George's accession to the throne 25 years ago, the jubilee will have its grand opening in a spectacle seldom equaled in the history of the British empire.

Many Chicagoans, now abroad or on their way, will see the royal procession move from Buckingham palace to St. Paul's for a service of thanksgiving at 11 o'clock in the morning. At night they will watch the lights from beacon fires burning on every hilltop in England and the maneuvers of hundreds of airplanes silvered in the rays of 2,000 searchlights over London.

A Quiet Contrast in Holland.

The glory of Holland's tulips is in quiet contrast to this jubilee picture. Every year finds the Netherlands one vast flower show . . . 16,000 acres in riotous bloom . . . but this spring there is additional interest in the International Flower exhibition at Heemstede, a little village near the old flower center of Haarlem. The exhibition is held only once every ten years.

Mrs. Burt J. Denman of Wilmette and Mrs. H. Carmen Lutkin of Evanston have planned their European trip especially to see the flower show and the tulip fields. So have Mrs. Warner G. Baird and Mrs. William T. Church and her daughter Julia. They all sailed from New York last night on the S. S. Statendam as members of a party sponsored by the Horticultural society and directed by John T. Scheepers, horticulturalist and landscape architect . . . incidentally the largest party ever taken to Europe at this time of the year by a Holland-American liner.

Upon arrival at Rotterdam the group will be received officially by the flower show directors. Then there will be days at the exhibition, visits to private estates, and to the hyacinth and tulip farms.

The flower show, laid out on the 55 acres of the old Groenendaal estate in Heemstede, has been planned with a court of tulips at its gateway—500,000 of the lovely flowers in every shade of the rainbow. The most vivid imagination would have difficulty picturing such a color symphony.

Dramatic Story of Tulips.

The history of tulip culture in Holland is a story of romance and tragedy. It begins in 1555, when Ogier Ghiselin de Busbecq, ambassador of Emperor Ferdinand I. to the Ottoman empire, returned to Vienna and told of the brilliant gardens of "tulipans" in Constantinople. He gave some of the bulbs to the French scholar and botanist, Clusius, who, it is reported, at first mistook them for a variety of onion and ate several with a dressing of oil and vinegar.

Clusius is credited with having introduced the tulips to Holland in 1591 where the soil proved particularly adapted to their culture. In fact, the culture developed so rapidly that " culminated in the celebrated "tulipomania" of 1634.

For four years, during the craze over the flowers, the little bulbs brought higher prices in Holland than precious metals. One bulb was exchanged for "a load of grain, four fat oxen, twelve sheep, five pigs, two barrels of butter, 1,000 pounds of cheese, four barrels of beer, two hogsheads of wine, a bedstead with its furnishings, a suit of clothes, and a silver drinking cup."

A single bulb of the "Semper Augustus" sold for 13,000 guilders, or $5,200. The Horticultural society of Haarlem offered a prize of 100,000 guilders [$40,000] for a black tulip. Speculation in bulbs ran wild until the bubble burst, causing a financial panic and a trail of ruined fortunes. The dramatic story is told fully by Alex Dumas in his book, "The Black Tulip."

A few years after the panic, however, propagation of the flower again settled down to a sane pace. Tulip exports now bring 20 million dollars a year to Holland.

Flower Show in England.

Some of the Chicago travelers will return home directly from Holland, but others will go over to England to see the Chelsea flower show and parts of the jubilee celebration.

The jubilee is the prime interest of Mrs. Edmund B. Bartlett and her daughter Laura of Winnetka, who sailed a week ago today on the Manhattan. Their trip is preliminary to Miss Bartlett's marriage June 24 to Francis D. Moore.

Besides witnessing the opening of the jubilee on Monday, the Bartletts will be in London for the second royal procession to Westminster a week from tomorrow and the military tournament and river pageant a few days later. On all these state occasions Queen Mary will wear her Kohinoor diamond and the ribbon of the Garter, which she is the only woman to possess.

Both the jubilee and Holland's tulips have taken Mrs. Ronald P. Boardman and her brother, Singer P. Robinson, abroad. They sailed last Saturday on the Europa. On another German liner, the Albert Ballin, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pope Jr. will embark tomorrow for a holiday in England. Mr. and Mrs. Fowler McCormick are not prolonging their holiday abroad to include the jubilee, however, for they are leaving Villefranche tomorrow to sail for home on the Conte di Savoia.

Mrs. Spencer in England.

Going over to visit her sister and brother-in-law, the Bentley Carrs, Mrs. E. W. Spencer has the pleasant choice of remaining in London for the jubilee gayety or retiring to the country for quiet relaxation. The Carr home is Rabeley at Glenferness, Bournemouth, near Southampton.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Ball of Evanston, who are sailing tomorrow on the Majestic, will spend some time in London and then motor to Newton Abbot in Devonshire, Mr. Ball's birthplace. Before leaving England they will have a week or two in that quiet retreat, the Isle of Jersey.

WOUNDED, GIVEN PROBATION.

John Gacki, 24 years old, 5136 Throop street, wounded by a watchman several days ago while rifling the coin boxes of washing machines in an apartment building at 7131 Bennett avenue, was placed on a year's probation yesterday by Judge Matthew D. Hartigan in the Felony court.

NIGHT TRAVELING COMFORT BUILT INTO NEW BUSES

Passenger comfort and safety have been the primary concern of designers and engineers in building new night coaches for the Greyhound Lines. Each coach contains berths for 25 passengers. There are five compartments, each equipped with a wash basin with hot and cold running water, mirror, radio, and portable card table for buffet service.

The height of the compartments permits passengers to dress standing up and in complete privacy. At the rear of each coach is a fully appointed women's lounge and lavatory and a men's lavatory.

The power plant of the coach is operated by compressed air controls. It is demountable and can be removed and replaced in 20 minutes. The walls of the coach are insulated to insure a comfortable temperature at all times. There is also special ventilating and heating system, with controls in each compartment. A new safety feature is the driver's elevated compartment, which provides an unobstructed view of the highway.

FIRE TIES UP TRAFIC.

SEND COUPON BEFORE YOU PLAN ANY VACATION

This new, 48-page Southern California Vacation Guide Book is the nearest thing to a free sample that we could manage. We've put between its covers just as much of this playground's beauty, variety and gay romance as the art of gravure printing can capture on paper. 60 photographs show you mountains, forests, lakes and streams . . . ocean, beaches, pleasure islands . . . palms, orange groves, ancient Missions . . . Hollywood and its gay night life . . . fascinating Pasadena, Long Beach, Santa Monica, Beverly Hills, Glendale, Pomona and other resort cities. Maps, drawings and text explain how to get here, where to go, what to see and do, and what everything costs.

We show you how a two-weeks vacation, which is 16 days counting the week-ends, is ample. How living costs here, 18% under the U. S. average, make your total expenditure little, if any, more than for an ordinary vacation. And how the cool summer climate—summer average temperature only 69.4°—means brisk, rainless days, nights of restful sleep under blankets.

"BEST GUIDE-BOOK I EVER SAW" writes J.C.F., Denver. Other recent comments: "Only vacation book that doesn't exaggerate"—C.A.R., Louisville, Ky. "Gold mine of useful information"—L.T., Flint, Mich. FIRST BARGELOAD OF SOUTH'S HARD TIMBER ARRIVES

The first shipment of southern hardwood lumber over the lakes-to-gulf waterway, a consignment of 227,000 board feet of rough oak timber, arrived in Chicago yesterday and last evening was being unloaded from two barges at its destination, the drying kilns of the North Branch Flooring company, 2415 Barry avenue, on the north branch of the Chicago river.

The timber was cut from the Missouri Ozarks foothills and was hauled by truck to the Garver Lumber Manufacturing company mills at Cape Girardeau, Mo., on the Mississippi river. The Garver concern sawed it up and put it on two barges which were dispatched on April 13.

Even Basis of Competition.

This use of the waterway, according to Charles A. Brand, president and general manager of the North Branch company, will enable his concern, the only Chicago manufacturer of hardwood flooring, to compete on even terms with flooring manufacturers of Memphis, Tenn. The Tennessee manufacturers, Brand explained, have for years had a complete corner on this business, and four other flooring manufacturers formerly in Chicago were forced to close their plants.

Freight rates extremely favorable to the Tennessee manufacturers enabled them to control the market, Brand explained. They were able to ship 1,000 feet of finished flooring to Chicago by rail for $6. The rail freight on the rough timber needed to produce 1,000 feet of finished boards cost almost twice as much as the finished flooring.

Big Saving in Handling.

By barge, however, the rough timber equivalent of 1,000 feet is hauled for $7. The extra dollar favoring the Tennessee manufacturers is saved in handling. The barges dock only 25 feet from the drying kilns of the North Branch company and the lumber is handled only once after it is loaded.

The finished flooring shipped here must be unloaded from railroad cars, placed on trucks and sent to distributors, thus increasing the shipping costs.

"When we found what we could do on the barges," said Brand, "we bought all the stock of the Garver company. We expect to repeat this maneuver as soon as a new supply is accumulated. We believe there will be a building boom soon."

San Diego Fair to Draw Chicagoans

With the glamor and interest of A Century of Progress fresh in mind, easterners and Chicagoans are going west this summer not only to see mountain peaks and canyons but also to visit San Diego's fair, the California-Pacific International Exposition. It opens May 29 to continue through Nov. 11.

Exposition officials are talking about the arrival of visitors in terms of millions and they may not be wrong, for 20 years ago, when San Diego was only a large town, it attracted 2,000,000 persons to an exposition. Considering the improvement in travel facilities the last 20 years the old figure may be tripled.

A 1,400 acre park is the site of the exposition this time. The plant is estimated at well over $5,000,000. The exhibits have been recruited from every part of this country and from most foreign countries. Special attractions will include battleship maneuvers and a formation flight of 1,000 airplanes.

Because of the fair the western railroads have extended the return limit on their round trip tickets to Nov. 30. These tickets, first class, may be purchased for $86 any time between May 15 and Oct. 15.

San Diego is not on any of the main lines west but a side trip to the exposition involves an added expenditure of only $5.10. Of course the ticket rates do not include Pullman reservations, but it is well to remember that there is no longer a surcharge on a Pullman ticket west. This is a saving of 33 1-3 per cent.

Privileges Are Numerous.

The privileges allowed on round trip tickets west are especially liberal this summer. It is possible, for instance, to go south to New Orleans, then west through San Antonio and by way of the Grand canyon to Los Angeles.

One of the most popular routes then leads up the coast to Portland and Seattle where the Columbia river drive and a trip to Mount Rainier are interesting. Returning, there is the route through the Yellowstone, another through Glacier National park and the Canadian course through Banff and Lake Louise.

Many other round trip itineraries may be selected, some of them longer and some shorter. All of them may be followed independently, or on escorted tours, and two to three weeks is sufficient for any one of them, but liberal stopover privileges are allowed on a round trip ticket.

Whether a first class Pullman, a tourist sleeper, or a chair car every coach on a western train in the United States this summer will be air conditioned. The round trip ticket tourist class is $68.80. The round trip coach ticket is $57.35.

SMOKELESS COPS NOW ENFORCING LAWS IN ZION

"Have a cigar, officer?"

You needn't try that in Zion, because the entire new police force sworn in yesterday [all three of them] gave their solemn pledges to Mayor William Edwards that they wouldn't smoke—not on duty, anyway.

Charles Wright, a former plasterer, is the new chief, and his force consists of Alvin Ruesch and Moody Simpson. None of them but Ruesch smokes, anyway, so the promise wasn't so hard to give.

Of course, Zion is a dry community, so the police force probably won't be drinking very much, either.

Chief Wright succeeds former Chief Earl Casperson, who held that position for thirteen years. Casperson's three veteran officers who retired with him were Lieut. William Latislaw, and Patrolmen Isaac Parry and Gilbert Miller.

Boxer Held to Grand Jury in Rape of Schoolgirl

John [Buddy] Ginter, 26 years old, 7044 North Clark street, a professional boxer, was held to the grand jury in $10,000 bonds by Judge Matthew D. Hartigan yesterday on a charge of rape, made by a high school girl 17 years old. Vernon Butler, 1918 Birchwood avenue, a barber employed in a shop at 7058 North Clark street, was also bound over as an accessory.

ARREST MARKET ADVISER UNDER BLUE SKY CHARGE

Phillip J. Sanders, a stock market adviser with offices at 309 South La Salle street, was arrested late yesterday by state's attorney's police under Prof. James J. Cherry, in charge of the blue sky division, on a warant charging embezzlement of $5,000. The warant was sworn out last October by Marinus Byl, 8604 School street, Niles Center. Byl charged that Sanders, under the pretense of reinvesting $5,000 worth of stocks for him, gave him almost worthless securities. Sanders will be arraigned this morning in the Felony court.

SPRING SHOWING OF FURNITURE DRAWS BUYERS

Chicago's spring furniture market will open today, attracting an expected attendance of 1,500 to 2,000 retail buyers from coast to coast.

Exhibitors both in the American Furniture Mart and in the Merchandise Mart are devoting their displays largely to the needs of department stores for their July and August furniture sales.

Some New Features.

Among new features in furniture are twin beds that may be ordinarily spaced or, under limited space conditions, be superimposed in double-decked bunk fashion; suites made from windwood, which grows near snowline in the Andes and has a peculiar grain marking from being wind-bent; further excursions into period furniture, especially colonial and 18th century, and increasing use of light finishes.

The so-called midseason show, coming between the usual winter and summer markets, has put a new demand on manufacturers, Lawrence H. Whiting, president of the American Mart, pointed out.

Industry Speeded Up.

The industry has been speeded up by the necessity for restyling and rebuilding in order to put new merchandise before the spring buyers. Whiting said there has been a "firming up" of furniture prices because of increased labor costs.

The American Mart has 680 exhibitors, representing the bulk of the trade, and registration indicates that 1,000 stores will send from one to eight buyers each, Whiting said.

T. G. Reed, general manager of the Merchandise Mart, announced that 75 per cent of the exhibits there represent new merchandise.

MRS. M. KUKLA, IN CHICAGO 81 YEARS, IS DEAD

Mrs. Magdalene Kukla, 2252 Belle Plaine avenue, a resident of Chicago for eighty-one years, died yesterday in the Ravenswood hospital from injuries suffered Feb. 28 when she fell in her home, fracturing her hip. She was 89 years old.

Mrs. Kukla was born in Germany, but came to Chicago with her parents when she was 8 years old. She married William Kukla, who at the time of the Chicago fire had a cigar store and home on DeKoven street a short distance from the scene of the outbreak of the conflagration. All of their possessions were destroyed by the flames.

Mr. Kukla died thirty-five years ago and since that time Mrs. Kukla had lived with a daughter, Mrs. Catherine Englehart. She is survived by three other children, Mrs. William Weis, Mrs. James Ellis, and Mrs. G. E. Grein. Funeral arrangements had not been made last night.

Mrs. Caroline Heiss, 97, of Sturgis, Mich., Is Dead

Coldwater, Mich., April 30.—[Special.]—Mrs. Caroline Heiss, 97, of Sturgis, whose father, Andrew Sexauer, supplied President Millard Fillmore with potatoes for the occupants of the White House, will be buried tomorrow.

News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Kate Smith will celebrate her fourth anniversary on the air [and her 26th birthday] with two broadcasts today over CBS—one at 2 p. m. and the other at 9:30 p. m. WBBM being busy with other matters, you might try WABC at 860 or WCCO at 810 kilos. As Kate chalks up her achievements she is likely to include these items: Running her salary from $50 to $5,000 a week, cutting down her weight five pounds. [She's still around 200.]

KATE SMITH.

Kate jests about her weight, but doesn't care to have other people do that. She nurses a feud with Eddie Cantor, because she feels his cracks about her avoirdupois are in poor taste. On a hobby program Kate once said "Cantor's hobby is collecting old Kate Smith jokes." And she may yet say more.

To her close friends Kate is Katherine. These include Leopold Stokowsky, with whose Philadelphia Symphony she once appeared as soloist singing an aria from "Sampson and Delilah." Ted Collins has been her manager all these years without a contract. They call themselves "Kated, Inc." Kate's radio favorites, incidentally, are Raymond Paige's California Melodies, Fred Waring, Rudy Vallee, One Man's Family, and Jack Benny.

Jack Benny, incidentally, was surprised the other evening when Greta Garbo called him personally after his broadcast to say that she had enjoyed the show. You may recall that Garbo's name was used when Jack introduced as a Hollywood celebrity "the boy who delivers Garbo's groceries."

Well, here's something new—a morning amateur hour. Yodelers, comedians, barnyard animal imitators, and the many other types of amateur variety entertainers will get a chance at the microphone at 9:30 this morning over WMAQ under the sponsorship of a State street department store. Programs will be heard at the same hour Mondays and Fridays on this station and Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays over WBBM. Norman Ross will be master of ceremonies. Talent hearings will be staged daily from 2 to 4 o'clock on the eleventh floor of the Boston store.

There'll be a battle of radio tenors in the loop when Friday rolls around. Morton Downey opens at the Chicago and Donald Novis at the Palace. Remember a year or so back when both of them were featured on the same commercial program? Dave Rubinoff, the violinist, will be at the Palace the week of May 17.

Mrs. Downey, the former Barbara Bennett, who arrived here yesterday with Morton, confirmed the report that there would be a newcomer in the Downey household next winter. The Downeys have three children, Michael, whom they adopted, and Sean and Lorelle.

PERSONALTY TAX NOTICES FOR 1934 GO TO 10 TOWNS

Hope to Finish Country Assessments in Week.

County Assessor John S. Clark announced yesterday that the first of the notices for the 1934 personal property assessments have been mailed to taxpayers in ten country towns. The assessor said he expected to complete the assessment of personal property in all of the thirty-one country townships by the end of the week, after which notices will be sent to taxpayers in the city.

Increases in Six Townships.

A survey of the notices mailed yesterday shows that, despite the drastic reductions ordered by the assessor, personal property assessments in six of the townships have increased from 4 to 22 per cent over the assessments for 1933. In the remaining four districts decreases from 1 per cent to 17 per cent are noted.

The following table compares the assessments of the ten country townships for 1933 and 1934. The assessment totals are given in thousands of dollars, the final three digits in each figure being omitted. Asterisks (*) denote decreases. The table:

Hanover	668	558	261	213	22.42
Lemont	668	688	700	708	*1.04
Northfield ..	1075	1206	617	680	*9.29
Orland	241	262	106	99	6.30
Palatine	1150	1057	458	468	*2.06
Palos	382	362	205	169	21.48
Rich	641	645	338	408	*17.16
Schaumburg.	180	195	103	96	6.82

Under the program mapped out by the assessor, it is expected that both the real estate and personal property assessments will be completed by June 1. This would allow other county offices approximately four months in which to hear complaints and prepare the tax bills to meet the penalty date set for Nov. 1.

Taxpayers receiving their personal property notices have ten days in which to register complaints with the board of tax appeals.

FIREBUG HUNTED IN NEW SERIES MENACING LIVES

The police yesterday continued their search for a firebug who earlier in the morning started fires in the hallways of three north side apartment buildings. The first was discovered in the hallway of a 46 apartment building at 2758 Hampden court. The other two were in buildings at 1655 Wallen avenue and 1429 Lunt avenue, in the Rogers Park district.

Capt. Patrick Harding of the Rogers Park station said he was uncertain whether or not the firebug who started the fires yesterday was the same who started 25 blazes in buildings in that district a week ago.

Edward Malloy, 13 years old, a subnormal boy, who ran away from home on Feb. 23, has made and retracted several confessions about the fires, in one of which Mrs. Julia Goldberg, 72 years old, 7030 Sheridan road, was burned to death. The boy is being held at the Juvenile home.

Don't take Chances

SALVATION ARMY WILL CELEBRATE CHICAGO ADVENT

Fifty years ago a small band of men and women opened the first Salvation Army corps in Chicago. On Saturday, Sunday, and Monday the army will celebrate its golden jubilee here, with Col. William Evans of Sebring, Fla., the principal speaker.

Col. Evans, then a staf captain, was in charge of the pioneering band of evangelists to reach Chicago and persist in efforts to bring salvation to the underprivileged despite the taunts, jeers, and sometimes violence of neighborhood ruffians.

He will make several addresses during the three day celebration. One will be Saturday afternoon at the spot on Chicago near Clark street where the group of Salvation Army "lads and lassies" stood the night of their first evangelical meeting here.

Many Society Folk Take New Homes Today

BY JUDITH CASS.

IN every household for which May 1 is moving day—and there are many—alarm clocks will awaken every one very early this morning and long before the normal hour for breakfast all will be hustle and bustle and movers will be making trips to and from the vans that will be backed up to the door. May 1 as a date for changing one's abode dates back in Chicago to over forty years ago, so a man familiar with the real estate business and its history told us yesterday, but we were unable to ascertain why it wasn't an older custom than that. Perhaps because nearly half a century ago to move one's lares and penates was something that occurred once or twice in a lifetime, and not such a casual proceeding as it is today.

Few there are nowadays who live in the same place for more than several years and when one has lived for as much as a decade in the same location, he is considered an "old timer" anywhere. We always have thought that it was too bad that May 1 is known as "moving day" instead of "flitting day," for the latter is such a delightful sounding name for the day in Scotland, when old leases are renewed and new ones are made. The 25th of May is the day upon which the Scots "flit," having notified their landlords of their intention to "sit or flit" on Candlemas [Feb. 2].

Writing of leases and landlords reminds us of the very pleasant English custom of paying rent four times a year instead of on the first of each month as we Americans do. On Lady day, Midsummer, Michaelmas, and Christmas an English tenant pays his rent, so he only has to worry about seeing his landlord late in March, again late in June, then on Sept. 29, and for the last time that year on Christmas.

Many Fashionable Folk Move this Week.

For the first time in their lives, probably, the Edwin L. Lobdells will be paying rent after this spring, for next Wednesday they are moving from their old home at 2716 Prairie avenue to an apartment at 70 Cedar street. The house, one of the last in Chicago's fine old residential district where once the cream of the aristocracy lived, will be torn down and nothing will remain of it but the memories of the family that lived in it so long, and the movies that the Lobdells' son-in-law, Harold C. Pynchon, took of its exterior and interior not so long ago.

Anchorfast, the big brown frame house at 1742 Judson avenue, Evanston, that the late Miss Cornelia Lunt called home and that was built by her father, Orrington Lunt, one of Evanston's pioneer residents, now is the home of Dr. and Mrs. August F. Daro who recently purchased it.

Mrs. Tilt Bartlett, who has been living near her brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur D. Bissell of 5755 Kenwood avenue, has decided that the near north side is more convenient for her than the south side so she is moving to an apartment at 31 East Elm street.

Mrs. Snelling Coleman is occupying a furnished apartment at 37 East Division street, just a few doors east of where she used to live, but she is planning to go east as soon as school is out.

James P. Humes Taking Senseneys' Apartment.

The James P. Humes have taken the apartment at 1350 State parkway left vacant by the removal to Lake Forest of the George T. Senseneys, who have taken the lodge at Mellody farm in Lake Forest as a place of residence.

The Arthur G. Cables, who had a small apartment at 180 East Delaware place all winter, found living in town so much to their liking that they decided to take a larger apartment at 70 Cedar street into which they moved yesterday. This means that they are giving up their house on Sheridan road in Hubbard Woods as their home and will sell or rent it in the future, for they spend most of every summer at their place in New Mexico.

The Benjamin B. Bryans Jr. have moved into the Harold C. Bodmans' house at 461 North Green Bay road in Lake Forest and Roger Hyatt is moving into the one at 999 North Sheridan road, Lake Forest, that the Bryans formerly have been occupying.

St. Joseph, Mich., April 30.—[Special.]—Twenty-seven candidates for the annual blossom queen competition will arrive here tomorrow morning from far flung points in Michigan to take part in the final contest in which the queen will be selected tomorrow night in Liberty theater, Benton Harbor.

The beauties will parade through the twin cities of Benton Harbor and St. Joseph at noon in their annual "parade of pulchritude," a preliminary to the queen contest finals.

"Miss Grand Rapids," Phyllis Winchell, 18 year old brunette, will fly to the contest, her plane being scheduled to arrive at the Benton Harbor airport at 11 a. m. Arriving on the same plane will be Miss Anna York, Traverse City's 1934 cherry queen, who will be one of the five judges in the queen contest.

Connie Legard of Muskegon, queen of the 1934 blossom festival, will be guest of honor at tomorrow's contest. The new queen and her court will go to Chicago Monday.

ENGAGEMENT

Mrs. Lucy B. Jeffrey of 2205 Ridge avenue, Evanston, announces the engagement of her daughter, Marion Elizabeth, to William MacDonald Fanning of Paterson, N. J., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Fanning of Paterson. The wedding will take place in August.

Dashing New 'Gilets' Combine Practicality and Cleverness

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Too much has been said and written about the devastating art of Parisian designers, it's time everybody appreciated what all the Yankee smarties are putting across. For sheer cleverness and stern practicality, combined with dash and all high fashion possible, take a look at the new creations made especially to wear under, or with the popular redingote ensembles. If these new arrivals aren't the last word in ingenuity, nothing will ever take your breath away.

They're called gilets, what they really are, are long slips without a back and no sleeves. The skirt has a knife plaited flounce about four inches deep around the hem—the front vest effect has a fine plaited double frill down the center with prystal buttons. And they slide under your dark wool redingote dress as slick as anything you own, because they are made of silk paper taffeta and dotted with small white spots. You can buy them in red, blue, and brown with the white dots. If you like the separate short underskirts of this same rustling silk, you'll certainly fall for the gilets.

Think what you can do with them, wear them under your dark redingotes now for color harmony and under thin unlined redingotes in pastel tones for color contrast later in the season. Or you can wear them under thin transparent dresses instead of the usual costume slip with some excellent results, and with contrasting short jackets of linen or silk.

Besides being new, and just about the neatest tricks in town, they have low price tags that will enable you to own at least two of the smoothies—one of either navy or brown or the scarlet. If you don't have fun with these new arrivals you've lost your usual clothes enthusiasm.

Fashion photograph . . . showing tailored swank in a spring evening ensemble. The high necked dress is of black net over a silk slip, and contrasted with dazzling white cuffs and collar. The fitted white jacket has twin carnations in scarlet and white for the lapels, long sleeves and flap pockets on the hip. The huge straw sailor is simply trimmed with a bow and ribbon band. Available in a Chicago shop.

Drama Festival Brings 4 Plays to North Shore

Ten Week Season Opens on June 24.

Complete plans for the North Shore Drama festival, to be given in the playhouse of the Country Day school in Winnetka, were announced by its director, Ben Guy Phillips, upon his return from New York yesterday. Four plays will be staged during a season of ten weeks, opening June 24, with six prominent actors and actresses as guest stars.

The guest stars will be Edith Barrett, Eric Dressler, Ernest Glendinning, Jessie Royce Landis, Burgess Meredith, and Frances Starr. The members of the permanent company will be Margaret Arrow, Edith Atwater, J. W. Austin, Harold De Becker, Helen Jefferies, Edgar Kent, Fothringham Lysons, Nellie Malcolm, Brina Ravel, William Post Jr., and Margo Stevenson.

The schedule of production will be as follows:

"Noah," by André Obey, translated by Arthur Wilmurt, a modern French play which bears some resemblance to "The Green Pastures." It was staged with success in New York a few months ago. To open June 24.

"The Man With a Load of Mischief," by Ashley Dukes. A comedy of manners from England, which has been acted in London by Fay Compton, and in California by Ruth Chatterton. The author is a well known English dramatic critic. To open June 24.

"The Crime at Blossom's," a satire of murder mysteries by Modaunt Shairp, which had a run of fourteen months in London. The author's drama, "The Green Bay Tree," had a notable success in New York a year ago. To open July 31.

"Mary Rose," a drama by Sir James Matthew Barrie, first staged in 1920. It is a fantasy with the great war in its background. Ruth Chatterton acted the title role on the American stage. Edith Barrett, remembered for her appearances in "Mrs. Moonlight," will be the central figure in the cast. To open August 19.

Each of these plays will be given twelve performances. On Saturday mornings through the season the Sue Hastings marionette company will give performances for children.

Dora d'Arena to Give Recital for Charity at Civic Opera June 8

North Shore friends of Miss Dora d'Arena, young Chicago coloratura soprano, announced yesterday that she will give a recital at the Chicago Civic Opera house on June 8 for the benefit of charity. Her accompanist will be Dino Bigalli, Civic Opera conductor.

Miss d'Arena's friends are predicting that she will be with the Metropolitan Opera company soon. Six years ago, when she was 18, she declined an engagement with the Civic Opera company, preferring to finish her studies abroad. Since then she has sung at the Dresden Opera, the Royal Opera and the Carlo Felice Opera in Turin; the San Carlo Opera in Naples and the Petruzzelli Opera in Bari.

Miss d'Arena, 24 years old, was born in Chicago of German parentage. She studied in Milan under Mario Malatesta and in Dresdent under Kammersangin Erika Wedekind, once the favorite singer of the former kaiser. While in Dresden the Chicago girl stayed at the home of her uncle, former military tactic teacher of the royal prince of Saxony, and at present commander in chief of the military army of Dresden.

WHEN Adlai E. Stevenson, who had been called in to give a legal opinion at a business meeting or convention of some kind, asked one of the officials how the voting was going, he was assured everything was just as the other wished it. In fact, it reminded the official of a story about Senator Huey P. Long. Senator Long had, it seems, put in a telephone call on election day to a constituent of another county to ask how the voting was going.

"You got 1,500 votes," his henchman reported.

"But it's the number of votes my opponent got that I want to know about," answered the Louisiana senator. "How many did he get?"

There was a moment of surprised silence before the constituent inquired:

"O, does he have to have some, too?"

A SUBURBAN mother is adding to the list of treasures symbolic of her children's childhood the last will and testament drawn up several days ago by her 9 year old daughter. Dated April 28 and written on the child's own note paper with a picture of a little girl watering flowers in one corner, the will allotted her most treasured possessions as follows:

"To my cousins, Barbara and Julie Blossom, my doll house.

"To my friend, Mary Carpenter, my piggy bank.

"To my brother, John, my white mouse.

"To my grandmother, my rabbit.

"To my dear mother, my julrey.

"To my dear daddy, my sailor dress."

"This is Scrambled Eggs, Inc., calling," said a feminine voice at the other end of the wire as he picked up the receiver.

Before he could hang up the woman patiently explained that she was calling from Scrambled Eggs, Inc., toy manufacturers, with offices on Randolph street.

Do you suppose that is the outfit that made the tiny tin frying pans containing a candy egg and a tiny tin spoon one used to buy for a penny at the candy counter? No, it couldn't be, because they were candy fried eggs—not scrambled . . .

"Won't you slip me the price of a meal, ladies?" he whined. "I'm a vegetarian."

THE great popularity of Irving Stone's biography of Vincent Van Gogh, "Lust for Life," has made even those who know nothing about modern art and ordinarily care less want to see his paintings. Thus an exhibition of reproductions of the work of Van Gogh in an art shop in the Palmer house has drawn many curious visitors. One such finally found the exhibit and breathed a sigh of relief when she did so. She had made inquiry of numerous persons in the hotel, she said, but no one seemed to know where the exhibit was being held. She finally had gone to the desk to inquire about it and the clerk, after consulting the register, answered politely:

"I'm sure it's not here. Mr. Van Gogh is not registered here either."

Through the Looking Glass

IT'S still a little chilly for dips in the lake, but it won't be long now. So we've been giving solemn thought and experimentation to a waterproof mascara that turned out to be a honey.

Some one in the beauty profession, a man whose principal interest is the subject of dyes, told us about it. It is NOT a dye. But when you put it on you can weep or swim or even rub your tired eyes with no ill effect.

This is a liquid mascara and requires some deftness of application. Only cold cream removes it—and if you ask us, that's an advantage, because the daily massage with cream will do the lashes a lot of good. We're all inclined to slip up on the business of keeping them oiled—and they do thrive on that. It may be applied with a camel's hair brush or a little glass applicator, both of which are in its box. Don't do the job hastily—if you do and it splatters you must get your cream out to remove the splashes. Be sure you tilt your head backward when you do the upper lashes. For those on the lower lid drop your head forward.

Cream dissolves this lash dressing and should be massaged in with the eyes closed. And be sure you use a cleansing tissue or a soft cloth to remove the cream. If you reach for a handkerchief or a towel, you'll be sorry, because they'll bear marks of mascara forever.

It's claimed that this waterproof mascara will not make the lashes brittle and as far as we could determine the claim is quite true. And in any case the cream massage necessary for removal should take care of any danger of that.

This liquid lash dressing comes in brown or black and can be used on the eyebrows, too.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

There probably never was a company more deserving of the acclaim coming from a jubilee year than the San Carlo company on its present silver jubilee. It means that the company has been carrying the cause of opera here and there in the United States for a full quarter century. What these performances mean in Chicago this week is that the company was never in such good shape as it is now.

"Aida" last night was a performance of experts. Dreda Aves had been obliged to leave the company for unfortunate family reasons, and Elsa Hottinger had been put in to sing the part of Amneris. The result of the change was that there were some of us who began to inquire what was the matter with the various opera managers that they should overlook a contralto of Chicago with such a gorgeous voice, such dignity of bearing, and such a sense of the stage for the rôle. It took Fortune Gallo, he who presents the San Carlo Opera company, to discover that here was an artist capable of putting over the part in first class style.

She was an eminently satisfactory associate for Miss Saroya, who has long been known as a fine Aida; for Mr. Lindi, who sings Radames as though it had been written for him; for Mr. Thomas, the brilliant young baritone who is rapidly making himself an unassailable reputation in opera; for Mr. Kravitt, who sang the part of the high priest with gorgeous tone. In fact, "Aida" last night confirmed an opinion long cherished and sometimes stated that the San Carlo company depends less upon one or two stars than upon a whole company developed into an accurate and expert ensemble.

Once a year the Paulist Choristers of Chicago, directed by the Rev. Eugene O'Malley, appear in a public concert at Orchestra hall. That occasion took place last night. The program was dedicated to the Rev. William J. Finn, founder of the organization and for some years past a resident of New York, under whom Father O'Malley once was a chorister, and given for the benefit of the choir's summer school at Land o' Lakes, Wis.

Both Father Finn and Father O'Malley have always had a peculiar gift for developing boys' voices in an extraordinary manner. The unearthly, almost dehumanized, but unbelievably lovely tone in the soprano section of this choir is something not to be appreciated until it is heard. The "Ave Verum," the second item in last night's Bach group, with Robert Corrigan, William Jordan, and George Lane as soloists, sounded at times in its high notes as though some one had discovered something incredible in the way of musical instruments.

These boys and men have learned an enormous répertoire of all ages and from all schools. Their singing thereof is sheer delight.

THE SLEEPING CHILD

By Alice Grant Rosman.

SYNOPSIS.

Miss Fell scents romance when she sees Miles Buchanan meet Eleanor Chevening, returning from London, at the Fendon railway station. Miles has been forced through adversity to shut up most of the Priory, his inherited home. The girls of the Chevening family of Fendon Edge are pursuing careers, Pauline having had a play produced and now working on a period piece. Eleanor is studying medicine. Jenny, the youngest, runs a smart hat shop with another girl in Knightsbridge, and gets engaged and disengaged now and then. Audrey, an orphaned second cousin, with a talent for design, has for 15 years been as a daughter to Anne and George Chevening, the girls' parents. Pauline uses Audrey's skill for her theater. The Chevenings have a small flat in London for the use of any of the family going to and fro. It is Audrey, however, and not Eleanor, who claims Miles' romantic interest. Miles and Geoffrey Burton are partners in a stock breeding venture. Albert King, wealthy newcomer to Fendon, wants to buy the ruins of an ancient monastery on the Priory grounds. Audrey tells her aunt that she is going to marry Miles. She has invited him to breakfast to make the announcement to the family. There has always been a strange reticence between Audrey and Anne Chevening, despite a great fondness for each other. Anne had been in love with Audrey's father, Hector Chevening. Her parents had broken up the romance and persuaded her to marry his cousin.

INSTALMENT IX.
HER PARENTS' TRAGEDY.

Anne was nearly twenty-four when she married Hector's cousin. George Chevening was the head of the family and everything that Hector was not. She did not love him and he knew it, but it was not in him to believe that she never would. To this day he was convinced that their marriage had been an unqualified success.

It was the early summer of 1919 before she saw Hector again. George had run across him in town quite by accident, looking haggard and ill from war wounds and fever, contracted on service in the east. He was married, he said, had shipped his wife and child home in 1915, and had had nearly four years fighting. Now he was back with them at last and looking round for a job. George Chevening immediately invited the three of them to spend a week or two at Fendon Edge. He did not guess, and Hector was not the man to tell him, that they were subsisting on his fast diminishing war gratuity, and that for him as for the thousands of other demobilized men the prospects of work seemed nil.

They came. Hector's wife, Molly, was pretty and discontented and only too glad to deposit the round-eyed Audrey in the nurseries and leave her there, saying that she was not so lucky as to have been able to afford a nurse for the child. In the same spirit of rather ostentatious envy she saw everything else about the place and seemed resentful and even contemptuous of Hector because he could not provide such a home. Anne, sorry for the girl, tried to be kind to her, but Molly was not interested in other women and devoted herself to George, who good natured and seeing nothing unusual, petted and made much of her.

knew that nothing else mattered in all the world. She loved him as she had always loved him; afterward she was to be convinced that it must have been written on her face. And there had been moments at least when if he had said, "Come away with me," she could not have denied him. But he did not say it. Had there been nothing else to hold him what could he have done for her on a gross capital of £50?

At the end of a fortnight the guests departed, Hector laughing at his wife's reluctance and talking largely about a post which had been offered him and which he would probably accept. He had had letters, the offer was from a brother officer, he said. He even gave vague details and it did not enter their heads to doubt his word.

Then ten days' silence and the tragedy, George Chevening sent for at midnight by the police.

Such happenings were all too common in those days, and coroners up and down the country talked of the war which had given the men who fought it this easy habit of taking life. And here was another poor fellow, broken by sickness, wounds, and financial worry, momentarily out of his mind. It was all quite clear to the coroner. There had been no witnesses, but there was evidence of a struggle; the wife no doubt had tried to defend herself. Neighbors, hearing shots, had rushed in too late, except to carry from the adjoining room Hector Chevening's child, unhurt.

"Unhurt?" Anne could never recall the word in this connection without a shudder. The dreadful complaisance of it! for how could they tell and who would ever know?

Hector Chevening had a sister, a selfish, childless woman, for whom he cared nothing, but she was chiefly concerned with what she termed the dreadful disgrace, and loudly disclaimed the possibility of doing anything for her brother's child. George, disgusted, told her curtly the matter was arranged and immediately the inquest was over carried young Audrey home to Fendon Edge.

"I knew you'd be with me, Anne," he said. "It would be unthinkable to leave her to that old crow. I always liked poor Hector and so did you. In fact, you were more than half in love with him long ago, eh?"

"Half in love?"

It seemed to Anne afterward that something must have died in her that she had not struck his persistent blindness from his eyes, shouted the truth aloud and shown him his own responsibility. For it had been his wretched head-of-the-family attitude which had brought the Hector Chevenings to the house and precipitated the whole tragedy. Of her own responsibility she could have no doubt.

Whatever had happened had been unpremeditated. No letters were found. There was still money in the bank though not much, and Hector would have known that in case of need he could apply to George to tide him over—had he not still loved her and known that she loved him. Molly, of course, had seen it in her face, and perhaps flung the information at him in one of her rages, taunting him. Or he, realizing there was no way out for them, ill and harassed too, had momentarily lost his reason and caught up his service revolver to end it all. And Molly had struggled with him . . . no use. It was all conjecture. They would never know.

How much had she seen or heard or understood? They could not ask her, it would have been unthinkable, only gather her up and take her to the other children, see that she did not lie awake, that she was busy and amused and never alone, and give her every chance to forget.

But to hold her fast, to have even the poor physical comfort of loving Hector's daughter, that she would not permit herself. It would have seemed a treacherous bid for an answering affection to which she had no right, seeing what was between them. If Anne's mind was sick she did not know it. As Audrey grew up, never quite natural and at ease with her, that seemed only a proof that she had been right, and not a result of her own too scrupulous self-denial.

Generally Audrey Chevening could carry her lightness of spirit with no troubling sense of the deeps behind, and if this habit had grown upon her gradually as the most convenient method of meeting the world into which she had been thrust, she was hardly aware of it.

A child who had known few other children, and whose seven years had held little of order or security, had been easy material to absorb into the young life at Fendon Edge. Four, after all, is a much more convenient number than three in any community of children, and a fourth as ready as young Audrey to be used and instructed and drawn into every activity, suited the other three down to the ground. When they thought her immense ignorance funny and laughed at her, she was charmed to amuse them, and so instinctively perhaps she found her niche and her part to play.

In time it had carried her successfully through her school days, and the years at the art school where she was known as the cock-sparrow from her impudence and a habit of flying off at the least approach. Though she had enjoyed all that quite well, had worked, played and made friends, she was happier to be done with it and back at Fendon Edge.

But now the world had changed for her in the night and all her airy deferences were of no avail.

Driving home from the theater after a perfect evening she and Miles had almost quarreled for the first time in their long friendship, she thinking he wanted to sell the Priory ruins to Mr. King; he savagely certain that she only wanted him to keep them because they could be seen from Fendon Edge.

Foundation Cream Excellent.

H. L.: Yes, a foundation cream is an excellent thing. You need smooth on only the tiniest bit lightly and evenly. A little goes a long way. You will be delighted at the difference it makes in the smoothness and freshness of your makeup. It may be used by all except the excessively oily skinned.

Foods Containing Vitamin A.

Mrs. H. McD.: Generous supplies of vitamin A will be found in carrots, oranges, pineapples, prunes, beans, cabbage, lettuce, peas, spinach, squash and tomatoes. Egg yolks, too. Start in with cod liver oil now. A recent experiment in a large factory showed there were fewer absentees among the employés who took cod liver oil daily.

Shirley Temple Gets Deluge of Birthday Gifts

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., April 30.—[Special.]—Thirty children, most of them youngsters whose fathers or mothers are newspaper people who know Shirley professionally, helped the movies' biggest little star celebrate her birthday in Café de Paris at Fox studio last week-end.

Shirley was assisted by her stand-in, Marilyn Granas, in greeting her guests, whose ages ranged from 2 years to 15. The Fox studio café never had such shrill and sustained squeals of rapt pleasure as arose from the thirty young throats as they helped Shirley inspect her birthday gifts.

Prominent among the abundant presents were these: Two big Italian Lenci character dolls, the gift of Winfield R. Sheehan, boss of the studio; a ukulele from the Honolulu Shirley Temple Children's Fan club, twenty children's books, a big package from Joel McCrea, which was too large and too heavy for the guest of honor to open by herself, and which her mother, Mrs. George Temple, didn't get around to opening because the heap of gifts was too high; a large basket of mixed flowers from Jimmy Dunn, bearing this card: "Not half as beautiful as you, Shirley," plus a large stuffed kitten made of fur; a tremendous bouquet of flowers from Buddy Desylva, music composer and film executive; a Japanese silk robe of turquoise blue, lined with pale pink, from Edward Dutcher, a producer at the studio; a large china basket from the Shirley Temple New York Fan club, which was done up like a bon voyage basket and was filled with interesting looking little wrapped packages of toys, cakes, candies, novelties, and jeweled trinkets.

After the dinner the company was taken en masse to watch a Punch and Judy show and an entertainment given by Freckles, a most diverting little female Boston bull terrier. When the time came for good-bys Shirley shook hands with each guest and presented each with an autographed picture of herself.

The birthday party was a double celebration of Shirley's sixth anniversary and the windup of her first year of film work for Fox studio at $1,000 a week. Shirley's salary moves up to around $1,250 for the coming year.

CONQUERING CONTRACT

By P. HAL SIMS

THE DELAYED BID.

Neither the bidding nor the play on this hand is particularly outstanding. Mr. Aggressive was extremely proud of his waiting tactics, however, after it was all over. Mr. Conservative, sitting north, dealt.

Mr. Conservative naturally passed, and Mr. Aggressive, holding nine spades, also passed. His reasons for so doing were as follows:

First. With my distribution, it's almost impossible that some one at the table won't open the bidding.

Second. If I open the bidding, I am misleading my partner. I haven't enough high-card strength, despite my unusual distribution, to permit the hand being played in anything but spades. If my partner has no spades, or a singleton, I may easily be forced too high before I can sign off the bidding and show a misfit.

Third. If the opponents open the bidding, I am certain to come in later, and may be doubled at a contract which I can make. Even if I'm set, it will be a good sacrifice. Or I may be able to force them too high.

Just as he had surmised, Mrs. Conservative opened the bidding with a diamond. Mrs. Aggressive passed, and Mr. Conservative bid a heart. Knowing that this bid was a force, Mr. Aggressive again passed, mentally patting himself on the back for his astuteness.

Mrs. Conservative had mixed up one of her clubs with her lone spade, therefore she bid two diamonds, instead of showing her five-card club suit. Mr. Conservative, encouraged by the opponents' passing, didn't like to let the bidding die. Three diamonds was his next response.

At this point, Mr. Aggressive felt that bidding showed signs of coming to a creaking stop. He defiantly said, "four spades!"—his first bid.

Every one at the table turned and stared at him. "Did you say four spades, dear?" inquired his wife, who was mentally wondering if her husband hadn't been playing too much bridge lately.

"Yes, I said four spades. Well, what are you going to do about it?" [This, to Mrs. Conservative.]

Mrs. Conservative didn't exactly know. The more she thought about the bid, the less she liked it. She felt very much aggrieved at Mr. Aggressive. Here she was approaching a game in diamonds by easy stages—and he suddenly throws a monkey wrench into the works. She finally bid five diamonds, and Mrs. Aggressive doubled quickly, before her husband should get any more odd ideas.

It so happens that four spades cannot be made, because Mr. Aggressive cannot get in dummy to finesse the spades. He loses a heart, a club, and two spades. If he tries to get in dummy with the king of hearts, he goes down two. Mrs. Conservative, however, who was still thinking in an irritated way about the four spade bid, managed to lose two diamonds and two clubs on the hand.

"Wasn't that a fine double?" asked his wife.

"Perfect," he replied genially.

Many Society Folk Take New Homes Today

The junior Carter H. Harrisons have gone to Spring Lake, N. J., for the summer and have rented their house in Lake Forest to the W. Hart Johnstons. The Harrison farm at Barrington is not rented, for Mr. Harrison plans to commute between Chicago and the sea shore and he will occupy the farm house when he is here.

The move that the Harlan B. Eldreds made recently was a long one, and a sad one for their Lake Forest friends, for they went to California.

T. W. Ritchies Get House Ready for Lessees.

Mrs. Thomas W. Ritchie is getting her lovely house on Indian Hill road in Winnetka ready for the lessees who will occupy it during the summer. The former Elizabeth Beidler and her husband, Robert Carton, are coming from their home in Brussels late in May to spend the summer near her mother, Mrs. Francis Beidler of Lake Forest. Mrs. Beidler will be back from a winter in Palm Beach by the time the Cartons arrive. Mrs. Ritchie's plans for the summer are not settled yet, but she may go to England for a visit.

Young Willett N. Gorham has joined the ranks of commuting farmers, for he and his wife and baby son moved on Monday from a town apartment to a small farm four miles west of Winnetka.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Isaacs Jr. have moved from a house on Green Bay road to one on Mellody road and the Ewing T. Webbs have taken the one formerly occupied by the Isaacs.

The John S. Broeksmits are other Lake Foresters who will have moving vans backed up to their door today for they are moving into the James E. Baum house at 550 Spruce street.

The J. Beach Clows have moved from 40 West Schiller street to the apartment at 70 Cedar, left vacant when the Chauncey B. Blairs moved to 1320 North State street.

Raymond O. Mitchells to Take Lindsays' Wayne Farm House.

The Raymond Otis Mitchells will spend June and July at Wayne in the attractive little farmhouse of the young Charles R. Lindsays, who will be in the east for these two months.

The former Barbara Dunham and her husband, John L. Dole, and their children, are moving from the house in the village of Wayne that they have had during the cold weather, into the old Dunham "castle." Just when Mrs. Dole's mother, Mrs. Wirth S. Dunham, will return from a trip around the world is indefinite, but she is expected in the early summer.

Neither the Edward R. Litsingers nor their daughters, Mrs. Wilbur C. Smith and Mrs. Eugene Cary Jr., and their husbands, will occupy the Litsingers' large and hospitable home in Lake Forest this summer, for it is rented to the junior H. Edward Manvilles. The Manvilles just have moved to Lake Forest from New York, much to the joy of their friends here. Mrs. Manville, the former Ethel Schniewind of New York, went to Farmington with several Chicago girls, including Mrs. George A. Poole Jr. (Ellen Stewart) and Mrs. Louis C. Sudler (Mary Barnes), and Mr. Manville was a classmate of the men who were graduated from Yale in 1929.

Shannon-Street Wedding Is Set for June 15.

Miss Katharine Street and James Reid Shannon have chosen June 15 for their wedding day. The ceremony will take place at 4:30 o'clock in Christ church, Winnetka, with a reception afterwards at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Harry L. Street, on Sheridan road, Winnetka. It will be the same kind of a wedding that the former Jeanne Street had when she became Mrs. Thomas Knorr last summer. The Rev. E. Ashley Gerhard and the bride's uncle Dr. Charles Street, head of St. Albans' school, will officiate.

Mrs. Knorr will be her sister's matron of honor and two other sisters, Miss Marjorie and Miss Harriett, will attend as maid of honor and bridesmaid, respectively. Miss Virginia Shannon, the bridegroom's sister, and Miss Eleanor Bovenizer, the bride's roommate at Mount Vernon seminary, will be in the wedding party.

James Pinkney of Denver will serve Mr. Shannon as best man, and ushering will Mr. Knorr, William Bradshaw of Philadelphia, and Dr. Dumont Clark, Jack Harris, Shields Mason, and Lloyd Hughes, all of Denver.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen B. Jones have returned from a winter in London and are at home in their Lake Forest home. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gladwin of California are visiting them. The Gladwins will go east in June for the graduation of Mrs. Gladwin's daughter, Miss Nora McCurdy, from Bryn Mawr.

Mrs. Foltz Fay of New York is here visiting her sister, Miss Frieda Foltz, at 37 East Division street. Mrs. Fay used to live here, so when she visits in Chicago she is kept very busy being entertained by her own and her sister's many friends.

Mrs. Street, Katharine and Marjorie moved from an apartment on Astor street which they have been occupying for the last two winters to their home in Winnetka last week. Harriett is a student at Vassar college.

The arrival of Dean C. Scott Porter of Amherst college in Chicago has occasioned a revival of college spirit among the alumni here, and is the cause of at least two pleasant evenings. Last night Dr. Porter was a guest in the home of George T. Treadwell at 414 Essex road, Kenilworth. Hamilton Moses Jr. has invited several young men to his home at 70 Scott street tomorrow night to meet Dr. Porter.

Erect Posture Postpones Old Age Symptoms

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

It isn't about what time does to our modern woman, but what it doesn't do, that one should be writing.

I saw Irene Castle the other afternoon. Her name, perhaps, is one of the few as familiar to the younger generation today as to their parents. There have been frequent references made to her part in the bobbed hair revolution.

She stands up to an audience and tells them it was 20 years ago that she and Vernon Castle were dancing the Castle Walk in "Watch Your Step," in which, history records, they were packing them in at the New Amsterdam theater. And, while she stands before her 1935 audience, about the only suggestion one can find of the passing years is in the gray-flecked hair. She told her audience a story about how her mother, in her 60s, could be mistaken for a young girl by one walking behind her because of her remarkable posture.

In Miss Castle's dancing days, 20 years ago, when, she said, she could boast a tiny waist, her mother could wear her dresses. This was told to illustrate the importance of posture which, in Miss Castle's opinion, is everything. No one is in a better position to talk the youthful, age-beating value of posture.

BY MARY MEADE.

Bread pudding probably has been withered by more scornful looks and snubbed by more indignant folks of all ages than any other one dish, excepting, perhaps, milk toast. Well, we think milk toast can be fixed pretty temptingly, too, but that's beside the point today. Right now the issue before the house is the concoction of such thoroughly delightful puddings made from bread that they'll soar right up to popularity in the dessert field.

Of course, there's one definite catch in devising interesting bread puddings. Nobody wants to be ridiculed by a little verse like this one, whose author is, unfortunately, not known to us.

I found a little crust of bread that must not go to waste,
So, by a famous recipe, I seasoned it to taste.
I used six eggs, a pint of cream, some citron and some spice,
Two lemons, dates, and raisins, and a brimming cup of rice.
It took a lot of things, I know [that's how the cookbook read],
And no one cared for it—but, oh! I saved that crust of bread!

With the folly of extravagance in our bread pudding making thus firmly dinned into our minds, let's consider these simple, inexpensive and, moreover, delicious desserts.

Banana Butterscotch Bread Pudding.

2 cups cubed stale bread
1 quart scalded milk
1 cup brown sugar
4 tablespoons butter
2 eggs, slightly beaten
Few grains salt
1 large banana.

Soak the cubed bread in the hot milk. Add the brown sugar and butter, which have been gently browned together, then the eggs, and salt. Combine with the sliced bananas in a buttered baking dish, and bake for an hour in a moderately slow oven, 325 degrees F.

Whole Wheat Marmalade Pudding.

2 cups whole wheat bread crums
1 quart scalded milk
4 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons melted butter
2 eggs, slightly beaten
Few grains salt
½ cup orange marmalade

Soak the crums in the hot milk. Cool, and combine with the other ingredients. Bake in a buttered casserole in a moderately slow oven for one hour.

Toasted Coconut Pudding.

1 cup cubed stale bread
2 cups scalded milk
2 tablespoons melted butter
1-3 cup sugar
Few grains salt
½ teaspoon almond extract
1 cup toasted coconut
2 eggs, slightly beaten

Combine the bread cubes and milk with the other ingredients. [The coconut is toasted in a moderate oven, and stirred frequently.] Bake in a moderate oven for 45 minutes or until firm.

Chocolate bread pudding stays in the old standby class until it's insidiously flattered by a distinctive sauce. One to be recommended is a tart pineapple sauce. The sauce is made from 2 cups of pineapple juice, boiled up with a piece of lemon rind, and finally added to 5 tablespoons of sugar, which have been melted to a golden brown hue. Heat these together and stir in 2 teaspoons of cornstarch, which has been dissolved in a little cold water. Cook until thickened, and add the juice of a lemon. It's really good!

Summer Demands a Shirtwaist

WOMAN'S AND MISS' DRESS.

A shirtwaist dress always is wearable, and the one sketched today is especially pretty. The center seam in the skirt, with plaits let in at the bottom, is becoming, and the plaits allow freedom of movement. The shoulder yoke, the buttoned front opening, the patch pockets, and short sleeves all go to make up a smart dress. Tub silks and linens will make up well.

The pattern, No. 2550, comes in sizes 14, 16, and 18 years, and 36, 38, and 40 inches bust measure.

Overlook Misbehavior When He's Fagged Out.

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

And the kitten got under his feet and tripped him, and he fell sprawling to the floor. The air was rent with a loud wail which turned into a regular crying spell.

"Why, Donnie!" said his mother, who was getting supper and could see all this from the kitchen, "pick yourself up and stop crying. You didn't hurt yourself, honey—be a good sport."

But her sensible words had no effect, and a real little comforting session was necessary to stop the tears.

What would be disregarded by a child at 10 in the morning might easily become a minor tragedy at 5:30 in the afternoon. Tiredness changes the color of things to a child—just as it does to us.

The tired child is, in a way, not responsible. He shouldn't be held to account for his crossness, or easy tears, or signs of temper or irritability.

When a child is obviously tired, just as much should be overlooked as possible. The one aim should be under those circumstances to get him to bed as quickly as possible.

The tired child needs special handling.

Simple Quilt Is Perfect Subject for the Amateur

Patterns of this design quilt are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices: One South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower.

Honeysuckle.

BY NANCY CABOT.

Rose and green combine perfectly to make the good looking quilt block illustrated today. "Honeysuckle" is one of the simpler applique designs, which the novice may attempt without hesitation. The block measures 10 inches square when completed, and 42 applique blocks are required. A half inch border to match the plain blocks makes a neat finish and one not difficult to accomplish.

With her book of quilts, Nancy Cabot now offers 10 patterns of her own choice at a combination price of 10 cents [12 cents by mail]. The booklet alone is 5 cents; by mail, 7 cents. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

PARIS TODAY

By MAY BIRKHEAD.

PARIS.—Every one who has lived a long time in Paris knows how bitterly a large section of the population resent the disappearance of old landmarks. But, of course, there is the eternal question of progress, and light and air and new dwellings to replace hovels, and the freer circulation demanded by present day conditions. So the city authorities of Paris, like those of every ancient city, are constantly trying to smooth out the differences which arise between the lovers of the old and the amateurs of the new.

The other day there was quite a fluttering of the dovecotes when it was announced that soon one of the oldest quarters of Paris would soon be demolished. Now the district in question is hard to describe. It lies across the Seine from Notre Dame, and is on the left bank, being roughly bounded by the Boulevard St. Michel and the Boulevard St. Germain, hence near the Cluny museum, which so many travelers to Paris know, and not far from the Sorbonne and the Collège de France. Some visitors here will remember the picturesque churches, such as that of St. Severin, in this region, and also St. Julien le Pauvre. Let us hasten to add that these two venerable structures will be saved, for they have long been officially classified as historical monuments.

But hundreds of ancient buildings, many of them in varying degrees of dilapidation, will be torn down. New streets will be cut through this quarter, and hundreds of modern buildings will replace the old ones.

This part of Paris is still extremely curious. The Church of St. Séverin dates from the thirteenth century. When it was enlarged in 1855, some old streets went by the board, one of them Doll street, or La Rue Poupée. The original church on this site is believed to have been put up as early as the fourth century. Near it is a little street called the Rue du Fouarre, taking its name from the time, in the middle ages, when the students who flocked to Paris from many countries sat on straw on the floor, and even in the street, to hear the lessons of their masters. There the Colleges of the Four Nations—France, Normandy, Picardy, and England—gave instruction in letters and philosophy. It was long believed that Dante followed courses there late in the thirteenth century, but it is hard to prove his presence.

The Church of St. Julien le Pauvre is reputed to be on the site of the oldest church in Paris. In 1892, it was given over to Greek Catholic—not Greek Orthodox—worship, and many Parisians go there today for their devotions. At the right of the entrance is a well, which was in the church itself before the structure was shortened, and this well is believed to date from the twelfth century.

Another monument in this district which will be saved bears the name of Colbert, and is considered, wrongly perhaps, to have once been the residence of the famous minister of Louis XIV.

Taking 'Puppy' Love Seriously Habit of Teens

Youngsters Should Avoid Dashing to Altar.

BY DORIS BLAKE.

All you little 17 year olds who are "desperately in love" and know "this is no schoolgirl crush but the real thing" ought just to take it out on some movie hero, one whom you're not apt to encounter in real life. There's less danger in this sort of crush, and less heartache in store for you.

Of course, you think you're terribly grown up at 17; that mom and dad don't know a thing about it; that they never knew love as you and your Bill or Tom or Rudy are suffering it. But take it from your good old Auntie Blake that what you're sufferings are merely growing pains.

What I'm anxious to have you do is not to take the teen age crushes so seriously. Have them, by all means. We wouldn't deprive you of them for anything in the world. But don't take them as if this was the last man you were ever bound to meet. You'll meet plenty more.

You youngsters can't think of marrying for years yet.

You'll go on to bigger and better victories. You'll have a better style with boys if you get around and have a number of them as friends now. If you get yourself choked off in a corner with one boy and cling desperately to him, or let him cling that way to you, you'll never get any experience in choosing and discarding until finally THE HERO comes along.

It is a familiar question when the visitor to New York at last goes home . . . how will you answer "Where did you stay?" . . . there will be a sense of satisfaction in saying "Pierre's" . . . and there will be the deeper satisfaction of knowing from experience that all the compliments that admiring guests lavish on Pierre's are TRUE.

Scientist Reports 60,000,000 People Do Not Get Enough Iodine In Their Daily Food, That Iodine Starvation Thins and Devitalizes Blood—Weakens Glands—Lowers Resistance to Disease.

Why Kelpamalt, Rich in Newer Form of NATURAL IODINE, So Quickly Builds Up Even Naturally Skinny, Weak, Rundown Folks—Over 1,000,000 People Annually Taking It in This Country Alone to Add Pounds of Solid Flesh, Increase Strength, Power, Energy and Endurance.

Thousands of people are right this minute going around thin, tired, rundown, half sick, never knowing what it feels like to be well, all because their normal diet is deficient in a vitally important element—NATURAL IODINE. Scientists now know that the blood, liver and other vital glands of the body contain definite quantities of iodine which heretofore have been difficult to obtain. Modern foodstuffs, even fresh vegetables and so-called "good foods," have recently been discovered to be lacking not only in NATURAL IODINE but in all other natural essential minerals without which strength and health are impossible. One of the leading health authorities in the country, a short while ago, in a report to the United States Senate, stated that 60,000,000 people do not get enough iodine in their daily food, and that iodine deficiency was our foremost national health problem—one that should be speedily solved.

Only recently, specialists have discovered an amazing natural mineral concentrate—Kelpamalt—now available in pleasant, easy-to-take tablets made from a luxuriant sea plant from the Pacific Ocean combined with diastatic malt extract. It provides in easily assimilable form 13 elements essential to the proper metabolic functions of the human body.

Supplies NATURAL IODINE in Newer Form

And most important, Kelpamalt is the richest known source of the newer form of NATURAL IODINE—not to be confused with iodine made from iodides or other chemicals which often-times prove toxic, but the same iodine that is present in spinach and lettuce in tiny quantities. Eminent scientists, speaking of this amazing Pacific Ocean plant, say, "It is a carrier of iodine of remarkable properties and a high content of other useful elements. The advantage to be had from consciously taking as a diet amendment a concentrate of mineral matter in tablet form must not be overlooked . . . it should be made available for all people of all lands."

Six Kelpamalt tablets in a day will provide as much iodine as is necessary for the requirements of the body. Six Kelpamalt tablets will supply as much iodine as 486 lbs. of spinach, or 1666 lbs. of beef, or 1387 lbs. of lettuce, or 522 lbs. of oranges. It can be readily seen, therefore, what an amazing part Kelpamalt Tablets play in satisfying the iodine requirements of the human system.

Kelpamalt tablets, by mixing with your food, aid in the remineralization of the system. First they stimulate the digestive glands which produce the juices that alone enable you to assimilate fats and starches, the weight making elements of your daily diet. Secondly, its generous supply of NATURAL IODINE normalizes the vital organ which regulates metabolism—the process whereby the body is constantly building firm solid flesh, new strength and energy.

3 Kelpamalt Tablets Contain:
1. More Iron and Copper than 1 lb. of spinach, 7½ lbs. fresh tomatoes, 3 lbs. of asparagus.
2. More Calcium than 1 lb. of cabbage.
3. More Phosphorus than 1½ lbs. of carrots.
4. More Sulphur than 2 lbs. of tomatoes.
5. More Sodium than 3 lbs. of turnips.
6. More Potassium than 6 lbs. of beans.
7. More Magnesium than 1 lb. of celery.

MAKE THIS TEST

If you are thin, sunken-cheeked, hollow-chested, rundown and underweight, you will find this simple test well worth while. First, weigh yourself. Then see how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next, take two or three Kelpamalt Tablets with each meal for 8 days. Then weigh yourself and test your strength again, and see how much you have gained.

Thousands of weak, nervous, rundown, skinny folks report amazing results. Practically every person who uses Kelpamalt gets a vastly improved appetite. Hosts of people find new strength and increased energy, and from their sworn statements show a gain in weight of 5, 10, 15 and as much as 23 lbs.

Kelpamalt is something new and entirely different from anything you have ever used before. It actually effects a remineralization of the system. Fine for children, too. Improves their appetite. So remarkable are the benefits from these highly concentrated tablets that entire satisfaction is guaranteed or the small amount you pay for the trial will be promptly refunded.

WHISKOLO WINS DERBY TRIAL; CHANCE SUN 7TH

Widener Withdraws His Colt.

BULLETIN.

Lexington, Ky., April 30.—(AP)—Joseph E. Widener announced tonight that Chance Sun, winter book favorite, will not start in the Kentucky Derby at Louisville Saturday.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

DICK THOMPSON.

This colt, owned by Mrs. Ethel V. Mars of Oak Park, which ran second in the California Derby and the Texas Derby, served notice today that he is in the thick of the fight for Saturday's Kentucky Derby.

Out of a stirring battle during the running of the Derby Preparation purse he dashed up from behind and was the winner by half a length. Tearout also came with a late drive to be second, and Whopper, the giant from Hal Price Headley's stable, after taking what appeared to be a commanding lead at the head of the stretch, finished third.

Chance Sun Fails.

Prince Splendor, owned by Thomas C. Worden of Chicago, was fourth, and Chance Sun, the early future book favorite, served final notice on the folks who had bet oodles of money on him that he is no account and will hardly deport himself properly at the Derby party Saturday. He finished seventh and was badly beaten all the way, not only by the horses that finished in front of him, but also by Jocky Wayne Wright, who whipped the tar out of him from start to finish.

Whiskolo, which had been stoutly backed by a smart crowd of plungers from Chicago, ran the mile in 1:37 4-5, and his winning effort wasn't anything to get excited about. Peace Chance won the same race a year ago in the fast time of 1:35 4-5; still he wasn't in the money on Derby day.

Yet the colt from Oak Park was pointed correctly for this engagement, and he seemed to have just enough left to stage his stretch rally and hang on long enough to get the decision. He was ridden by Willie Garner and paid $8 for a two dollar ticket.

He Had Some Left.

Whiskolo, a son of the great route runner Diavolo and out of the mare Stonechat, clearly was best of this field, and of the others Whopper showed to the better advantage. He worked on out a mile and an eighth in 1:52 3-5, and was going very easily at the finish. Prince Splendor, Calumet Dick, Bluebeard, Finance, and Jawapa were all beaten just about as soundly as Chance Sun.

Not many more monkey wrenches can now be hurled into the Derby situation, although there is a chance some one of the many candidates will work so fast tomorrow morning that the race will present an entirely new complexion.

Most of the leading candidates took things easy today. They will be asked to go through their last hard workouts tomorrow morning.

The drill which will command most attention will be the one in which Col. Edward R. Bradley's Boxthorn engages. Trainer Dick Thompson plans to send the big son of Blue Larkspur over the mile and a quarter Derby route at 6:30 o'clock in the morning.

Nellie Rests Up.

The favorite, Today, also will get his final edging up at an early hour and he, too, may go the Derby route. Plat Eye, with Jocky Coucci in the saddle, will be asked to show how far he can run at top speed. Omaha, Roman Soldier, St. Bernard, Commonwealth, Sun Fairplay, and Chance View are the others who will attempt to show their true form in this final rehersal.

Nellie Flag, the great filly which will endeavor to win the Derby for Warren Wright of Chicago, will take things easy. "She's had all the work she needs," her trainer, Bert Williams, declared this morning. Many trainers here agree she is the picture of fitness and perhaps will be the best trained horse in the field.

Many visitors have dropped in at Mose Goldblatt's stable to take a look at the favorite, Today. He, too, is in trim, but to many horsemen he appeared to be light in the hind quarters, so light, some of them said, that he will find the job of packing 126 pounds a mile and a quarter a pretty stiff assignment.

Omaha, stabled in the barn adjoining the Wright stable, shipped well from New York. He likewise appears to be ready for the race of his life. He has a horde of backers, but here and there are some skeptics who are firmly convinced he lacks the necessary desire to win.

They say he runs like a champion until he catches up with horses in front of him, but once up with them he is content to go along and take things easy. His record both this year and last bears out this argument to an extent.

Talking It Over

[Copyright: 1935: By The Chicago Tribune.]

THE report lacks official confirmation, but you can put it down that Notre Dame and Minnesota will meet on the gridiron in 1937 and 1938. . . . The first game will be played in Minneapolis. . . . Frankie Frisch says Tony Lazzeri of the Yankees is the hustlingest player in baseball. . . . Ade Schumacher, intramural sport director at Northwestern, is facing open rebellion from the horseshoe pitchers, who want regulation courts or they won't compete in the interfraternity matches. . . . A Toledo high school not long ago had a star colored half back named Brown who was the youngest member of a large family. . . . His parents decided Finish would be an appropriate first name. . . . A few years later, however, came another little Brown, so they called him P. S. . . . Babe Ruth has hit home runs on nine of the 21 opening days during his major league career. . . . He was a pitcher for the Boston Red Sox when he got his first two in 1915 and 1918. . . . Some of THE TRIBUNE's foreign correspondents who have been interested in amateur boxing the last few years say the Italian champions, who sail today to fight Chicago Golden Gloves winners on May 22, are the strongest team Europe has sent to Chicago. . . .

George Van der Hoef, captain of the University of Chicago fencing team in 1932, is in charge of radio work of the Federal Housing bureau in Washington. . . . Union City, N. J., will give a civic reception to Jimmy Braddock on May 26. . . . Marines replaced ball players in the march to the flagpole at Fenway park in Boston this year because Eddie Collins, Red Sox business manager, said he knew he couldn't march when he was a player and he didn't see why other players should be made ridiculous. . . . Bill Hayward, Oregon coach, rates Bob Parke the greatest javelin thrower in the world for his size. Parke weighs only 175 pounds and stands 5 feet 10 inches. . . . He won the national intercollegiate javelin throw last spring with a mark of 220 feet 11⅝ inches. . . . John Whitehead, White Sox pitcher, suffered a broken finger while fielding a batted ball early last season at Dallas. . . . The injury incapacitated him for seven weeks, but he finished with 10 victories. . . . Elmer Layden says Bill Shuler of the Army is one of the best ends he has seen. . . . Harry Wills, the old heavyweight contender who has fasted 30 days each year for the last 23 years, claims he never has had a headache. . . .

Bud Hafey, young outfielder with the White Sox, has a penchant for collecting pipes and smoking them. . . . He has 30 different varieties in his possession and frequently lights up three or four of them in a day. . . . Hafey is looking forward eagerly to his first eastern trip. . . . He thinks he will be able to buy some stylish numbers not available on the west coast. . . .

Howard, Kidder, Clark, and Probst make up the first string back field Southern California has been using in spring practice. . . . After Otto Kuss, Indiana post graduate student, had lost his first professional wrestling match to Ed Lewis a short time ago he remarked: "When he put that headlock on me I felt as though my head had been caught in a vise, and when I finally succeeded in getting a headlock on him it was like trying to throw a horse." . . . They say that James Norris Sr., who controls Chicago Stadium, also will gain control of Madison Square Garden in New York before June 1. . . . If the plan works out Jimmy Johnston will be removed as matchmaker at the Garden. . . .

When the Sox and Pirates were touring the west and south this spring, Mule Haas' greeting to Jim Weaver, 6 foot 6 inch pitcher, was "Hello, Elephant Jocky." . . . Jack Ryder, Cincinnati baseball writer, was Ohio State's first football coach. . . . Ty Cobb, who owns four apartment buildings and numerous houses, charges all rentals by the week. . . . This gives him a chance to collect for those extra three days in 31 day months. . . .

Ten Years Ago Today—Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt's Sarazen, with Earl Sande up, won the $25,000 Dixie stakes at Pimlico. . . . The body identified as Young Griffo, former boxer, was found to be George Donnelly. . . . Jim McMillen won on a foul from Paul Martinson in his Chicago debut as a professional wrestler. . . . A record entry of 443 was filed in the national open golf tournament.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

FEED BOX DOPE.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 30.—[Special.]—Nellie Flag, sole representative of her sex in the sixty-first Kentucky Derby Saturday, was not ready for gentlemen callers as we pulled up before the Warren Wright barn at Churchill Downs early this morning. We saw wild scurrying of a feminine figure in déshabillé and heard from within Nellie's unmistakable soprano neigh, "Just a few seconds, Wake, until I put on some more clothes and some makeup and I'll be right out."

"Don't mind me," we called. "I'm not fussy and besides I have astigmatism."

"That'll be about all from you," retorted Nellie as she emerged from her dressing room, rushed over and implanted with her muzzle a resounding smack on our forehead which left its telltale imprint of lipstick just as you have seen night club entertainers do to baldheaded customers at the front tables.

Miss Flag, although we know her well enough to call her by her first name, wore a studio morning robe of devil red with blue bars at sleeves and collar, the Calumet farm stable colors. This robe, modest enough, disclosed a bit of her chest, and because it was not drawn closely at the bottom revealed flashes of attractive sturdy underpinning — not the curves of Mae West nor the graceful suppleness of Ginger Rogers, but more like the athletic power of Helen Jacobs.

"Nothing to be ashamed of there," we remarked.

"You and your astigmatism. There's nothing wrong with your eyes," laughed Nellie, following our glance and pulling the robe more closely about her.

"Same old Wake; can't resist teasing, even if it is an unholy early hour for a gentleman to be calling on a lady."

"Well, Nellie, you don't mind if I call you Nell, our Nell, do you?" we bantered.

"Call me anything you like, only don't call me quite so early next time," she retorted in kind.

"Well then, Nell," we continued in mock seriousness, "I suppose you are going to do what no other lady except Regret has done in 60 runnings of the Derby and——"

"Don't be like that. Be yourself," interrupted Nellie. "Just because Mata Hari and Bazaar last year proved disappointing is no reason to form prejudiced conclusions. I'm serious about this matter—now stop your smiling—of the turf emancipation of our sex. Mrs. F. D. R.—Eleanor, you know—is interested in me and in our cause, too. Did you know she's going to recommend founding a colony in South Carolina for underprivileged fillies? She wants these forgotten girls to have

AURORA TO OPEN ILLINOIS RACING SEASON TODAY

Remodeled Track Ready for Inaugural Event.

BY BRUCE DENNIS.

This is the day the horses start running in Illinois. Not the king's horses, nor the brewer's big horses, nor the song hero, The Horse with the Lavender Eyes, but speedy thoroughbreds trained to go six furlongs or a mile in the least possible time are ready for the eight race program that opens the Fox Valley Jocky club meeting at Aurora this afternoon.

Aurora officials wouldn't be at all surprised if the attendance exceeds the 15,000 chalked up on opening day a year ago. They have many more good racers quartered at the track than in 1934, and the several improvements in the plant ought to attract some customers.

Handbooks Are Closed.

There's another potent reason for expecting a jam at the turnstiles today. A good many of Chicago's handbooks have been closed for a couple of weeks and the horse players just can't keep the rubber bands on their bankrolls much longer.

Numerous handbook patrons who seldom have seen a horse except when attached to a milk wagon and regard the steeds only as so many numbers on the wall ought to have a lot of fun watching their favorites charge around the track and down the long Aurora stretch this afternoon. And as Col. Edward [Make Mine Bourbon] Jefferson, the radio sage, says, think of the fresh air and sunshine furnished free to each and every ticket holder.

They're Hard to Pick.

Col. Jefferson, who used to be known as Bud, was having a pitched battle yesterday with the entries for the $1,200 Inaugural handicap, six furlong feature race on the first day program, but hoped to come up with a winner at post time. Race fans will agree with the old colonel that the dozen entries offer a real test in handicapping, but there should be an ample reward for folks who guess right.

Top weight in the field is Irene's Bob, one of the standouts among winter track sprinters, which built up a long string of triumphs at New Orleans and which has been resting for Aurora engagements. Irene's Bob was assigned 114 pounds by Racing Secretary Dick Leigh, and he was winning at the Fair Grounds with 126. Jocky P. Martinez will be up.

Watch Those Jockies.

Joe Flores, a fast one from the western tracks, will carry 112 pounds and Band Wagon, which was named with Noah's Pride as the Mrs. A. M. Creech entry, will tote 111. These sprinters will get plenty of support in the mutuels as will Fanfern, Bran Muffin, and Herowin.

Something else that fans are waiting for the Aurora meeting to tell them is the name of the season's apprentice jocky star. Each year some young man pops up with a long string of winners at the Fox valley course and then goes on to star at other Illinois tracks. Last season it was Paul Keester, who brought home 157 winners for 1934 despite a long layoff because of injuries.

The first race of the afternoon, at 2:15 o'clock, will bring together a field of seven 2 year olds at 4½ furlongs. Ann's Baby may be the choice over Fool's Folly, Newell's Choice, Lawyer's Brigade, Missouri Girl, Natalie Alice, and Keen Babe.

Plant Is Remodeled.

President Robert Eddy last night announced that track improvements, which amounted almost to a rebuilding of the whole plant, have been completed. The grandstand has been done over in modernistic concrete, new seats installed, and the lawns paved.

BE SURE TO TOUCH THE BASES, AL!

Al Simmons, who for the last couple of years has been the only White Sox player to have a serious case of batting fever, now finds he has some help in knocking down enemy fences. Ben Cohen, Tribune artist, sketches Simmons as he crashes a choice pitch into the stands for a home run.

SOX AND INDIANS ARE KEPT IDLE BY BAD WEATHER

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cleveland, O., April 30.—The Indians still are leading the league, and the hopped-up White Sox, who are in town, still are trailing them by a matter of points. Nothing could be done about this situation again today because of the weather. Yesterday the boys were kept indoors because of rain and this afternoon because of cold, the maximum temperature being 39 degrees.

The athletes, of course, could have done their work without undue discomfort, but there would have been no customers. However, there remains one chance for the Sox and Indians getting together during the current visit. They are slated for an engagement tomorrow, after which the Chicagoans will return to their own playgrounds. Thursday is an open date for both teams, but the local management prefers to wait until later dates for playing off the postponements.

Eastern Teams Next.

When the Sox go home they'll have two weeks in which to play hosts to the eastern teams, and what happens during that stretch will furnish a better line on their possibilities. Thus far they have played only the Tigers, who are a sick looking herd of champions, and the St. Louis Browns, who also are ailing even though not worried about any titular honors.

While at home during the front half of May the Sox will meet Washington, the New York Yankees and the Boston Red Sox in series of three games each and the Athletics in a series of

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PERUGIA, Italy, April 30.—On the tourist map of Italy Perugia is listed as an artistic town in the hills with easy access to the more artistic Assisi. But as a matter of fact, since Giuseppe Farfanelli, featherweight Umbrian battler, won his berth on the team which sails tomorrow to meet the Chicago Golden Gloves team at the Chicago Stadium May 22, all the natives have been more interested in boxing, buying up the sports papers from Rome and eagerly reading the progress of their favorite son.

Farfanelli's mother, who also has been buying the sports papers, is studying English, according to her neighbors, for she wants to read first hand the outcome of his bout against Andy Scrivani or Al Nettlow in Chicago. Farfanelli's opponent will be chosen at the end of the training program the Chicago team starts next week.

He Is Willing.

The young featherweight belies the reputation of his province of Umbria for gentleness. Umbria was the home of St. Francis. Farfanelli is the most aggressive fighter on the team which Count Francesco Campello, vice president of the Italian boxing commission, is taking to Chicago.

Farfanelli swept through his class at the Milan tourney so that there was never any question about his selection for Chicago. He has been fighting for three years and has won most of his 64 fights.

He is one of the youngest members of the Italian team and it has not been long since he outgrew the flyweight class. In that class he fought the Sardinian, Matta. The Matta bout he considers one of the outstanding events in his pugilistic career.

He Makes Chocolate.

Farfanelli came to the notice of the Italian boxing enthusiasts mostly for his brilliant victory in Milan, whence he emerged as Italy's featherweight champion.

Perugia, aside from being artistic, is noted for a special brand of chocolates and this industry furnishes Farfanelli with an occupation. He is a chocolate maker.

"And I suppose that if I do not reach my ambition of becoming a professional boxer I will be a chocolate maker all the rest of my life in Perugia. But anyway I am going to America and I am going to win," he said.

ANCHORS AWEIGH!

Italy's boxing champions are sailing today for their battles with Chicago's Golden Gloves titleholders May 22 at the Stadium. They need an ocean liner to get here, but a street car will take YOU to the counter for tickets to the international show.

Don't let that rockin' chair get you! Sail down to the Tribune Public Service office, 1 South Dearborn street, or to Tribune Tower and buy your tickets today. Prices are $3.30, $2.20, $1.65, and $1.10. All seats reserved. General admissions are available at 50 cents.

Jurges and Bush Suspended, Fined.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Roy Henshaw, Cub southpaw, who has kept right on trying to learn things about pitching baseballs since he used to thrill the University of Chicago partisans out on the Midway, yesterday revealed that he has absorbed knowledge and skill in abundance. He shut out the tamed Pittsburgh Pirates, 3 to 0, for his first winning start in major league baseball.

Although the Cubs have been blanked twice, it was the first shutout credited to their own account this season.

Since the Pirates made no runs, Battling Guy Bush, who had been scheduled to pitch, was lucky to be absent. Guy was sitting in the stands enshrouded in a poultice plastered on him by Ford Frick, president of the National league. Mr. Frick decided before the game that Guy had been a wicked boy in Monday's battle royal at Wrigley field. The league prexy said he hoped that a $50 fine and a five day suspension would help Guy curb his hot southern temper in future brawls.

Jurges Gets a Rest, Too.

Bush, it should be added, was not the only ball player who was in mufti as Henshaw did his stirring chore. Bill Jurges also was told by Mr. Frick to stand in the corner and hide his face. Bill drew a $50 assessment and three days' suspension. But Bill was in the stands, disguised as Barney Ross, and enjoyed little Roy's achievement very much.

Out of uniform, too, was the battle scarred Joiner. But not by executive ukase. Pop pitched in batting practice yesterday, then handed in his Cub bloomers in exchange for a ticket to Los Angeles, where he will work under Cub option for the Angels. Joiner joined the Cubs at Catalina a year ago this spring. Though in many games, he never won one and lost only one last season.

Henshaw and his elders on the Cub pay roll made it three victories in a row for the Chicagoans and seven victories in their last eight engagements. The Cubs remained in third place. They are a half game behind the league leading Giants and a full game behind the second place Dodgers. But don't go crazy trying to figure that out, this early in the season. It's merely a matter of percentages after all The Giants have played three fewer games than the Cubs and the Dodgers have played the same number of games, winning one more and losing one less.

It's Little Men's Day.

Barring slight choking spells in the first and ninth innings, Henshaw was a magnificent performer. He yielded two hits and walked one in the opening inning and he allowed two hits and a walk, all after two were out, in the ninth. The other four hits were spread in between the two extremes, with never more than one in the same session.

Henshaw studies pitching out of doors by day and out of books evenings, but he never has studied much on how to perfect his batting. Yet it was his single which drove in the second Cub run and made the third one possible.

Little Roy was aided ably on the offensive by another wee man, Augie Galan. Augie cracked the first enemy pitch for a double and scored later on a wild pitch and an out. He drove in the last Cub run with his second double. Of the seven hits the Cubs totaled Gabby Hartnett made a double and a single, the double counting importantly in the sixth inning scoring. Freddy Lindstrom followed up his great day in the opener against his former colleagues with a single and a double, but they did not figure in the scoring. Herman, Stainback, Cuyler, Cavarretta, and English failed to hit.

Babe Helps Henshaw.

New York, April 30.—(AP)—In allotting the qualifying places for the sectional trials of the 1935 open championship, the United States Golf association disclosed today twelve places have been added to the field for the tournament finals to be played at Oakmont, Pa., in June. This raises the total from 150 to 162.

The increase is due to several factors. In the first place three sectional qualifying points were added for this year's championship so that the total number of districts is 25; secondly, forty exemptions from the sectional tests have been granted, and, finally, there are 1,087 district candidates for the 122 places available. The trials will be held May 13 throughout the country.

Third Largest Entry.

The sectional entry list is the third largest since preliminary qualification was instituted in 1924. A total of 1,127 players filed entries. The list includes 780 professionals and 347 amateurs. Last year there were 1,063 entrants. The peak year was 1930, when the total was 1,177 and the next largest was 1,141 in 1931.

The three new qualifying centers accounted for almost 10 per cent of the total entry. Forty-four players entered for the 36 hole medal play sectional rounds at Madison, Wis.; 42 at Greensboro, N. C., and 24 at Jacksonville, Fla.

135 Chicagoans Enter.

The largest sectional entry was filed by the Chicago district with 135 players, who will battle for 14 places. New York is second with 130 entrants, including Craig Wood and Johnny Farrell, for 13 places, and Pittsburgh third with 122 for 11 places.

The exempt players include the first 34 low scorers in the 1934 open championship and all but one of these claimed their places. The one exception was William Lawson Little Jr., en route to England to defend the British amateur crown. He plans to stay over for the British open during the latter part of June.

WOOD TO SEND BOAT TO DETROIT FOR ADJUSTMENT

Miami Beach, Fla., April 30.—Miss America X, the speedy craft in which her maker and driver, Gar Wood, established the world's speedboat record of 124.91 miles an hour, is going back to her home in a Detroit factory to be rebuilt completely.

Wood announced the move today, when he said that test runs over Indian Creek here had been unsatisfactory and further trials would be abandoned. His mechanics took Miss America X over the course for short runs at comparatively slow speeds. Clockers timed her at 117 miles an hour for the first trial and 114 for the second.

Wood stated that he thought it unnecessary to build an entirely new boat for an attempt on the record, believing that adjustments in the factory will suffice.

BRITISH WILL SEND POLO TEAM TO U. S. FOR OPEN

New York, April 30.—(AP)—British-American polo rivalry, hitherto built around competition for the international cup, will be revived on Long Island this year with the visit of an official team from the Hurlingham club to compete in the United States open tournament. It will be the first invasion by a British four since 1930, when the last cup challenge was turned back.

The open will be held in September. Strong entries are expected from Texas and California, as well as from the east and middle west.

Although the board of education has not acted on the resignation yet, officials stated it was unable to match several good offers made to Peterman by other schools. Peterman said one of the bids came from a large college in the central states.

Daily Fee Golfers Plan Busy Season

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Plans for one of the biggest seasons in its history were made last night by the Chicago Daily Fee Golf association at a meeting held at the Cog-Hill Golf and Country club near Lemont. The scope of the organization's campaign was indicated by the enthusiasm of those attending, according to Tom Walsh of Westgate Valley, president of the association.

The C. D. F. G. A. will enter the 1935 season with fifteen member clubs, the Midwest Golf club of Hinsdale being admitted at last night's meeting. Other members are Cog-Hill, Northbrook, Mid-City, Techny Fields, Big Run, Indian Head, Vernon, Oak Hills, Elmgate, Big Oaks, Evergreen, Mission Hills, Hickory Hills, and Westgate Valley.

Aside from Walsh, the other officers of the association are: Bill Langford of Mid-City, vice president; Julian Lambert of Northbrook, secretary, and Tom Geary of Indian Head, treasurer.

Ky Laffoon of Northmoor and Denny Shute of Westward-Ho, the two newcomers to Chicago's professional colony, will receive their first introduction to the district on Sunday at Glen Oak, where they will pair against Harry Cooper of the home club and Horton Smith of Oak Park. A special award will be put up for the low score of the foursome, so that all putts will be holed out. The public is invited to attend the event, which is free, and will start at 2:30 p. m. This foursome, together with Capt. Tommy Armour of Medinah and Frank Walsh of Bryn Mawr, will make up the local team which will meet the Japanese touring six on May 26 at a club as yet not named.

Medinah Country club, which will be the stage for the local qualifying round of the national open championship on May 13, will have a goodly number of that event's participants working out next Monday, when the Illinois P. G. A. will open its competitive season with a pro-pro event. All professionals are invited to attend a luncheon at the club at noon, when partners will be drawn. The first two drawn will play together, and the next two will play in the same foursome as their opponents.

Following the pro-pro event, the Illinois P. G. A. plan a schedule of events in conjunction with the Chicago District Golf association which will extend through September. A number of dates and tourneys already have been arranged, including the following:

June 17—Pro-members at Midlothian.
July 8—Pro-girls at Lincoln Park.
July 22—Pro-amateur at Glen Oak.
July 29—Pro-boys at Jackson Park.
Aug. 12—Pro-amateur at Onwentsia [tentative].
Aug. 18—Pro-ladies [Course unnamed yet].
Aug. 19—Pro-amateur at Techny Fields.
Aug. 26—Pro-amateur at Beverly [tentative].
Sept. 9—Pro-seniors [course unnamed yet].
Sept. 16—Pro-managers at Oak Park.

The executive committee of the Chicago District Golf association gathered yesterday at the Chicago Athletic association to discuss several matters of preseason importance. Among other items, the River Forest Country club was admitted to membership, and plans were made for several members of the committee and a number of leading pros to attend a dinner to be given Monday night at the Rockford Country club, where the association will stage its open and amateur tournaments June 24 to 29.

An interclub league committee, consisting of Fred Leitzow of Ridgemoor, E. A. Fredrickson of Lincolnshire and A. W. Hale of Westward-Ho was named to aid the newly formed West and South District leagues throughout the season and to make arrangements for the post-season finals between these two organizations and the North Shore league. Leitzow announced that he has designed a special scorecard for the regular league play, which, because of the fact that singles and doubles matches are played under the Nassau system, has hitherto been a trifle complicated to score.

Euclid Hills, which held its preopening party last Saturday, will open officially on May 12. The program which will be featured by an archery-golf match between John Albrecht of the Field Museum of Natural History and John Weeden, club champion last year.

Horton Smith and his brother Ren will meet Ky Laffoon and Denny Shute in an informal exhibition match for Oak Park Country club members on May 19.

Olympia Fields, the world's largest golf club, will open its 1935 season officially on Saturday and Sunday, when a number of golf events will be held.

SUSPEND STATE RING CHAIRMAN FOR THIRTY DAYS

Harrisburg, Pa., April 30.—[Special.]—Gov. Earle tonight suspended Mayor Eddie McCloskey of Johnstown, from the chairmanship of the state athletic commission for 30 days without pay.

The action was taken because McCloskey had made admittedly untrue statements that three Pennsylvania newspaper men were on the pay roll of "a certain wrestling promoter." Gov. Earle directed him to make a public retraction and apologize.

Gov. Earle said McCloskey, in a conference this afternoon, had admitted the statements were untrue and that he made them in "recrimination" for remarks the newspaper men were alleged to have made about him.

PHILLIPS ROUTS TILDEN, 11 TO 7; TIES FOR LEAD

Phillips defeated Tilden, 11 to 7, in a seven inning Chicago Public High School league baseball game at Buetner park yesterday to go into a triple tie for the central section lead. Phillips, Tilden and Lindblom each has won four games and lost one.

In the other game played, Marshall stopped a rally in the seventh inning to hand Austin its first defeat in the west section race, 4 to 3.

Carter Leads Attack.

Carter of Phillips led his team's attack with two hits in three trips to the plate. In the fifth inning, Carter hit a home run with two on.

Langford Abbott, ace pitcher for the Phillips nine, was injured in the second inning when he attempted to slide into second base. He was removed from the game after allowing only two hits in the two innings he pitched. The Tilden pitchers yielded nine walks, and Phillips got eight hits.

Rally Is Halted.

A rally in the seventh inning by Austin was halted when Bremer struck out with the bases loaded to end the game. Scores:

Downers Grove yesterday defeated Riverside, 61½ to 59½ in a track meet at Downers Grove. Joe Benes' triumphs in the 100, 200, and as anchor man in the mile relay were not enough to bring his team out victorious.

Geneva beat West Chicago yesterday, 62 to 60, in a track meet at West Chicago. Failure of Wardell to touch the tape as he came in second in the half mile cost West Chicago the meet. Even the 22¼ points scored by Alex Pesetki were insufficient. Pesetski took firsts in the 100, 200, shotput, and discus, a third in the javelin throw, and was anchor man on the winning relay team.

Fried Lake Trout to Be Served at Sport Exhibition

Fresh Michigan lake trout, fried to a golden brown, will be sampled by visitors to the Chicago National Boat and Sports show which will open its doors at Navy pier for an eight day run Sunday. These fish will be shipped to Chicago daily immediately after catching and will be served up sizzling hot in the huge exhibition booth which the state of Michigan is installing at the show.

Also on the free menu will be giant potatoes from the Michigan upper peninsula area, which will be baked and served fresh daily to visitors.

Robert (Bob) Watts of Ely, Minn., one of the northernmost points in the United States, will represent this community at the show with a display of log hunting lodges and hunting and fishing equipment. The arrowhead region in Minnesota and the state of Wisconsin are also planning comprehensive exhibits to be shown at the exposition in naturalistic outdoor settings featuring growing trees and live animals. There will be two miles of exhibits lining both sides of the pier.

Patched Up Teams Turn In Seven Errors.

Brooklyn, N. Y., April 30.—(AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers picked right up today where they left off picking on the Giants last year—crushing the New Yorkers, 12 to 5, in the first renewal this season of the interborough warfare that knocked the Giants out of the 1934 pennant.

Rough Day for Bartell.

Terry, who made that remark about Brooklyn still being in the league, escaped unscathed as Lefty Watson Clark, Giant castoff, pitched his third victory of the season, and broke the Giants' string of seven straight victories, but Bartell had a fearful day. He made two costly errors.

Both sides started patched lineups, the Giants looking like the Dodgers, the Dodgers looking like themselves, and both sides kicking in with a total of seven errors, four for New York, three for Brooklyn.

Travis Jackson Ill.

Travis Jackson, Giants' third baseman, ill with influenza, forced Terry to put Mel Ott on third and send a frantic call to Nashville for Al Cuccinello to report. With Hughie Critz, regular second baseman, out with an infected finger and Mark Koenig filling his place, the Giants had no infield reserves left. Sam Leslie, Dodger first baseman, also was ill, so Brooklyn played a third baseman, Joe Stripp, at first, Second Baseman Cuccinello at third, and substitute Jimmy Bucher at second. Score:

Yanks Defeat Senators, 9-8, on Dickey's Hit

New York, April 30.—(AP)—The New York Yankees stretched their winning streak to six games today as they turned back the Washington Senators, 9 to 8, with a two run rally in the ninth inning.

Bill Dickey's single, the fourth hit made by the Yankee catcher, decided the game. It sent Red Rolfe home with the winning run after John Stone had dropped Lou Gehrig's long fly with the bases filled, permitting Jesse Hill to bring the tying run across the plate.

Johnny Broaca, Yankee pitcher, blew up in the eighth and was driven from the mound as the Senators cut loose with a barrage of extra base hits, including a homer by Alvin Powell with two mates on the bases, to score six runs.

The Yankees came back in their half of the inning, however, as Dickey, who had hit a home run in the sixth, drove out a single and Tony Lazzeri came through with a homer. Score:

North Central Nine to Play Elmhurst Today

North Central college baseball team will make its first conference start of the season this afternoon against Elmhurst college at Naperville. Coach Len Bieber will give Lefty Wendlandt, veteran southpaw, a rest and has assigned Len Yuknis, regular first baseman, to do the pitching. Bob Burns, utility man, probably will start at first.

French to Seek First Victory for Cubs Today

The Cubs and Pirates will wind up their eventful series this afternoon. Larry French will make his fourth try for his first Cub victory and Jim Weaver, the charmin' mule conqueror from Fulton, Ky., will oppose his former mates.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott S. Goodsmith, 1288 Early avenue, each of whom is 83 years old, got so excited over the carryings-on at Wrigley field Monday that they decided to attend yesterday's contest as a part of the celebration of their 60th wedding anniversary. Although residents of Chicago all their lives, it was the first ball game they had seen.

Guy Bush yesterday protested that he used neither razor nor ring to slash Pop Joiner in Monday's battle. And he doesn't remember scratching Pop with a fingernail.

Frank Demaree, Cub outfielder, will remain in Michael Reese hospital for at least 10 days, his physicians announced last night. Frankie's ailment is diagnosed as bronchial pneumonia.

The Cubs will leave tonight at 11 o'clock from the Union station for Philadelphia, where on Friday they will open the first of four three game eastern series.

"Where's the money coming from?" we grunted.

"O, from that alphabetical thing, I think they call it BARREL. I might go there myself if Warren ever becomes sour on me.

"But look at my record, Harvey. I started 10 times as a 2 year old. Five wins, 3 seconds, and twice outside the money. I won the Matron stakes at Belmont, Selima stakes at Laurel, and finished the year by taking the Kentucky Jocky Club stakes at a mile. Good horses win that one. Gillie, of which you thought so well in California, was fourth that day.

"Yes, I was unplaced in the Arlington Futurity, which Toro Nancy won, and was outside the money to Black Helen at Laurel, but those were shorter distances. I've never been beaten at a route over 7 furlongs, and you know what I did in the mud here last Saturday, only 6 lengths in front of Bluebeard, which has early speed, and 8 lengths over Chance Sun. Don't underrate me, Harvey, just because Nellie was a lady.

"Remember, too, my breeding. I'm a granddaughter of Man o' War. Mother, Nellie Morse, won the Preakness in 1924, and granddad on mother's side was good old Luke McLuke.

"Another thing, Warren Wright, my owner, is a Chicagoan and gentleman sportsman. His wife, a beautiful, gracious lady, is very fond of me. Of course, like many girls, I wish I had been born a boy to have greater freedom, but you better get right on this Derby by joining the Nellie Flag Girl Scouts and ride in the band wagon.

"How'd you and French like to beau a Derby winner when I come to Chicago? Say a little dinner out at the Del Rio on Dempster and perhaps later take me to see 'Three Men on a Horse' downtown."

At this juncture we caught Nellie reaching for a cork tipped cigaret. "Naughty girlie smokes?" we queried. "No, only one after breakfast when gentleman friend teases me," she replied. "Drink?" we added. "I should say not," and Nellie stamped her hoof in severity, mimicking "Lips That Touch Liquor Shall Never Touch Mine." "Now toddle along, Harvey, and let me have my morning nap, but drop in again before Saturday."

After the Pirates had been retired in order in the third, Lindstrom singled and Cuyler walked with one out, but Cavarretta and Hartnett couldn't move them up.

Padden got the fifth under way with a single to left, but was forced on Birkofer's attempted sacrifice. L. Waner lined to Galan and P. Waner fouled to Lindstrom. The Cubs went out in order in their half.

In the ninth Babe Herman was called out on strikes and Vaughan flied to Stainback. Traynor then registered the seventh hit of Henshaw, a single off Cavarretta's glove, and stopped at second when Lavagetto registered his third hit, a single to center. Suhr walked, filling the bases. Padden then flied to Galan to end the game.

four. Having slaughtered such pitching notables as Schoolboy Rowe, Tommy Bridges, Buck Newsom and George Blaeholder, the Sox naturally aren't in fear of any one of these eastern delegations, especially the Red Sox, the A's, and the Senators. They have considerable respect for the Yankees, whom they regard as the probable pennant winners.

Manager Dykes has already reduced his squad to the point where he must shed only one more man before the 23 player limit becomes effective the night of May 15 and he probably will not act on this until the last minute. A pitcher, of whom there are nine, may be the victim. He plans on carrying nine throughout the year, but will have to provide for the eventual return of Ed Durham, now recovering from illness.

Sam Jones who has been waiting for two days to get his first glimpse of the Indians, will pitch tomorrow. Monte Pearson, who also has been waiting for work for two days, will oppose the Sox.

ROSS GOES EAST TOMORROW FOR McLARNIN BOUT

Plans Heavy Training at Ferndale, N. Y.

Ross, Winch and his other representative, Sam Pian, will board a train for New York tomorrow afternoon at 3:15 o'clock. They will tarry there for a few hours and then go to Ferndale, N. Y., where training quarters have been established. Barney will concentrate on wood chopping and activities other than boxing Saturday and Sunday. He will open sparring Monday and continue daily drills until May 24 when he and his handlers will break camp and move to New York.

The advance guard, Soldier Mickey Farr, camp manager, and Trainer Izzy Kline will depart for Ferndale at 6 p. m. today. Davey Day, Ross' lightweight stablemate, who will appear on the welterweight title card, probably against Steve Halaiko, will not join the party until after a scheduled encounter at Des Moines, Ia., May 13.

Ross opened workouts yesterday at Trafton's gymnasium. He will train there again today and tomorrow, but will do no boxing until next week. His handlers did not divulge his weight. They said Ross will not be weighed until ten days before the match with McLarnin, which will be their third meeting. Barney scaled 137½ when he dethroned McLarnin last summer and he was at 140 when the latter regained the crown a few weeks later.

Leo Rodak, South Chicago boxer, has joined the new Madison Square loop gymnasium at 227 West Madison street. He will resume workouts there this afternoon after spending yesterday playing 18 holes of golf at Lansing, Ill. Puggy Weinert, Brighton Park welterweight, is likely to head the opening outdoor show at Western stadium May 14. . . . Billy Miller, Milwaukee, or Billy Celebron, Rockford, are being sought as his opponent. . . .

JADAAN, JAMAICA RACE HORSE IS FOUND DRUGGED

New York, April 30.—[Special.]—The first case of tampering on a New York race track this season was revealed at Jamaica today when the stewards ordered the withdrawal of Mrs. W. T. Anderson's Jadaan from the six furlong dash which featured the racing and which was won by George H. Bostwick's Aerial Cross, an odds-on choice.

Jadaan, which had won impressively last week and which would have been the logical favorite today, was tampered with some time during the night in his stable at Aqueduct. When his condition was reported to the stewards, Dr. M. J. Dair, track veterinarian, made an examination and found that some drug, probably chloral, had been administered to the horse.

Tutti Curio Shows Up on Derby Scene

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Louisville, Ky., April 30.—Latest eastern arrivals among Kentucky Derby candidates are Commonwealth, Omaha, Morpluck, and Tutti Curio. When the latter was unloaded Derby fans were somewhat bewildered. They didn't think he had ambitious to win the race. The colt is owned by Robert W. Daniels of New York, and is a son of the South American horse, Tutti Frutti, which was somewhat of a sensation in America a few seasons back.

The only Derby starter that had not reached the scene tonight was Psychic Bid, from Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane's Brookmeade stable. He is to arrive Thursday.

Albert Sabath, president of the Chicago Business Men's Racing association, which operates the Hawthorne track in Chicago, is among the early arrivals. He announced today William Hamilton, starter on all Kentucky tracks, would dispatch the field during Hawthorne's September meeting.

Jocky Sonny Workman, who will ride the favorite, Today, in the Derby, will not arrive until Friday afternoon. Jocky Sylvan Coucci, who is to have the leg up on Plat Eye, is here and he is confident Plat Eye will beat Today. In the Woods Memorial last week when Plat Eye finished second to Today, the former was giving away ten pounds in weight.

Young Elmer Dale Shaffer, whose St. Bernard is coming in for a lot of Derby consideration, will get excused from his classes at Lake Forest academy on Friday in order to reach the Derby scene in time to inspect his colorbearer.

Col. Edward R. Bradley's mysterious horse, Big Gawk, lost all chance of getting into the Derby, when he ran out of the money in the race for 3 year old maidens which came second on today's program.

Iowa Sprint Relay Stars Stir Interest

BY WILFRID SMITH.

For the purposes of reviving general interest in track and field it is unfortunate perhaps that more relay races are not included in the average program of competition. The only relay in the Western conference meet, for instance, is the one mile. Relay meets are confined to the early spring. The success of the Texas, Kansas, Drake, and Pennsylvania relays attests the popularity of relays supported by individual competition.

This year the University of Iowa has introduced to the track public a quartet of sprinters regarded as the fastest over the 440 yard and 880 yard routes in the country. All are competing for their first year for Iowa.

They Smash Records.

At the Kansas relays they stole the show by breaking the world records for the quarter mile and half mile relays. At Drake one week later these same athletes smashed the Drake half mile record despite the handicap of a strong wind and won the quarter mile relay, although one-tenth of a second over the Drake record made two years ago by the University of Illinois.

Who are these boys? In the order of their appearance in the quarter mile relay, in which each man runs 110 yards, they are:

Andrew G. Dooley, Clyde Wilson Briggs, Carl Francis Nelson, and James Owen.

Owens Pick for 100 Yards.

None is fast enough to win the 100 yard dash in the Western conference outdoor meet at Ann Arbor May 24 primarily because the path is blocked by Ohio State's Jesse Owens. But together their aggregate speed and skill in passing the baton has brought them national fame and world records in the last month.

At Kansas they ran the 440 yard relay in 40 5-10 seconds, a world record, defeating Texas, Oklahoma, and Arizona. They covered the half mile in 1:25.2, another world record, and defeated Texas, Arizona, and Rice institute.

At Drake these Hawkeyes won the 440 yard relay in 41 7-10 seconds, defeating Texas, Oklahoma A. and M., and Illinois. They established a Drake record of 1:26 for the half mile in the preliminaries, but lost the championship to Texas the following afternoon when Chink Wallender beat Nelson by six inches. Texas' winning time was 1:26.2.

Jimmy Owen came to Iowa by way of Maplewood, Mo., where he was national interscholastic 100 yard champion in 1932. His parents now live in Flint, Mich. Owen is 19 years of age, 5 feet 10 inches tall, and weighs 148 pounds. Owen is Iowa intercollegiate champion at 70 yards and in one indoor 60 yard sprint last winter was timed in 6.1 seconds, which is better than the accepted world record.

Runs Indoor Quarter in :49.

Briggs, a 19 year old colored boy, weighs 155 pounds and is 5 feet 10 inches tall. He prepped at Ingalls High, Atchison, Kas., and attended Washburn college at Topeka, Kas., for one year before entering Iowa. He will finish competition in 1936, while the other members of this team will not complete their span of eligibility until 1937. Briggs also is an excellent quarter miler.

Dooley is the real surprise of the team. He hails from Centerville, Ia., and came to Iowa City without advance notices. As a freshman he developed rapidly and ran 100 yards in 9.9 seconds, 220 yards in 22 seconds, and the 440 in 50.7 seconds. On the mile relay team this winter he turned in an indoor quarter in 49 seconds, the second fastest quarter mile ever run by a Hawkeye athlete. Dooley is 20 years of age, weighs 145 pounds, and is 5 feet 8 inches tall.

The shortest member of the team is Nelson, who stands 5 feet 7 inches, weighs 140 pounds, and is 19 years of age. Nelson likes the 220 yard sprint best. His terrific finish made him the logical choice for anchor man in the half mile relay. Nelson lives in Clinton, Ia. He holds the Iowa interscholastic record for 100 yards [9.7 seconds] and 220 yards [21.3 seconds].

Armour ....350 030 40*—15 11 1

First Quarter Loss Is $2,173,801.

New York, April 30.—[Special.]—Directors of the United States Steel corporation today voted another dividend of 50 cents a share on the preferred stock, payable on May 29 to holders of record on May 3 next. The accumulated unpaid dividends on the issue now stand at $12.50 a share.

The report for the March quarter, made public simultaneously, revealed a net loss after charges for the period of $2,173,801. This compared with a net loss of $10,234,413 in the preceding quarter and with a deficit of $6,989,965 in the corresponding period last year.

Profit Shows Gain.

Profit from operations for the first three months of this year after expenses and taxes but before depreciation, interest, etc., aggregated $12,428,-449. This compared with an operating profit of $3,761,716 in the preceding quarter and with a profit of $6,578,731 in the first quarter of 1934.

In the absence of Myron C. Taylor, chairman, who is abroad, the meeting of directors was a short one. Announcement on the income was brief and carried no added information regarding company business or outlook. W. J. Filbert, chairman of the finance committee, was acting chairman of the meeting.

The final deficit on the quarter, after payment of the partial preferred, amounted to $3,975,206, compared to $8,791,370 in the first quarter a year ago.

Shipments of finished products for the quarter totaled 1,785,248 tons, against 1,128,711 tons for the December quarter, and 1,305,486 tons in the March quarter of 1934.

The National Steel corporation reported for the March quarter net profit of $3,367,632 after charges, depreciation, depletion, interest, and taxes, equal to $1.56 a share on the capital stock. This compares with net profit of $1,642,328, or 76 cents a share, in the March quarter of 1934.

Acme Steel Earnings Rise.

Acme Steel company reported net earnings of $601,989 after all charges for the first quarter of 1935, compared with $286,407 in 1934. These earnings are equivalent to $1.75 a share on the 343,046 issued shares, compared with 83 cents a share on the issued shares in 1934.

Otis steel company earned a net profit of $952,362, after charges. This is equivalent after allowing for quarterly dividend requirements on the 7 per cent preference stock, on which there is an accumulation of unpaid dividends, to 89 cents a share on 841,-002 nor par common shares. For the first quarter of 1934, the company reported a profit of $652,889 before federal taxes.

Net profit of the Superior Steel corporation was $38,511 after charges, equal to 33 cents a share on 115,000 shares of $100 par capital stock. This contrasted with a net loss of $6,266 in the March quarter a year ago.

INLAND STEEL GAINS

The Inland Steel company yesterday reported earnings of $2,465,797, or $2.05 a share, for the quarter ended March 31. Accompanying the announcement of earnings was the declaration of a dividend of 50 cents a share payable June 1 to stockholders of record May 15. Two 25 cent dividends were paid during 1934, none in 1933, and one of 25 cents in 1932. In previous years the rate had varied between $2.75 and $7 annually.

Find Chicago Trade Better than Year Ago

Most indices of business activity in Chicago showed improvement during March over a year ago, although there was a big jump in the number of families on relief rolls, the Chicago Association of Commerce announced yesterday.

Lines of business activity showing an upturn included department store sales with an index level of 68.7, compared with 68.3 in March, 1934, and based on the 1923-'25 averages as 100. Employment and pay rolls of manufacturing industries in Chicago stood at 68.6 and 48.8, respectively, against 64.2 and 41.4 a year ago, both indices being based on the 1925-'27 average as 100.

Bank clearings during the month amounted to $1,061,015,589, compared with $903,270,805 in March, last year. Car loadings rose from 148,746 in March, 1934, to 150,489 in March this year.

More Telephones in Use.

The number of telephones in use totaled 830,859, against 803,076 in March, 1934, the association reported. New car registrations in Cook county numbered 9,420, compared with only 4,931 a year ago. Electric power production amounted to 413,492,000 kilowatt hours, against 401,211,000 in March, 1934.

Postal receipts increased from $3,744,566 in March, last year, to $4,086,450 this year.

The growing importance of Chicago as a center of air travel was shown in the improvement in arrivals and departures. Arrivals totaled 5,641 in March of this year, against only 2,557 in the 1934 period. Departures were 6,519, against 3,045.

Pig iron production showed a substantial gain, rising from 264,280 gross tons in March, 1934, to 338,517 this year.

Building Statistics Variable.

While the number of building permits issued during March increased, the number of contracts awarded and total real estate transfers declined. Building permits were 57 with a value of $1,370,740, against 31, valued at only $297,050 in March, 1934. Contracts awarded were 100, against 148, and the total cost was $4,328,200, against $4,768,500. Real estate transfers totaled 4,501 against 4,547, with consideration placed at $8,829,564, against $9,420,525.

On the Chicago Stock exchange there were only 462,000 shares traded, against 811,000 a year ago, while bonds traded were worth $31,000 against $46,000.

EXPECT CUTTEN GRAIN HEARING TO BE DELAYED

Court hearing on the appeal of Arthur W. Cutten against the decision of the Grain Futures administration barring him from trading in the grain pits for two years for violation of the grain futures act is not expected to take place until the fall term, Orville J. Taylor, attorney for Cutten, stated yesterday.

Cutten's briefs are due to be filed on May 29, the government has 20 days in which to make an answer and Cutten another 10 days to reply. Taylor said the press of business is so heavy it is hardly likely the case will be taken until fall. The case will be heard in the United States Court of Appeals for this district.

U. S. TRANSPORTATION CO-ORDINATOR POST MAY LAPSE JUNE 16

Washington, D. C., April 30.—(AP)—Unless President Roosevelt brings direct pressure on congress, Democratic leaders agreed today that the office of federal coödinator of transportation—one of the New Deal agencies—would be permitted to expire June 16.

Joseph B. Eastman, the coördinator, also said today that if congress did not pass his bill for the reorganization of the interstate commerce commission his office probably would be abolished.

"My job as federal coördinator of transportation is fast nearing the end of its appointed life on June 16 next, and whether or not it will be given a new lease of life I do not know," Eastman said.

Eastman has recommended the reorganization of the interstate commerce commisison and the creation of a permanent coördinator of transportation, but a majority of the commission is opposed to the legislation. Most of the railroads are opposed to continuation of the coördinator's office, which was created two years ago by congress. Motor bus and truck operators, however, generally favor the reorganization bill and continuation of the coördinator.

WESTERN ROADS APPROVE FREE PICKUP SERVICE

Trafic executives of the western trunk lines yesterday approved establishment of free pickup and store door delivery service in connection with freight paying less than car load rates moving within western trunk line territory according to an announcement by E. B. Boyd, chairman of the conference. This service is designed to meet truck competition.

He said that subject to the concurrence of carriers in other territories this service will be extended between points in western trunk line territory and points in such other territories.

"This service will be performed by the carriers through their own facilities or by drayage concerns under contract, or in lieu thereof an allowance will be made to the consignor and consignee each of five cents per one hundred pounds on shipments delivered to the carriers at origin or called for at the freight station and destination.

"This service is to be granted under a readjustment of the existing rate structure, which will effect reductions in the present rate in shorter haul business."

HUDSON MOTOR QUARTER PROFIT BEST SINCE 1931

Detroit, Mich., April 30.—[Special.]—Net profits of the Hudson Motor Car company in the first quarter of 1935 amounted to $235,610 after charges, and were the largest for any quarter since 1931, it was announced yesterday. This compares with a net loss of $802,845 during the first three months of last year.

"April profits will exceed those of March and the current cash holdings, which approximate $8,000,000 with no current bank loans outstanding, place the company in a strong financial position," said A. E. Barit, vice president and general manager.

Retail sales in the United States are substantially better than a year ago, he said. Dealer stocks are in an exceptionally healthy position, he continued, being 20 per cent under last year. Retail sales for the first four months of 1935 were approximately 25,800 cars, exclusive of foreign shipments, compared with 20,744 sold during the corresponding period of last year, an increase of 24 per cent.

Three Roads Move to Start Bullet Trains

Developments forecasting radical improvements in passenger service on several of the leading railroads came from three sources yesterday. In Chicago the North Western and Union Pacific made a joint announcement that late this month or early in June they would place in service a seven car articulated Diesel engine powered train which will run the approximately 2,200 miles between Chicago and Portland, Ore., in forty hours.

In Bloomington, Ill., it was disclosed a new streamlined train is being completed in the Alton shops which is expected to go into service between Chicago and St. Louis.

At Schenectady, N. Y., the first of two 120 mile an hour steam locomotives for the Milwaukee road's Chicago-Twin Cities service was christened when it tore through a red, white, and blue veil before a crowd of prominent persons.

Train Previously Set Record.

The Portland train is the Union Pacific's Pullman built train which last year broke all transcontinental records in a run between Los Angeles and New York. New trucks have been installed which, it is said, eliminate vibration and sway even at extremely high speeds. The 900 horse power 12 cylinder Diesel engine has been enlarged to one of 16 cylinders of 1,200 horse power.

The train will make six round trips a month between Chicago and Portland. It is expected that the same roads will place in service late this year two eleven car trains of similar type for the Chicago- San Francisco and Los Angeles runs.

The Alton train, which was built for the Baltimore and Ohio, owner of the road, is being carefully hidden in the Bloomington shops. It was built recently in the American Foundry company plant at St. Charles, Mo.

Can Do 100 Miles an Hour.

The train consists of eight streamlined cars, blue in color, and will be pulled by a heavy locomotive capable of running 100 miles an hour or more. The Baltimore and Ohio last fall ordered eight streamlined passenger coaches for two trains, one of which was to be drawn by a steam locomotive and the other by a Diesel electric.

The Milwaukee engine, which will pull the Hiawatha, announced recently, was resplendent in colors of brilliant yellow, gray, and red, with shining metal wings ornamenting the nose. With its sister engine, to be released from the shops in a few days, it is said to be the first steam engine to be built from the base up on the streamline principle.

Cruising speed of the engine will be 100 miles an hour and it is said it will be able to make 120 miles an hour easily. The two engines, which are oil burners, will be steam's challenge to the Diesel electric engines.

STOCK PRICES RETREAT UNDER HEAVY SELLING

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 30.—[Special.]—The stock market retreated from major fractions to over 2 points today under a barrage of selling aimed principally at the rails and the silver mining shares.

Bullish sentiment was not lacking during the session, but its effect was hardly enough to prevent most groups from slipping under previous closing quotations. Even in the groups hardest hit isolated issues were firm, but the sluggishness of the silver shares withheld aid from other speculative groups.

Volume was not particularly heavy on the downward movement. Total transactions fell below the million share mark for the second time in as many days, amounting to 860,000 shares.

Silver Shares Fluctuate.

Wide fluctuations in the silver shares in the face of another rally in the world price of the white metal was regarded in the financial community as emphasizing the uncertainty prevailing over future activities by the treasury department.

Cerro de Pasco, Howe Sound, U. S. Smelting, and American Smelting, which have been riding the crest of the increasing price wave, threatened to duplicate previous performances. They had smooth sailing for a while, but turned downward as they ran into a stretch of profit-taking that chopped off their advances and replaced them with losses. U. S. Smelting was the biggest loser in the group, losing 3 points.

The carrier group reflected disappointment over the lack of a pension law decision by the Supreme court and the realization among the trading fraternity that before much hope can come from that or any other source the market will have to digest some poor earnings statements. Union Pacific, off over 2 points, and Delaware and Hudson led the downward movement.

Chrysler Firm Despite Selling.

Chrysler was firm in the face of selling. General Motors was off a point as another of its plants became involved in labor difficulties.

Steels declined fractionally while awaiting the quarterly report of the United States Steel corporation, due after the close of the market.

American Telephone and Consolidated Gas were weak spots among the public utilities, both sagging more than a point. Others lost fractionally.

Standard Brands sold at a new low, but National Biscuit added a bit more to its recovery. Coca Cola was a bright spot, climbing 5 points.

U. S. Gold Law Applies in Amsterdam Contract

ROTTERDAM, Netherlands, April 30.—(AP)—The courts today dismissed the claim of the Amsterdam Stock Brokers' association against the municipality of Rotterdam for payment in gold on the coupons of its $6,000,000 6 per cent loan of 1924. The ruling authorized the municipality to meet its interest payments in depreciated currency. The court held that the American law applied to the loan contract, which contained the clause, "this contract shall be construed according to the law of the city of New York."

Silver Buying Perils Rupee; Gives New Deal New Dilemma

BY HOWARD WOOD.

Simultaneously in New York and Chicago observers discovered that the treasury's silver manipulations have "put the heat" on Great Britain by endangering the stability of India's silver currency.

The rupee, India's currency unit, being anchored to the British pound sterling, has been depreciated about 40 per cent since Great Britain abandoned the gold standard late in 1931. This decline of the rupee has raised the metallic value of silver in terms of rupees.

Now comes the boosting of silver prices all over the world as a result of the American government's silver pegging and buying operations. This has further increased the value as metal of the silver in the rupee.

In Mexico last week currency turmoil was precipitated when the price of silver rose above 72 cents an ounce and the silver in the Mexican peso became worth more as metal than as money. Speculators rushed to acquire silver pesos to melt down and sell as metal. This led to the nationalization of silver and the one day closing of all banks in the country.

The world price of the white metal has not yet risen high enough to cause a similar monetary upset in India. Not until silver quotations reach $1.06 would it become profitable for holders of silver rupees to melt them down and sell them as junk. Yesterday foreign bar silver in New York was quoted at 75¾ cents an ounce. Last week it sold as high as 81 cents.

With the silver senators clamoring ever more loudly for $1.29 silver, however, the threat to the rupee is real, especially in view of the fact that Secretary Morgenthau has said that the treasury's silver manipulations will continue until the $1.29 level is reached.

This situation presents interesting possibilities. If the New Dealers in Washington honestly desire to work toward international currency stabilization they have in silver a potent weapon to hold over Great Britain's head to induce that nation to refrain from further devaluing the pound sterling.

If the world price of silver is held close enough to the $1.06 level to constitute a threat to the rupee but not close enough actually to cause currency chaos in India, the British will think twice before devaluing further the British pound, to which the rupee is linked, because further depreciation of the rupee would bring closer the point at which it would be profitable to melt down silver rupees and sell them as metal.

* *

Inasmuch as trade with India forms an important part of the commerce of the British empire, Great Britain naturally would be anxious not to permit a currency upset in India which would disorganize trade in that country. The chief backing of the Indian currency consists of holdings of British sterling securities, but the silver rupee is the important circulating medium.

On the other hand, if the United States forces the world price of silver above $1.06 the damage would be done and the effect of the club that this country holds over Great Britain would be lost.

The New Dealers, therefore, are in a dilemma. If they are to hold the club over the British to prevent further devaluing of the pound they fail to satisfy the silver bloc in the senate, with possible political repercussions at home. If they satisfy the demands of the silver interests they forfeit the strength of their position in the international currency tangle.

A possible solution for the treasury may be to abandon buying silver in foreign markets and merely boost to $1.29 an ounce the arbitrary price paid to domestic producers. This would permit a spread between world prices and the domestic pegged price. It would also, of course, give the taxpayers a yardstick by which to measure the amount of the treasury handouts of public funds to the silver interests.

APRIL GOLD IMPORTS AT NEW YORK SOAR; TOTAL $129,279,000

New York, April 30.—[Special.]—Fears that some other members of the so-called "gold bloc" countries might follow the course taken by Belgium and devalue their currencies, caused wide fluctuations in foreign exchanges in April, which resulted in the largest movement of gold to the United States since January. Gold imported at New York last month totaled $129,279,000 compared with $20,454,800 in the preceding month and $53,019,000 in April, 1934.

Of the gold received here Holland sent us $84,717,800 and France $30,989,-100, bringing to $99,872,700 and $90,-856,300, respectively, imports from those countries since the beginning of the year.

The net gain in gold last month through imports here and in California, less the amount earmarked, was $127,359,800, compared with a gain of $19,648,500 in the preceding month and $54,203,100 in April, 1934.

North Shore Line Lowers Less than Carload Rates

Reductions ranging as high as 50 per cent in freight charges on less than carlot freight will be inaugurated today by the Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee railroad. Class rates will be virtually eliminated through handling shipments at a "flat" charge. The new tarifs apply to pickup and delivery service.

SLOAN ASSAILS COTTON MOVE TO CUT CAR EXPORTS

New York, April 30.—(AP)—Alfred P. Sloan Jr., president of General Motors corporation, defended in a statement today the growing increase of automobile exports and decried any attempt to limit them as a possible means for boosting cotton sales abroad.

"Davis finds fault with the growing increase of motor car exports and the growing decrease in cotton exports," said Sloan.

"Why are the world markets absorbing an increasing number of American motor cars, and why are they absorbing a decreasing amount of American cotton? It is simply because they can buy greater value in motor cars in world markets from America than from anywhere else.

April Trade on Exchange Largest Since December

New York, April 30.—(AP)—Trading in the New York Stock exchange in April reached the largest volume for any month since December. The turnover approximated 22,400,000 shares, compared with 15,850,057 in March. The April total was substantially under April of 1934, however, when volume aggregated 29,845,-282 shares.

BRITISH PILE UP PROFITS ON U. S. SILVER PROGRAM

Vast Speculation in London Market.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 30.—Whatever it has done for Americans, President Roosevelt's silver policy has made handsome profits for British speculators in the last few days.

Speculation continued feverishly today and there was a further increase of ⅝ penny to 34 11-16 pence an ounce, equivalent to 75.49 cents. The price of silver futures advanced 11-16 penny to 34⅞ pence an ounce.

Millions of ounces have changed hands in London since the rise in the American price unleashed a wave of speculative buying. The market heretofore had been quiet, most deals being confined to the usual brokers, but the sudden rise brought a big crowd of hangers on into the market.

Sell Old Family Plate.

Many persons have been selling old silver to dealers. Old family plate, which rarely is used and which has dropped in value since a few years ago, was brought out and scrapped in a wild scramble to grab some of the American dollars handed out by the New Deal administration.

Hard-up Britons, who hung on to their silver plate simply because it did not pay them to sell it at a low price, now are ready to offer up thanksgiving to President Roosevelt and the silver state senators.

Snatching a few minutes from his frantic work, an official of the Samuel Montague company, the world's largest bullion merchants, told THE TRIBUNE correspondent this morning it is impossible to say yet how large has been the British profit, as the wave of buying and selling still is continuing.

Bullion Merchants Work Nights.

"We have been working until midnight several nights to catch up on the details of the enormous transfer of silver holdings," he said. "You can say millions of ounces changed hands, but I cannot give you definite figures."

Even at the luncheon interval it was impossible for bullion merchants and their clerks to take more than a few minutes time off as orders came in frantically.

The future of the market is very uncertain, it was admitted, as all depends on what President Roosevelt decides to do. The present position is considered dangerous by experts, as the price of silver would drop just as sharply as it has risen if the psychological link between the world price and the American price were ended abruptly by a new change in American policy.

The only way out of this wave of speculation, it is said here, would be for President Roosevelt to decide the American rise in price would apply only to domestic silver. Experts point out the grave consequences to China and India if the United States continues to drain them of their silver.

U. S. Makes No Price Change.

Washington, D. C., April 30.—[Special.]—Treasury officials took a day off today as far as silver was concerned, and the price for domestic mined silver, fixed at 77.57 cents per ounce on April 24, remained unchanged again tonight.

The treasury pursued a policy of permitting the Mexican government time to readjust its monetary affairs before taking further steps in carrying forward the silver purchasing program laid down by the silver purchase act of 1934.

The concensus of observers is that the domestic price will be maintained at the present point for some time unless unexpected developments alter the situation. The general belief is that if the treasury remains inactive in the matter of price fixing, and restricts its purchases in the world markets, speculators will be unwilling to take a chance of getting their fingers burned and a relatively stable market will be maintained.

SILVER STEADY IN U. S.

New York, April 30.—[Special.]—With silver prices holding their own in world markets today, the foreign exchanges showed irregular trends and trading was comparatively quiet.

The price of the white metal in New York closed unchanged at yesterday's level of 75¾ cents an ounce after prices became firmer in the earlier London and Montreal trading. Today's quotation here compares with the fifteen year record high of 81 cents established last week. The treasury gave no indication today of any advance in the price to be paid domestic mines for their product, this offer remaining at 77.57 cents an ounce.

In London the price of bar metal was ⅝ penny higher at 34 11-16 pence a fine ounce, or equivalent to 75.49 cents. Silver futures in the Montreal market recovered 1 to 1½ cents an ounce.

Record Trading at Montreal.

A new record was set in trading on the Canadian Commodity Exchange, Inc., at Montreal, with 201 lots changing hands. The previous record was set on April 24 when trade amounted to 196 lots. A lot is 10,000 ounces.

Silver currencies reacted irregularly to the steadiness in commercial silver prices. Hongkong dollars advanced another 30 points to 59.80 cents and Mexican pesos rose 8 points to 27.90 cents, but Shanghai dollars dipped ⅛ cent to 41½ cents.

Movements in the gold currencies were just as irregular, with French francs declining ⅛ point to 6.62¼ cents, while Swiss francs gained 1 point at 32½ cents and Dutch guilders rose 6 points to 67.88 cents. All of the moneys are well above the gold export levels.

Dollar's Price in "Gold."

At the closing price of the French franc the dollar was worth $1.0016, compared with $1.0018 yesterday, and based on the old parity of the franc the dollar was valued at 59.16 cents, against 59.17 yesterday. Belgian belgas were unchanged and Italian lire were off ½ point at 8.27½ cents. The pound sterling continued to weaken, losing a full cent to $4.83, dragging Scandinavian currencies along with it.

The price of bar gold in London was raised 2½ pence to 144 shillings 8 pence a fine ounce, equivalent to $34.95. At this price an amount valued at $3,506,281 was purchased in the open market.

The New York Federal Reserve bank today reported the receipt of $839,700 gold from Canada and $12,800 from Guatemala. The latter item was at once placed under earmark for foreign account. The bank also announced that it had received word from San Francisco of the arrival there of $320,000 gold from China.

Mexico Has Coin Shortage.

MEXICO, D. F., April 30.—[Special.]—An acute shortage of small change is being experienced here as a result of the withdrawal of silver money from circulation. This was despite the fact that the Bank of Mexico has pumped 800,000,000 pesos in new copper coins into circulation.

Many customers in restaurants and other business establishments found themselves unable to make purchases unless they used change. According to messages received here the situation was even worse in other towns and cities. The Bank of Mexico opened a new office here to facilitate the exchange of bank notes.

Narcisco Bassols, minister of finance, announced that 200,000 twenty-cent pieces are being struck off daily and that conditions would become normal within the next few days.

By closing time last night more than 126,000,000 silver pesos had been surrendered to the Bank of Mexico. There was a strong demand for United States dollars, which was met by Bank of Mexico and other banks at the price of 3.60 pesos to the dollar.

PROFITS OF THREE BIG CHICAGO AREA UTILITIES VARY

Edison Net Up; Peoples Gas, Public Service Lower

The three big utility companies serving the Chicago metropolitan area yesterday reported varied earnings results for the first three months of the year and for the 12 months ending March 31.

The Commonwealth Edison company reported gains for both periods in comparison with the preceding year, the Public Service company of Northern Illinois showed slightly lower income for the periods, and the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company showed a sharp decline.

Net income of $1,102,386 was disclosed by Public Service for the three month period against $1,120,617 the first quarter of 1934, both equal $1.35 a share, the number outstanding being cut from 637,671 to 625,627 during the year. For the year ended March 31 the figure is $2,787,731, or $2.82 a share, compared with $3,073,698, or $3.22 a share, in the previous year.

Edison Earnings Improve.

Edison's first quarter showed a preliminary figure of $3,196,066, or $1.96 a share, after taxes and charges. In the first quarter of 1934 the net was $2,684,603, or $1.65 a share. The year ended March 31 showed adjusted net of $8,866,351, or $5.51 a share, against $8,213,370, or $5.06 a share, in the preceding 12 months.

Although Peoples Gas' gross earnings increased to $10,246,143 from $9,399,147 in the three months period, net income fell to $509,569 from $795,033. This was equal to 75 cents a share for the quarter, compared with $1.17 last year, despite about 400 fewer shares outstanding. For the twelve months net income was $1,117,420, compared with $1,941,708 the preceding year, despite an increase of more than 2½ million dollars in gross earnings. This income was equal to $1.65 a share and $2.87 a share, respectively.

All three companies called attention to increased taxes and operating expenses in statements issued by Chairman James Simpson and Vice Chairman George A. Ranney.

Rate Reductions Cut Earnings.

In the case of Public Service it was pointed out that earnings in the year ended March 31 would have been $1,420,779 greater had it not been for rate reductions placed in effect March 23, 1934. Edison now is fighting a proposed rate cut.

Gross earnings of Public Service in the first quarter were $9,403,484, or $145,248 greater that in 1934, but operating expense rose $211,942 in the first quarter of the year to $6,530,779.

Taxes aggregated $708,607 for a $39,961 increase, principally in state and local levies. For the year period there was a rise of $176,111, equivalent to 28 cents a share.

Edison taxes for the quarter totaled $3,149,043, compared with $2,995,033 the first three months of 1934, an increase of $154,010. Operating expenses and taxes together were $15,475,215, compared with $15,083,546. Gross earnings were up from $19,600,773 to $20,443,055. Other income rose from $5,126,429 to $5,583,168. Interest and other deductions dropped from $2,441,826 to $2,424,102.

Sales of gas by the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company in the first quarter increased 9.4 per cent over a year ago, the report attributing much of the increase to the "heat by gas" drive.

Offsetting the increase of $846,996 of gross earnings in the first three months was an increase of operating expenses and taxes of $1,114,161, of which $821,245 represented an increase in gas purchased. The report explained that this increase in the cost of gas is due to a contract with the Natural Gas Pipe Line Company of America, changes in which are being negotiated. While the full charges have not been paid, the balance sheet has been made up as if these charges had been paid in full. No notation is made of the amount withheld.

State, local, and other taxes of Peoples Gas increased from $690,874 in the first quarter of 1934 to $729,384 in 1935, equal to more than a dollar a share on the 675,712 shares of common stock outstanding.

PACIFIC STATES LIFE WILL HAVE RECEIVER HERE

The Pacific States Life Insurance company, already in receivership in its home state of Colorado, was ordered in receivership here by Superior Judge William J. Lindsay, who also issued an injunction to prevent Pacific States from disposing of any of the assets or property of the Chicago Life Insurance company, which it took over in 1932 under a reinsurance contract.

A second injunction was issued to prevent the First American Insurance company from taking over any of the business of Pacific States under its recent contract to reinsure the Chicago Life's business. This answered American's appeal from the temporary injunction.

Ernest Palmer, director of insurance in Illinois, will name receivers in a few days. They will coöperate with the Colorado receiver in trying to learn what has become of certain assets of the former Chicago Life. The action was brought originally by Attorney General Kerner on behalf of the state insurance department.

U. S. BID TO GET FOREIGN TRADE GIVEN WORKOUT

Washington, D. C., April 30.—(AP)—The first world-wide tryout of the administration's trade expansion program today boomed new impetus into America's drive for bigger business abroad. Upon effectiveness at midnight of the reciprocal tarif agreement with Belgium, United States shores were opened to imports from 60 other nations on the same favorable terms.

Simultaneous with this step designed to stimulate world trade in general were these other developments:

Secretary Hull announced this government's intention to negotiate a reciprocal trade agreement with France, the eighteenth to be undertaken by the State department.

BIG PREFERRED OFFERING MADE BY CREDIT FIRM

Concurrently with an offer by Commercial Credit company to exchange $19,371,000 par value of new 5½ per cent convertible preferred stock and 114,207 shares of common for various preferred issues called for redemption, public offering will be made today of the same $19,371,000 preferred by a syndicate headed by Kidder, Peabody & Co. and the First Boston corporation at 102, to yield 5.39 per cent.

All sales will be subject to allotment, based upon the amount of stock which is taken by present stockholders under their exchange privileges, which expire on May 20.

The new preferred is convertible at any time into common at the rate of one common share for each $55 par amount of preferred. The stock is redeemable at $110 on or before June 30, 1938, and at $105 thereafter. Dividends are cumulative.

Edison Electric Issue Approved.

Meanwhile, stockholders of the Edison Electric Illuminating company of Boston voted approval of a company mortgage to secure an issue of $53,000,000 in bonds. Cash on hand and the issue will be used to finance $55,000,000 in notes due in 1937. The mortgage also will secure $16,000,000 noncallable notes.

This method of financing was decided upon by directors in order to take advantage of the present favorable market for long term bonds at a low rate of return. A rate of 3¼ per cent was mentioned in financial gossip. The mortgage is the first to be placed on the company's property.

New York State yesterday allotted a block of tax anticipation warants at the lowest interest cost in the state's financial history. Controler Morris S. Tremaine awarded $40,000,000 revenue anticipation notes, dated May 2, and due Feb. 5, 1936, to 63 banks and banking houses at par with interest fixed at ⅝ of 1 per cent.

Yield Is Lowered.

Although the state has previously sold notes at the same rate the former issues were of shorter duration, which automatically lowered the yield.

Chrysler corporation will redeem today the remaining $30,150,000 Dodge Brothers, Inc., 6 per cent debentures. Funds were obtained partly by arrangement of a bank credit of $25,000,000 in the form of notes maturing in one to five years.

Gertler & Co. will offer today $4,200,000 State of North Carolina 3¼ per cent refunding bonds due from 1940 to 1955 at prices to yield 2.50 to 3.15 per cent, according to maturity. The bonds due from 1951 to 1955 have an optional clause allowing redemption in 1950.

Will Redeem Debentures.

The Mond Nickel Company, Ltd., British subsidiary of the International Nickel Company of Canada, Ltd., will retire on Aug. 1 its 5½ per cent mortgage debenture stock at 103 and interest. The amount outstanding was £1,089,908 on Dec. 31, 1934. This redemption will eliminate all mortgage indebtedness from the consolidated balance sheet of the International Nickel company and its subsidiaries.

The Kresge foundation has called for redemption on June 1 all its ten year collateral trust 6 per cent gold notes at 103 per cent.

The new Broad company will redeem on June 1, 1935, all its certificates representing a share or part in the company's first mortgage fee and leasehold 6 per cent gold loan at their principal amount together with accrued interest to the redemption date.

Home Building in April Is About Double Last Year

Dow, Jones & Co. says in a special survey that home building during the first two weeks of April advanced to the point where it was running at about twice the volume in April, last year. There was a slight let-up in the third week, but indications are that the total for the full month will represent a large advance over a year ago.

BOND NOTES

Offering will be made Friday morning of the new issue of $12,000,000 Atlantic Coast Line Railroad company collateral trust 5 per cent notes, due May 1, 1945, by a banking group. The bonds will be priced at par and will be callable on sixty days notice as a whole and in part on any interest date at 105 for the first five years and thereafter at a decreasing premium of 1 per cent per annum. The new notes will be direct obligations of the Atlantic Coast Line, secured by deposit and pledge of $25,000,000 of the road's general mortgage series A, 4½ per cent bonds.

A syndicate comprising the Harris Trust and Savings bank, Chicago; the Chase National bank, and the J. K. Mullen Investment company, Denver, was the high bidder for a new issue of $3,610,000 state of Colorado refunding bonds. The bankers bid 101.117 for the $2,956,000 of highway bonds, dated June 1, 1935, and due from 1936 to 1947, as 2s, and 100.577 for the $654,000 of insurrection bonds, dated July 1, 1935, and due from 1936 to 1944, as 1¾s. The bankers submitted an all-or-none bid which offered an addition $1,000 of premium, and gave the state the right to call $80,000 of the insurrection bonds. The bankers plan to reoffer the bonds at prices to yield 0.40 to 2 per cent.

A syndicate comprising Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc., Lehman Brothers, and others are offering a new issue of $3,325,000 city and county of San Francisco, Cal., 4 per cent water bonds, due $175,000 annually from Dec. 1, 1935, to 1953, at 0.50 to 3.45 per cent.

A banking group headed by Lehman brothers was awarded a new issue of $1,525,000 city of Albany, N. Y., bonds at 100.569 for 2s. Reoffering will be made today at prices to yield .50 to 2 per cent.

Award of a new issue of $360,000 Duluth, Minn., school district bonds, due from May 1, 1937 to 1943, has been made to a syndicate headed by the Harris Trust and Savings bank, at 100.536 for 2.60's.

MIDDLE WEST HEARING PUT OVER TO JUNE 3

Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson yesterday adjourned hearings until June 3 on the proposed reorganization of Middle West Utilities company under a plan presented by secured creditors and agreed to by noteholders, a majority of preferred stock holders, and a substantial number of common stock holders.

"I would rather this be wound up right than hurriedly," the court commented during the brief hearing yesterday. Judge Wilkerson explained that the delay is being taken to permit his special adviser, Walter A. Shaw, time to complete an appraisal of the properties and companies underlying the huge holding concern built by Samuel Insull.

Mr. Shaw said it will take him about three months to complete his work, but he is expected to be ready June 3 with an interim report covering complete investigation of Kentucky Utilities and Central Illinois Public Service companies, two important subsidiaries.

In his first report to the court last Wednesday Mr. Shaw outlined the means he will use to determine valuations, including a study of 189 different appraisals made since 1919. He stated his belief that there is a fair chance for increased earnings.

The original petition for reorganization of the vast utility domain was filed last June, and the proposed plan now before the court was presented in September. Hearings have been in progress intermittently since early fall.

LIBERTY BOND HOLDERS PREFER NOTES TO BONDS

Washington, D. C., April 30.—[Special.]—Holders of called First Liberty bonds are showing a strong preference for the 1⅝ per cent five year notes over the 2⅝ per cent 20-25 year bonds offered in exchange, according to figures issued by the treasury tonight. Of a total of $1,027,000,000 Liberties out of the $1,923,000,000 called that have been offered in exchange so far, $795,000,000 has been for the notes and only $502,000,000 for the bonds.

It is assumed it was because of this preference for the short term paper the treasury decided to close the exchange offer on the notes at the close of business Thursday, leaving the bond exchange offer open.

AUTO INDUSTRY ASKS RELAXATION OF 40 HOUR WEEK

Macauley Says Wages on Time Basis at New Peak.

Detroit, April 30.—(AP)—Alvan Macauley, speaking for the Automobile Manufacturers' association appealed to Donald Richberg, chairman of the National Industrial Recovery board tonight, to relax the 40 hour week limit for automobile plant workers, pointing out that weekly wages were lagging, but that hourly rates had hit a new high peak. Macauley is president of Packard Motor Car company.

In a letter to Richberg, which was made public here, Macauley said:

"The automobile industry is paying higher wages per hour to its factory employés today than in 1929. Not only have they been higher these last few months in which production has been going forward at a rate which furnishes the most encouraging element in the hope for business recovery, but hourly wages have been higher for the last 13 months than they were at the peak of prosperity six years ago. In fact, they have set a new peak.

Pay Rolls Exceed Sales Gain.

"The Automobile Manufacturers' association includes all the important producers except Ford. During the 12 months of the peak year of 1929, the average hourly rate paid by its member companies was 71.2 cents. For the 12 months from April 1934 to March 1935 inclusive, the average was 75.7 cents."

Macauley pointed out that the industry has doubled its sales since 1932. He said the increase in sales represented 125 per cent, with an increase in pay rolls of 131 per cent.

"There is one thing which the industry has not found it possible to accomplish for the workers so far," said Macauley. "The weekly wages of the factory workers are not yet equal to those of 1929. In that year they averaged $32.74. During the 12 months ending in March they averaged $24.70. The reason for this lag in weekly earnings is the shorter work week."

Code Limits Work Hours.

Macauley said the average work week in 1929 was 45.6 hours compared with 32.6 hours for the last 12 months, and explained that the difference was traceable "to the limits of the NRA code."

"If the workers are to regain their average weekly wages of 1929," he said, "they must be allowed to work more hours per week. The rigid limit imposed in the present code must be made more elastic.

Macauley said the suggestion to hold the work week limit at 40 hours with a provision to pay time and one-half for overtime was not practical. "The great mass of these automobile manufacturers could not avail themselves of the permission to employ their men for longer hours at the higher rate of pay for the simple reason that their financial condition does not permit it."

New York, April 30.—[Special.]—Several treasury bond issues were marked up to new high records today, following announcement that the exchange of First Liberty bonds for the new 1⅝ per cent notes would terminate on Thursday. Gains ranged from 4-32ds in the 3¾s of 1946 to 8-32ds in the 3⅛s of 1946.

Trading picked up considerably from the small volume of the previous day, with transfers aggregating $10,844,000, par value, compared with $7,993,000 on Monday. Of this total sales in the government division totaled $1,480,000, against only $890,000 the day before.

Gilt Edge Issues Steady.

Most of the outstanding second grade and speculative bonds were soft. An exception was Postal Telegraph 5s. They steadied today as buyers were attracted by the low price. An inference drawn from the decline yesterday and last week was that there was a strong likelihood that the July 1 interest might not be met. The same thought has been expressed semi-annually for the last three years. In 1932 the bonds sold at half of yesterday's extreme low.

Various issues of Paramount-Famous-Players and Paramount-Publix gained 2 to more than 4 points on report of progress in reorganizing the concern.

Other Bonds Gain Moderately.

Modest advances were made by American Smelting 5s, Bethlehem Steel 5s, Penn Dixie 6s, Laclede Gas 5½s, North American Edison 5½s, and Tennessee Electric Power 5s. Minor declines occurred in some of the obligations of Columbia Gas, Youngstown Sheet and Tube, Armour & Co., and Liggett & Myers.

Rail bonds tended downward. Active issues losing fractions to around a point included Atlantic Coast Line 4½s, Delaware and Hudson 4s, Illinois Central 4s, New York Central consolidated 4s, and Nickel Plate 5½s.

Stewart-Warner Corp.

Investors' Guide: Will you please give me information on Stewart-Warner?—D. P. V.

Answer: A 7 per cent sales expansion and a further curtailment in overhead in 1934 brought Stewart-Warner corporation back to a profit basis last year after three years of losses. It was in the automobile accessory division, the company's principal line, that progress was shown in 1934. J. E. Otis Jr., president, said that large losses were sustained in the radio and refrigerator divisions. The radio industry, he said, is in a chaotic condition.

The improvement continued into 1935. Sales for the first quarter of this year were 30 per cent ahead of the corresponding 1934 period, while net profits were $496,000, against $167,000 for the first quarter of 1934.

	Net sales.	Net loss.	Loss per com. shr.
1934......	$17,075,000	*$572,000	*$0.46
1933......	9,920,000	1,791,000	1.44

1931......		1,830,000	1.44

*Net income. Not reported.

Bank loans of $300,000 were wiped out during 1934 and working capital increased $1,137,000 to $4,888,000. Cash showed a substantial improvement.

There is no funded debt. Capitalization consists solely of 1,246,847 shares of $5 par capital stock.

The company's main line of business is the manufacture of original equipment for automobiles, such as fuel feed systems, brakes, speedometers, Alemite lubricating equipment, etc. Activity in this field depends in large part on rate of automobile production.

The management that was in charge prior to July, 1933, had branched off into manufacture of a host of unrelated items, practically all of which failed to return a profit. When the present management took charge all were discontinued except the manufacture of radios and refrigerators. These have not yet been established on a profitable basis.

Nothing has been paid on the stock since 1930. It is a speculation at present.

No Extra Dividends.

Investors' Guide: Would appreciate information as to whether or not any extra dividends have been declared or paid by Union Carbide and Carbon since last July.—C. E. L.

Answer: Although Union Carbide and Carbon increased its quarterly dividend basis from 35 cents a share to 40 cents a share on April 1, 1935, there have been no extra dividends since last July. Dividends in 1934 totaled $1.20 a share.

NARROW RANGE IN COTTON PRICES; CLOSE IRREGULAR

Trade in cotton futures yesterday was at a minimum, prices holding within a range of less than 10 points, with both buyers and sellers disposed to go slowly. Favorable crop comments from the south and uncertainty as to developments at Washington were factors in restricting speculative operations. At the close Chicago was 3 points higher to 1 point lower, and other margets 1 point higher to 3 points lower. Spot cotton closed unchanged with New Orleans, New York, Galveston and Houston 12.20 cents per pound. Prices follow:

SUGAR

NEW YORK, April 30.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw was quite today and the undertone a little easier, especially for spots which declined 1 point to 3.32c per lb, while shipment sugars remained unchanged. The sales reported included 28,000 bags of Cubas for prompt shipment at 2.32c; 10,000 bags for May shipment at 3.40c and 9,000 bags of Phillippines due the first week in June at 3.40c, all to outport refiners, with local refiners showing no interest.

Futures were irregular and after advancing 1 to 2 points on further trading buying, reacted under selling by producing interests, promoted by the dissappointing action of the spot market. Final prices were at the low of the day and 1 to 3 points net lower for No. 3 contracts and 1 to 2 lower for No. 1. Sales were 17,300 tons in the No. 3 and 5,600 in the No. 1 contract.

Raw sugar prices in cents per pound:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. close.
July	2.43	2.43	2.41	2.41	2.42
September	2.50	2.50	2.48	2.48	2.49
December	2.59	2.59	2.56	2.56	2.58

20 STATE BANKS MAKE NO REFUND IN THREE MONTHS

Several Prepare to Repay Portion of Deposits.

No further payments to depositors were made during the first three months of this year by the 20 closed banks for which reports were issued yesterday by State Auditor Edward J. Barrett. Six of the 20 have returned nothing, and show little prospect of doing so in the near future.

Definite progress was made, however, toward further payments by at least five of the 14 which already have made restitution of from 5 to 100 per cent. At least two are expected to pay something within the next month. All but one of the 20 banks now have paid attorneys to date.

Chicago Bank of Commerce.

The largest collections last quarter in this group of banks were made by the Chicago Bank of Commerce. It took in $216,000—$76,500 in refunds on advances to protect assets—but paid out all except $1,000. Protection of assets, including the purchase of equities in various properties, took $114,500 more to put the total of this item at $560,700. Attorneys Schuyler, Weinfeld, and Hennessy were paid another $74,500 to bring their total legal fee collections to $201,694.

Depositors have been paid $432,400, or 10 per cent, and prior claims of $735,600 have been paid. More than $100,000 in trust and preference claims remain unsettled. Comparatively little more is expected for depositors because of heavy expenses of real estate and trust business. Cash of $239,500 is mostly tied up by pending claims. The bank owes depositors $4,100,000. Bloated book value of remaining assets is $6,083,000.

Summaries for Other Banks.

Summaries of condition and prospects for future payment of depositors are contained in sketches below for the other 19 banks on which figures were released yesterday. Figures cover the entire receivership unless otherwise stated.

CHATFIELD TRUST AND SAVINGS—Receipts, $131,000—only $2,500 last quarter. Paid $14,200 prior claims and $75,800, or 30 per cent, to depositors. Still owes RFC $10,750 on loan. Main expense is $19,100 clerical. Losses of $94,600 are equal to 40 per cent on assets sold so far. Remaining assets of $322,800 book value are not expected to yield as much for depositors as they already have received. There is $194,600 still due them.

CHATHAM STATE—Receipts, $302,500—$119,700 to secured creditors. Cash of $52,800 is tied up because of $71,000 claim of county collector. Application made for $95,000 loan from RFC, but it is difficult to see where depositors can get more than 10 per cent without exceptional luck in liquidation of real estate. Assets are carried at $1,436,000 against $1,037,000 due creditors. Costs: $40,500 attorneys, $7,800 receivers, $46,000 clerical, $34,000 to protect assets.

Cheltenham Trust-Savings.

CHELTENHAM TRUST AND SAVINGS—Receipts, $225,600—$16,200 to prior claims and $133,000, or 50 per cent, to depositors. Further payment is expected soon. Costs: $16,000 attorney, $21,000 clerical, $18,500 to protect assets.

CHICAGO LAWN STATE—Receipts, $517,700 [$13,500 last quarter]. Paid $232,300 to prior creditors. Nothing paid yet to depositors, and the outlook is dark, since the receiver decided not to apply for an RFC loan after appraisal of assets. Cash of $35,000 is held against county collector's claim of $200,000. Little more is expected from $2,654,800 book value assets of this Bain bank with which to pay creditors owed $1,900,000. Costs: $14,500 receivers, $40,350 attorneys, $72,000 clerical, and $121,500 to protect assets [with only $72,000 refunded].

CICERO TRUST AND SAVINGS—Receipts, $328,000—$82,300 to pay prior claims and $104,700, or 15 per cent, to depositors. After current expenses, $10,500 receipts last quarter added $6,500 to cash, which now is $20,000. Needs $35,000 for 5 per cent payment. Assets on books at $797,400 are expected to yield as much more for depositors as already received by them. Heavy with real estate. Costs: $9,750 receivers, $31,700 legal, $34,600 clerical, $39,000 to protect assets.

Citizens State of Chicago.

CITIZENS STATE OF CHICAGO—Receipts, $1,753,500 [all of $27,500 last quarter taken by expenses]. Paid $1,050,500 prior claims and still owes $626,860 on borrowed money. Applied to RFC for another $200,000 in final liquidation loan to try squeezing out 10 per cent for depositors, who have not yet received any of $2,082,000 due them. Assets are carried at $3,479,800. Costs include $469,000 to protect assets [$269,700 returned], $70,500 interest, $74,700 clerical, and $27,500 legal.

CITIZENS STATE OF GLENCOE—Receipts, $38,000—$11,000 to pay prior claims and $11,700 for 15 per cent to depositors. Balance taken by expense, except $2,600 cash. Another 15 per cent or more is expected from $111,900 book value assets.

CITIZENS OF MELROSE PARK—Receipts $273,000—only $9,000 in last year. Paid $106,600 prior claims and $26,600, or 5 per cent, to depositors. Now have $14,500 free cash. Heavy losses and only $696,700 book value of remaining assets of doubtful worth against $556,000 due creditors. Some further returns indicated.

CITIZENS TRUST AND SAVINGS—Receipts $921,000—$477,000 to wipe out prior claims and $256,000, or 25 per cent, to depositors. Half of $33,000 cash is free for future dividends. Liquidation is slow, but there are no bills or claims, and a substantial amount for depositors is expected from assets still on books at $882,000. Costs include $67,000 clerical, $32,600 legal, and $34,000 to protect assets.

City State of Chicago.

CITY STATE OF CHICAGO—Receipts, $1,948,000—$729,000 to prior creditors and $914,900, or 32 per cent, to depositors. Liquidation has been in progress since Nov. 2, 1929, and at a standstill for last year. Remaining assets of $2,172,000 are regarded as very slow or worthless. Still owes depositors $1,975,000. Costs, $50,000 for Receiver Abel Davis, $79,650 clerical, $64,500 attorneys, $77,000 to protect assets.

COLUMBIA STATE SAVINGS—Receipts, $610,300—$123,250 to pay prior claims and $280,600 for 22½ per cent to depositors. Cash increased $12,000 last quarter out of $30,500 receipts.—Now has $39,400 toward $63,000 needed for another 5 per cent. Paid last $11,000 legal fees [$26,000 total] last quarter. Costs: $56,000 clerical and $58,700 to protect assets. Fairly constant liquidation indicates at least as much more for depositors, with any luck on real estate.

COMMERCE TRUST AND SAVINGS—Receipts, $735,200—$20,000 last quarter. Paid $230,000 to wipe out prior claims and $385,500, or 67 per cent, to depositors. Almost ready to pay another 5 per cent, having $26,600 of $28,800 needed. Should be more after that. Raised cost of protecting assets to $10,650 by $14,500 payment last quarter. Clerical cost $26,350 and attorneys $32,350.

Commercial of Chicago Heights.

COMMERCIAL OF CHICAGO HEIGHTS—Receipts, $505,650—$10,500 last quarter. Wiped out $162,200 prior claims and $231,000, or half, of deposit liability. Near another 5 per cent, having $19,500 of $23,000 needed. Further substantial returns are expected. Protection of assets cost $41,000, clerical $28,000, legal $15,000.

COMMONWEALTH TRUST AND SAVINGS—Receipts, $410,300—$37,000 last quarter. Wiped out last $19,000 of prior claims last quarter for a total of $346,000. Paid $20,500 interest and $29,000 clerical. Still owes some legal fees. Plight of depositors shown by refusal of RFC to loan enough for dividend, despite remaining assets of $536,000 nominal value. Owes depositors $456,700—nothing repaid to date.

CONGRESS PARK STATE—Receipts, $39,250—$4,000 last quarter. Paid $12,000 prior claims and $8,164, or 30 per cent, to depositors through RFC loan on which $2,700 balance is still due. Assets on books at $61,000 may yield a third of remaining $20,000 due depositors, with luck on real estate.

CONGRESS TRUST & SAVINGS—Receipts, $1,660,700—$67,000 last quarter. Paid final $59,500 on $131,000 RFC loan last quarter; also $528,500 to wipe out prior claims. Depositors have been paid in full—$778,131. Stockholders, who advanced on their double liability to pay depositors, may receive some refund.

Cosmopolitan State.

COSMOPOLITAN STATE—In process of reorganization, which will free 40 per cent of deposits. Nothing paid yet to depositors, but $402,500 has been paid on prior claims out of $1,219,700 receipts—$167,500 last quarter, when $103,000 prior claims were paid. Still owes RFC $785,600. Heavy advances of $426,000 [$369,500 returned] made to protect assets. Interest $85,750, clerical $64,600, and attorneys $21,550. Book value assets are $3,625,000 and deposit liability is $1,564,200.

COTTAGE GROVE STATE—Receipts, $558,000—$390,500 to prior creditors. Still has $162,800 bills and heavy trust liability. Losses of $151,000 incurred already, and the only chance of a small dividend [none paid so far] appears to be in a final liquidation loan by which the RFC could take over all assets on books at $1,359,000. Liabilities are $948,500. Costs: $39,700 clerical, $32,600 interest, $49,100 to protect assets. Cash of $31,750 reserved.

CRAGIN STATE—Receipts, $337,300—$152 to prior claims and $43,200, or 10 per cent, to depositors. Assets on books at $513,250 are slow and heavy with real estate, but there are no bills, and substantial repayment is indicated to depositors now owed $420,000. Costs: $23,000 to former receiver, $27,500 legal, $33,000 clerical, $35,000 to protect assets.

ATTORNEYS LAUNCH FIGHT TO DISMISS RFC'S BANK SUIT

Arguments for dismissing the suit of the Reconstruction Finance corporation to collect $14,000,000 from 4,300 stockholders of the old Central Republic Bank and Trust company will continue today as a parade of attorneys appear before Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson.

A total of some 175 attorneys have filed appearances in the case so far, and 28 of them have "registered" for formal arguments before the court. The RFC has a battery of 10 on its legal staf.

The hearing opened yesterday with strenuous attacks on the jurisdiction of the federal court in the case. Leon D. Gross, a youthful appearing lawyer, drew the honor of firing the first gun. He represents Samuel Nast, owner of 540 shares, and others.

Harold Beacom, of the law firm of Winston, Strawn & Shaw, representing the Dawes family with its potential liability of $1,300,000 on 13,000 shares, cut short a South American vacation to be on hand. He was still presenting his arguments when court adjourned for the day.

PARK DISTRICT TO SELL MILLION OF TAX WARANTS

The sale of $1,000,000 worth of Chicago park district corporate tax anticipation warants for 1935 was approved yesterday by the board of commissioners of the district. Sealed bids will be received, the bidders to name interest rates.

Robert J. Dunham, president of the board, explained that the warants will be part of the 56½ per cent to be issued against the 1935 tax levy for corporate purposes. He said that upon issuance of these warants the total outstanding 1935 corporate tax anticipation warants will not exceed 31 per cent of the 1935 levy. The warants will be ready for sale and delivery on May 14.

Bank Receiver to Retain Stockholders' Collateral

Circuit Judge John Prystalski yesterday refused to grant a motion requiring William L. O'Connell, new receiver of the Kenwood State bank, to turn over collateral belonging to defendants in the stockholders' liability suit. Attorney James Rosenthal charged the securities had been illegally seized from safe deposit boxes. Attorney James Moore, representing creditors, asked that the collateral be turned over to John M. Thomson, recently ousted receiver.

REPUBLICANS GIRD FOR FIGHT ON BANKING BILL

Hollister Sees Political Threat to Reserve.

Washington, D. C., April 30.—(AP)—Preparations for a last ditch fight against the omnibus banking bill were made tonight by house Republicans despite their private concessions that they would be smashed down by the huge Democratic majority.

The 103 Republicans were called into a party conference to discuss the bill. They heard their ranking member on the banking committee—Representative Hollister of Ohio—denounce the measure as one which would establish "political" control over the banking system.

Hollister asked Republicans to vote with him to strike out the provisions in the bill which would extend governmental control over the reserve banks. He said if that motion failed, then the Republicans should vote against passage of the bill. And he predicted a number of the 319 Democrats would vote the same way.

May Take Longer Time.

Just before he made that plea, there were indications Democratic leaders were about to abandon their effort to pass the bill this week. Chairman Steagall [Dem., Ala.] of the banking committee said on the floor that he was trying to get an agreement for more debate, which was to have closed tomorrow night or Thursday.

At the same time the house heard the first Democratic answer in debate to critical remarks about title 2. Representative Goldsborough [Dem., Md.] said the bill would let the federal reserve board act as a monetary authority, and that it would have three new powers:

1. To control the rediscount rate.
2. Raise and lower the reserve requirements.
3. Control completely open market operations after consultation with an advisory committee representing member banks.

"These," he added, "are levers they can use to control undue expansion and stop inflation.

Calls Reports Exaggerated.

"I assure the house that reports of changes in the policy of the central banking system have been greatly exaggerated. Until now, the American congress has never had the hardihood to coin money and regulate its value—to take from the banking class the power to control money and credit."

The senate banking committee meanwhile heard from J. F. T. O'Connor, controler of the currency, a criticism of one of the bill's requirements.

The bill requires only that state chartered banks to belong to the Federal Deposit Insurance system must have "adequate" capital. O'Connor asserted that was "dangerous" and "the highest invitation to those who want to speculate in banks."

HOLMES ONDERDONK, Manager

PIT AND U. S. WILL PROBE FAILURE OF ROSENBAUM

Federal Agency Acts on Customers' Complaints.

An aggressive investigation of the situation surrounding financial failure of the Rosenbaum Grain corporation was ordered yesterday by directors of the Chicago Board of Trade. The business conduct committee was instructed to start its study at once, it was learned, although the directors contented themselves with a statement following their meeting that Harry Beaumont, a Beverly Hills, Cal., motion picture director, and William P. Cavanagh, La Salle, Ill., grain broker, had been elected to membership.

At the same time Louis T. Sayre, secretary of the Rosenbaum concern and temporary trustee appointed by Federal Judge William H. Holly under the petition for reorganization under section 77B of the amended bankruptcy law, was relieved of his duties as a Board of Trade director and a member of five important committees, although he will continue to hold the titles. Sayre is chairman of the public relations and transportation committees and a member of the grain, law, and warehouse committees.

Federal Government Takes Hand.

Meanwhile the federal government stepped into the picture through the medium of the Grain Futures administration by requesting from the Board of Trade a copy of the Dec. 31, 1934, audit of the Rosenbaum concern on file with the board.

Grain Futures administration officials here denied knowledge of any action but in Washington Dr. J. W. T. Duvel, chief of the administration, admitted agents of the Chicago office were investigating affairs of the concern. Duvel explained that for several days his organization held back its study because it had been requested that the auditors be given a free hand. The probe is being made, he said, so that the commission might know what went on and is going on.

Margin Traders Complain.

Duvel asserted numerous complaints have been received, chiefly from persons with margin accounts with the firm. He said many of these customers believe the administration can step in, take over their funds and reimburse them. He asserted the commission has no such power and that such margin accounts are merely in the position of general claims against the Rosenbaum corporation.

Action is expected to be taken by the Board of Trade within a week or ten days seeking dissolution of the injunction issued by Judge Holly restraining the board from suspending the Rosenbaum concern for insolvency. Under an existing court order the firm is restrained from market operations, but Sayre, as trustee, has been granted authority to operate other departments of the firm as usual.

PRICES OF HOGS STEADY DESPITE LARGER SUPPLY

The hog market held up well yesterday under pressure of increased receipts. The larger supply sold strong to 10 cents higher than on Monday and met an early clearance in the face of the slumping condition of markets for other live stock and the severe losses sustained in wholesale meat channels in the last ten days. Up to $11.40 was paid for selected 219 pound averages, including the processing tax, while the average for the day figured $11.20, showing gains of 5 cents and 10 cents, respectively.

Cattle and lambs were adversely influenced by the condition of the wholesale meat markets which are anywhere from 50 cents to $2.50 lower than they were early last week with the biggest losses at the eastern distributing points.

The tonnage of beef in yesterday's cattle receipts was small, with quality plainer than usual, but buyers were bearish and bought sparingly at the previous day's 25 to 50 cents losses in all but the butcher stock. Cows and hefers were scarce and showed some action, with spots a little stronger. Cheapest grades were a shade higher than at the low close of Monday. Calves declined 25 to 50 cents more.

No highly finished weighty steers were in the receipts, the best on hand averaging 1,316 pounds at $14.50, with the bulk at $8.75 to $13.50.

Lamb prices fell mostly 15 to 25 cents and in spots as much as 50 cents in shorn stock. Top wooled lambs to packers on shipper account brought $8.25, with the bulk slaughtered locally at $7.75 to $8.00.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

The following figures on hog prices include $2.25 per hundredweight collected by the federal government as processing tax. There is no processing tax on cattle or sheep. The price quotations given below are per 100 pounds of live animal:

PRICES OF LARD FUTURES DECLINE 2½ TO 7½ CENTS

Liquidation was under way in May lard yesterday, with prices dropping 15 cents under Monday's finish at the extreme, and the discount under the July delivery widened to around 20 cents. Cash interests took May futures and sold July. Toward the last there was some buying by commission houses, which brought about a fair rally from the inside level. Closing trades were at net losses of 2½ to 7½ cents.

While the May-July price gap is the widest since early in February, it shows no profit in carrying the product from May into July, and fair deliveries of the cash article are expected on May contracts. Bellies closed 2½ cents lower to 2½ cents higher. Cash lard closed at $12.52; loose, $12.60; leaf, $12.75, and bellies at $16.75 per 100 pounds. Prices in dollars per 100 pounds follow:

GRAINS NARROW; MAY DELIVERIES ARE DUE TODAY

Wheat Is Easier, but Corn and Oats Gain.

Moderate pressure from liquidation of speculative holdings in May contracts by traders seeking to close out commitments before grains become deliverable today held activity in check on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday. The range of prices was narrow with values tending to the downside most of the session. Closing quotations were only fractionally changed from the preceding day. Wheat suffered small losses, modest gains were turned in by corn and oats and rye was about steady.

Cash interests who want delivery of actual grain were active in selling July wheat against purchases of May. Considerable outright liquidation of both July and May wheat was in evidence, although absorption by commission houses was adequate at the bottom of each decline.

Estimate Deliveries Today.

Deliveries of oats and corn on May contracts today are expected to be negligible in view of the small existing supplies. Fairly liberal amounts of wheat may appear, some quarters estimating the total as high as a million bushels, chiefly of No. 2 soft red winter wheat.

Heavy frosts occurred in Iowa and light frosts in Illinois. No rains fell while temperatures were rising in the southwest. Dust storms were reported again in parts of the Texas panhandle, Kansas and Nebraska. Regina, Sask., also reported clouds of dirt, but no reflection of this was found marketwise either here or in Winnipeg., where prices eased only a small fraction.

	Yesterday.	Monday.	Wk.ago.
Wheat	$ .99¼	$ .99⅝	$ .98⅛
Corn	.85⅛	.85	.82¾
Oats	.42¼	.42¼	.42⅛
Rye	.58¼	.58¼	.60⅝

Foreign Markets Irregular.

Liverpool wheat eased ½ to ⅝ pence, equal to ⅝ to ⅞ cent; Rotterdam advanced ⅝ to 1½ cents and Buenos Aires dipped fractionally.

China was reported to have purchased a full cargo of Australian wheat and to be bidding for more. The rice crop in the orient this year is estimated to be 20 per cent less than last year, which is finding reflection in an increased demand for wheat.

Scattered liquidation adversely affected May corn in the early trading, but later the delivery developed independent strength, presumably abetted by short covering, and turned in the largest gain of any grain futures for the day—⅝ cent. Considerable changing of speculative accounts from May to July was accomplished at a price spread of 4 cents a bushel.

Oats also felt the effect of May liquidation, but rye displayed stubborn resistance in the face of prospects for liberal deliveries today.

PRODUCE MARKETS

Fresh eggs continue in good demand with prices unchanged. Receipts yesterday were 36,378 cases. Butter prices were unchanged to ¾c per lb lower. Receipts were 14,993 tubs. Potatoes were in liberal supply and prices were eased to make sales. Receipts were 92 cars with 476 cars on team track. Live hens were ½c higher, leghorn broilers 1@2c lower and ducks unchanged to ½c per lb lower. Receipts were 2 cars and 19 trucks.

ATTEMPTED SQUEEZE IN BUTTER MARKET NIPPED BY EXCHANGE

What appeared to be an attempted squeeze in April butter on the Chicago Mercantile exchange was nipped in the bud yesterday, the board of directors restricting operations in that delivery to closing out of existing contracts, which at the opening aggregated around 100 cars.

It was not until near the close that any trading was attempted, with 26 cars sold at 29¾ to 30 cents per pound, or within ⅛ cent of Monday's finish, and the close was at the lowest figure.

After the close, deliveries of 65 cars, or 1,248,000 pounds of butter, were made on April contracts and sellers defaulted on 9 cars. Under the procedure of the exchange the defaults will be settled on a price determined by a committee, with a default penalty added. The latter may range from ⅛ to 3 cents per pound, equal to $24 to $576 per car. November butter closed ⅛ cent lower.

Into storage movement of eggs last week at 35 points showed a deficit of 274,000 cases as compared with the same period last year and since April 1 the accumulation has been about 1,000,000 cases less than in 1934.

The figures gave the futures market a firm start, but the close was unchanged to ¼c per dozen lower. Idaho May potatoes declined 25c per 100 pounds due to liquidation. Sales of butter futures were 35 cars; eggs, 168 cars, and potatoes, 42 cars. Prices follow:

MEN

ARE YOU ABLE TO FILL THESE REQUIREMENTS? WE WILL IMMEDIATELY EMPLOY A LIMITED NUMBER OF MEN WHO CAN LEARN HOW TO DO WHAT OTHER MEN ARE DOING HERE IN CHICAGO AND AVERAGE FROM $27.00 TO $45.00 A WEEK DURING THE FIRST TWO MONTHS, INCREASING THIS TO $50.00 TO $125.00 A WEEK, AFTER EXPERIENCE is GAINED!

Joe Page and J. Pratt each made over $700 for their single month's work—men who never had any such opportunity before! G. B. McKaley, who had been in the music store business, and H. L. Andrews, who had been a grocer, made $345 between them [about equally divided] their first eleven days in this electrical service and unit corporation, in a line of business totally foreign to them. Yet these big commissions show an initial earning capacity for each man of about $500 a month! You say this is large? Very well, a man in one branch of this business pledges his manager to earn $1,150 for this single month, and he has done better than that, yet he drove a taxicab when he started back in 1931! Other men, and many of them, are making from $35 to $50 a week to start with—and many men make $20 or more in a single day. It does not depend upon this business, but the way a man applies himself in this business! These men are not in for just a day, but "for keeps."

These positions are permanent and our company is successful—our product is so unusual and so necessary that we have more customers than ever, and we will at once employ a few more men who really will pay the price in effort required to make $3,000.00, $5,000.00 or $7,000.00 a year. You must have good references, be a good learner and a hard worker. The work to be done is not difficult to learn, but requires individual effort and strict application. Married men between 25 and 48 years given preference. If you have never sold before this is no handicap, as we are not interested in your previous experience, provided you can show us you are willing and reliable. If you have sold before you will be surprised at the simplicity and effectiveness of our method. Our product, market, method, earnings, etc., will be made clear to you, and if you apparently will fill the bill, you will meet men here who are doing the job. We have a specialty that is really salable, a wonderful product. When you see this product you will understand why so many men have been able to develop a real business for themselves, financed entirely by this company, without investing one penny of their own.

The positions now available are for men of character, courtesy, health and stamina, residing on the North Side or along the North Shore or nearby suburbs.

Can you fill these requirements? If so, we have a permanent place and a bright future for you. Please do not call unless you feel qualified. For personal interview come to Suite 215-226 at 1046 Wilson-av., from 10:30 to 12 a. m., or from 2 to 3 p. m. Wednesday, May 1st.
